G. P. PUTNAM PUBLISHES THIS DAY—I. DICKENS'S HOUSEHOLD WORDS, No. 62. Price 6 cents.

"From the time of the Spectator down to the present era of periodical publications, there has never appeared a literary magazine of so excellent a character as the Household Words. Although many of the articles it contains have been from the pen of Mr. Dickens, whose name is the only one published as having any connection with it, so great a variety of articles as it has contained must have proceeded from a variety of pens, and the surprising part of the matter is, that they should all be of such uniform excellence. It has never yet contained a line of prosy or common place matter. None of the platitudes that seem to have been invented expressly to fill up magazines with, have ever dared to show themselves in the Household Words."—[S. Courier.

II.—Mrs. COWDEN CLARKE'S SHAKSPERE'S HEROINES. Part 7, Katharina and Bianca, with an engraving on steel. Price 25 cents.

"Mrs. Cowden Clarke, whose 'Concordance of Shakspere' shows such mastery of the letter of the poet's works, now evinces her appreciation of their spirit in a series of fictions entitled 'The Girlhood of Shakspere's Heroines.'"—[Dickens's Household Narrative.

"The design is one that would afford ample play to a lively and sympathetic imagination, and we are bound to say that the ingenious thought is admirably carried out."—[London Morning Chronicle. jy7

ORIGINAL DESIGNS for IRON RAILING, &c., &c.—WOOD'S American PORTFOLIO of Original Designs, for Iron Railing, Stationary, New-Foundland Dogs, Grey Hounds, Lions, Monuments, Fountains, Spiral and Straight Stairs, Door and Window Heads, Vestibule Doors, Tables, Settees, Chairs, Hat and Umbrella Stands, Brackets, and Ornamental Iron Work generally—embracing more than 200 different new and original designs, executed in a masterly and tasteful style, by the best and most distinguished artists of the age, and presenting at once every variety of useful and ornamental Iron Work, calculated to improve, decorate and beautify the buildings and grounds of those who aim to make "Home, Sweet Home," in city or country.

The study and labor of years, and the expense of thousands of dollars, have been expended in getting up this superior and valuable work, (now completed,) which is offered to the public at a price scarcely equal to the cost of procuring a single design. It is believed to be not only the most comprehensive, tasteful and complete work of the kind ever published, but the cheapest, most convenient and desirable ever executed in any country or on any age.

To classes Wood's Portfolio of Original Designs at a price so far below the ordinary price of works of the kind, the publishers is actuated by the wish to bring it within the limits of those who contemplate procuring any one or but few of the articles constituting the varied and vast collection, thereby affording a select and choice variety adapted to different tastes, at an expense even less than must be paid to architects or designers for a single design.

To Railing-Makers, Pattern-Makers, Carvers, Iron Founders, &c., as well as to Designers, Architects and others, this work is obviously invaluable, and at the present time may be considered indispensable.

Price $20.—Remittances may be made by mail, (post-paid) by express, or otherwise, addressed to the subscriber, and the work, carefully enveloped, will be forwarded as directed to any part of the world. ROBERT WOOD,

Philadelphia, June, 1851.

The unprecedented success which has attended the efforts of the proprietor in mechanics, and the manufacture of Ornamental Iron Work at his extensive establishment in Philadelphia, (second to no other in the world,) is in no small measure attributable to a liberal employment of the best artists in getting up these designs. And he is aware of no better or more grateful return which he can make for the generous patronage bestowed upon him, than by placing the Portfolio at a comparatively nominal price, within the reach of that public to whose confidence and custom he is indebted for the means and ability to do so. je21 2awiwW&S
