☞ Post-Office, New-York.—NOTICE.—The practice of merchants and others, depositing letters in the way-vestes, after the regular mails have closed, or handing them to the mail agents, has increased to such an extent, that it is not possible for the agents to make the matter up for their respective destinations.

The object of the way pouch is to accommodate correspondence written in extreme cases, being but few letters, and not for the entire correspondence of mercantile houses.

I am instructed by the Postmaster-General to say, that, "Should this notice be disregarded and the embarrassment to the mail agents be still continued, it will become necessary to forbid their reception of any matter, except what is regularly received at the Post Office, or at intermediate points on their route, or to instruct them to deposit such mail matter in the Post Office, where a delay of 12 to 24 hours will necessarily be caused."—August 25, 1851.
