

CHATS WITH YOUR GAS MAN

How can you practice economy on a gas range? Here are a few hints:

Always boil water in a covered tea-kettle. If larger amounts are needed, use the gas water-heater.

Regulate the height of your gas flame until its tip just touches the bottom of the cooking-vessel. Don't permit the flame to curl up around the vessel.

Do not use the oven or broiler for toasting bread. Purchase a small toaster.

Reduce burner flame after contents of cooking vessel have reached the boiling point, or transfer vessel to simmering burner.

Never light burner until you are ready to place vessel over it, and turn off the gas when removing vessel.

Keep all burners clean. Boil them occasionally in strong solution of soda and water, or lye.

Follow the above hints and you will help to make your gas bills thrive.

LOG OF A BIRD LOVER

September 22 we took a walk over to the campfire girls camp and saw nine kinds of birds. Nighthawks were everywhere over the city whirling and circling in the evening air. Several faded robins were watching over a lawn sprinkler which had afforded them a bath an hour before. A large flock of bronzed grackles were feeding on a lawn where a blue jay was scolding at them from a thick-foliated tree. By the river we saw a pair of kingfishers one of which dashed into the water while we were watching. A number of killdeer flew along the sand bar ahead of us as we waded out from the bank and it was there that we heard the plaintive call of the cat-bird just as the sun was going down. On a towhead we heard a brown thrasher clicking in alarm and then disappear into the willows. Darkness settled down over everything and we started for home. In going through a little thicket we startled a pair of mourning doves from their nest and as they were too young to fly far one fell at our feet and we held it a moment in our hands before setting it at liberty.

September 24, we took a walk over to the South river and as it was almost night we did not see many birds. A yellow-shafted flicker was at work on a fence post and meadow larks were flying over the hay-meadow. We counted more than twenty flying from one field to another. Then we saw four sparrow hawks flying east. These birds are common in fall when they migrate south but not common here during the summer.

At a meeting of the Junior class the following officers were elected, sponsor, Miss Ruth Duacan, president, Dale Stroup, vice-president, Edwin Rector, secretary, Ida Payne.

Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Higgins returned to their home in Sothean California after spending several weeks visiting with relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Higgins were former residents here.

THE DRAMA WITH A BIG DIFFERENCE!

"I left him lying there. He was your son."

Terror stricken, little Rose o' the Sea had run through the night with a world of disillusionment in her mind, a chant of tragedy on her lips.

School Coats with naught but wear to commend them would find few buyers.

We kept that thought in mind when picking out our fall and winter stock, demanding of every maker that there be a real showing of brains in the styling. And when we found that, even that failed of acceptance unless the materials were basically good and well-wearing; and all this failed, too unless the workmanship measured up to our test.

With youngsters of our own and a lively sympathy with what hundreds of parents have told us we've made mighty sure that the lassies of North Platte shall be conspicuously well coated and a pride to their parents.

The Difference between Price and Value

Suppose you pay $475.00 for a Hobart M. Cable Piano, which usually remains in first-class condition for at least 20 years; your piano has thus cost you $23.75 a year, and still has a good resale value.

Compare that with a $300.00 piano, which before 5 years will probably look old and worn, with a cracked tone, impossible to keep in tune, a constant source of expense; your piano has cost you $60.00 a year with little if any resale value.

Twenty year old Hobart M. Cable Pianos show no impairment of tone quality or architectural beauty—they seem imperishable. Accept our invitation to see and hear the Hobart M. Cable.
