THE TENTH DISTRICT

Coming Back Steadily to Old Time Conditions.

The People See That the Republicans Have Misrepresented the Two Situation as to the Constitutional Amendment.

Two years ago the Democrats barely squeezed through in the Tenth Congressional district, and four years ago it elected a Republican to Congress.

In the election last Tuesday the Democrats carried the district by a very comfortable majority, showing that the people of the mountains are surely, if slowly, returning to their old allegiance to the Democratic party. The time was when the mountain section was more strongly Democratic than now. Several causes operated to help the Republicans, chief among which in the old times was the county government system under which the magistrates were appointed by the Legislature instead of being elected by the people. That never was popular in all white counties, but was established for the whole State as the essential to preserve white and good government in Eastern North Carolina.

Then came the agitation for the constitutional amendment, regulating and limiting suffrage. With few negroes in their counties, there were not a few voters in the West who did not understand the amendment. The Republicans made a vigorous, vicious and unfair assault upon it, telling the voters that it would disfranchise every white man who was uneducated. The illiterate voters, naturaly jealous of their right to vote, were greatly troubled, and gave heed to the false charge of the Republican speakers. Two elections have been held under the constitutional amendment, and the people who were fooled into voting the Republican ticket see that they have been deceived, and some of them are resenting the deception by voting the Democratic ticket. Others will do likewise. Republicanism will retrograde in the mountains from now on. The tide has changed in this election when the Democrats feared local conditions and the Roosevelt tidal wave would reduce the Democratic vote.

Corporation Commissioner Rogers who lives in Macon county, has returned to Raleigh, much cheered by the gains made in the mountain district. But for the wholesale use of money and whiskey by the Radical heelers the Democratic majority would have been much greater. Some stringent legislation must be enacted to prevent the corruption and debauchery of the voters in North Carolina and examples must be made of the corruptionists.

"The Democrats of the Tenth district did well," says Mr. Rogers. "In the face of the Republican landslide everywhere else they did wonderfully and surprisingly well. Though the Republican candidate for Governor resides in Jackson county the Democrats in that county elected a Democrat to the Legislature and increased their majority. The Democrats reclaimed Macon, Transylvania and McDowell, all of which send Democrats this year to the Legislature. The counties of Yancey and Haywood, which have been uncomfortably close of late, give old time Democratic majorities. Buncombe and Rutherford, both give splendid Democratic majorities. The Republicans carry only Henderson, Swain and Cherokee counties. The gains are good, not large, and the gains will be slow, but we believe they will be sure and steady. The party is in better shape in the Tenth district than it has been for a long time."

Chairman Shipman.

In the Congressional campaign much credit is due to Mr. M. L. Shipman, editor of the Hendersonville Hustler, who was chairman of the committee. Upon being elected chairman, Mr. Shipman held a conference with the leaders in each county at which a committee from every precinct was selected to look after the Congressional ticket. He made a second canvass of the district in person a few days previous to the election, and saw that the organization was in good shape, and spared no effort to bring out the full vote. A strong candidate, splendid speeches, and a righteous cause often fail because of the lack of effective and efficient organization. Chairman Shipman and the county chairmen in the Tenth had a splendid organization, and much of the credit of the result is due to their hard work.

Mr. Shipman is a Democrat of the right type. There is no young man in the State or elsewhere who is more deserving than M. L. Shipman. He was born on a farm in the Bowman's Bluff section and followed the plow until he attained his majority. Has not had the advantage of a college education, but worked his way through the common school by his own efforts. It is such men as this that the people should wish to honor. Being in thorough sympathy with the toiling masses they have in him a friend who will see that their interests are protected. Let us not cast even a shadow in the path of a man who has such a record as this and who possesses every requisite to fill the office of Senator with honor and credit to himself and his people.

Mr. Shipman has always been true to every trust. His father, Mr. Frank Shipman, was one of the bravest soldiers who followed the fortunes of Lee, Jackson and other leaders in the war between the States and the direful results of that unfortunate struggle prevented him from assisting his son in the cherished desire to complete his education.

Plenty of Material for Secretaries of the Navy.

To the Editor: A recent article in your paper calls attention to the fact that no North Carolinian has ever filled a Cabinet office except that of Secretary of the Navy, and gives some account of the services of the four distinguished sons of the State who have held that position.

I believe it is not generally known that the first Secretary of the Navy of the Republic of Texas was also a native of North Carolina, namely, Robert Potter. His term of office covered only a few months of 1835 and 1836 and details concerning him are meagre.

Perhaps some one will question whether this republic of Texas ever owned a navy. Such, however, is true, though little is recorded of its achievements. At one time it consisted of as much as seven vessels. It was maintained up to the annexation, though at that time practically worthless.

If theer are other navies needing secretaries, I feel certain that North Carolina still has abundant material.

Deputy Sheriff Accidentally Shot.

(Special to News and Observer.)

Fayetteville, N. C., Nov. 12.—Mr. James Taylor, one of Sheriff Marsh's deputies, was accidentally shot yesterday afternoon, and is now in the Highsmith hospital. A party of young men were discussing firearms when Deputy Taylor, who had just procured a new 32-calibre pistol, pulled it from his pocket to show to his companions. It fell to the floor and exploded. The ball entered the left leg, ranged upwards and lodged somewhere near the small of the back. Though it is a severe wound, it is not likely to prove fatal.

Negro Mortally Wounded.

(Special to News and Observer.)

Louisburg, N. C., Nov. 12.—It has just been learned here that this morning early at a turkey blind, on W. H. Allen's plantation, Mr. William Horton shot a negro named Chas. Hunt in the abdomen, inflicting what the doctors say will prove to be a mortal wound. Mr. Horton says the shooting was accidental but details at this writing are not to be had.

Fire at Elizabeth City.

(Special to News and Observer.)

Elizabeth City, N. C., Nov. 12.—Baxter's ice plant, located on the Norfolk and Southern railroad, just outside the city limits, was totally destroyed by fire early yesterday morning.

The insurance was slight and by no means covered the loss. How the building caught is not known.

Bitten by Mad Dog.

(Troy Examiner.)

There was a mad dog alarm in town Tuesday. The dog escaped. It is not known for certain whether it was mad. Last week Mrs. Pernell, of Uwharrie was bitten and is now taking treatment in the hospital at Baltimore.

AN OBJECT LESSON.

In a Restaurant.

A physician puts the query: Have you never noticed in any large restaurant at lunch or dinner time the large number of hearty, vigorous old men at the tables; men whose ages run from sixty to eighty years; many of them bald and all perhaps gray, but none of them feeble or senile?

Perhaps the spectacle is so common as to have escaped your observation or comment, but nevertheless it is an object lesson which means something.

If you will notice what these hearty old fellows are eating, you will observe that they are not munching bran crackers nor gingerly picking their way through a menu card of new fangled health foods; on the contrary they seem to prefer a juicy roast of beef, a properly turned lion of mutton, and even the deadly broiled lobster is not altogether ignored.

The point of all this is that a vigorous old age depends upon good digestion and plenty of wholesome food and not upon dieting and an endeavor to live upon bran crackers.

There is a certain class of food cranks who seem to believe that meat coffee and many other good things are rank poisons, but these cadaverous sickly looking individuals are a walking condemnation of their own theories.

The matter in a nutshell is that if the stomach secretes the natural digestive juices in sufficient quantity, any wholesome fool will be promptly digested; if the stomach does not do so, and certain foods cause distress, one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal will remove all difficulty, because they supply just what every weak stomach lacks, pepsin, hydro-chloric acid, diastase and nux.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do not act upon the bowels and in fact are not strictly a medicine, as they act almost entirely upon the food eaten, digesting it thoroughly and thus giving the stomach a much needed rest and an appetite for the next meal.

Of people who travel, nine out of ten use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, knowing them to be perfectly safe to use at any time and also having found out by experience that they are a safeguard against indigestion in any form, and eating as they have to, at all hours and all kinds of food, the traveling public for years have pinned their faith to Stuart's Tablets.

All druggists sell them at 50 cents for full-sized packages and any druggist from Maine to California, if his opinion were asked, will say that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the most popular and successful remedy for any stomach trouble.

WHAT MIRACLE OF HEALING IS THIS?

THE HUMAN HEART MADE TO BEAT AGAIN IN WOMAN'S BODY RESCUED FROM THE GRAVE.

THE BLIND MADE TO SEE AND THE LAME TO WALK

And Hopeless Invalids Healed of Diseases Pronounced Incurable by Physicians.

PROFESSOR'S PHENOMENAL POWER.

Upsets Modern Medical Practice by Curing Without Useless Drugs and Medicines.

Gives Services Without Charge to the Sick and Afflicted. Believing It His Duty to God and Man to Help Suffering Humanity.

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 10.—(Special Correspondence.)—Discarding the useless drugs and medicines dispensed by doctors and yet healing hopeless invalids of diseases pronounced incurable by physicians and specialists, succeeding in restoring life and health when doctor after doctor failed, Professor Thomas F. Adkin, of this city, has proven the value of a wonderful discovery that threatens to upset modern medical practice. In the face of opposition, criticism, even ridicule, he has persisted in his belief that hope should not be lost until actual and unmistakable dissolution of the body occurs. He claims, and offers evidence beyond doubt, that he has made the human heart beat again in the body of a woman given up to death. He cites names and intsances, where, by means of his discovery, he has made the blind to see and the lame walk; where he has permanently cured paralysis, consumption, syphilis, rheumatism, Bright's disease, and other diseases heretofore supposed to be incurable. More than that, he states that he can cure the sick in their own homes hundreds of miles away without stirring from his office. In one instance, that of a Mrs. L. A. Phillips, of Trawick, Tex., the witnesses say that he raised her from the dead. Whether that is literally true or not, there is little doubt but that the woman would be in her grave today were it not for this man's strange power over human life and his marvelous control over disease and death. Mrs. Phillips had been a hopeless invalid for many years, and for the last five had been bedfast, could lie on one side only, and was covered with bed sores. She was suffering from a severe complication of diseases, including stomach, kidney, and female troubles, and had been under treatment of twelve different hospitals and various doctors, all of whom failed to help her and pronounced her case incurable. Her agonies were so great that they threw her into convulsive spasms, while her body was wasted to skin and bones. All the medicines given her were without effect, and she was rapidly nearing her grave, when she heard of Prof. Adkin. Broken in body, pain-weary, and without faith, but hoping against hope in this last desperate chance, she wrote to him. He replied at once, saying that he would take her case, assuring her that he could and would save her life and restore her to health. And notwithstanding what the doctors had said, he did cure her completely so that today she is up and about, as well woman, joyous, thankful, and enthusiastic. Another case almost equally remarkable was that of Mr. R. A. Wallen, of Finey, Mo., who for four years was paralyzed and was steadily growing more hopeless in spite of all the doctors who attended him. His cure was so quick and marvelous that, in a letter he says: "It was like bringing the dead to life." Prof. Adkin cured Mrs. M. W. Nolen, of Covington, Ga., of a malignant cancer without the knife or probe; he stopped the Great White Plague, consumption, in the case of Miss H. L. Kelley, of Seal Cove, Me., and hundreds of other suffering men and women have likewise been rescued by this wonderful man who seems to control some mysterious force not known to ordinary mortals.

When called upon for an interview Prof. Adkins said:

"Yes, I remember the cases you mention, but do not quite understand why they should cause any especial astonishment, since they are no more wonderful than scores of other cures I have made since I announced my discovery to the world. I firmly believe that there is no disease I may not cure, and whatever other men may do or fail to do, I mean to keep on healing the sick and afflicted of any disease they may have just as long as I am able. I make no exceptions rich or poor, east or west, wherever they live, it is all the same to me. All who are sick from any cause may be cured in their own homes simply by writing and telling me the name of their trouble or their principal symptoms, age and sex, and I will give them of my services absolutely without charge. I feel that it is my duty to God and man to give freely, to help all who are afflicted and not to use my discovery merely to make money."

"Do you really mean that any one who is sick can write to you to be cured, without paying you any money?

"Exactly. I mean just that. I know it may seem an unusual thing to do, but if I choose to help the earth's physical unfortunates without pay, there's nothing to prevent my doing so, is there? I have my own reason for my course in this matter and I do not want anyone to feel that by taking advantage of my offer they are accepting charity. I will have my reward in proving to the world the great value of my discovery, and the uselessness of wasting money on doctors and medicines when it is not necesasry."

"What is this discovery?"

"I can show you better than I can explain. Have some one who is sick write to me and watch the results. If you do so I would prefer that you select a chronic case, some one whom physicians have said cannot be cured. Any doctor may cure a simple case with a few doses of medicines, but I want those where both doctors and medicines have failed. Tell anyone who wants to be cured to write to me, adressing Professor Thomas F. Adkin, Office 968 M., Rochester, N. Y."

"But how can you cure those at a distance; those whom you never see?"

"Just as easily and just as surely as though I went to them or they came to me. Distance makes no difference. Whether they live one or a thousand miles away is all the same. A letter is all that is necessary to enlist my aid. What other men may or may not be able to do, how they fail or what they charge makes no difference to me. My power is supreme."

Investigation proves that Professor Adkin's claims are more than borne out by the facts, and that he fulfills his promise of free service to the very letter.

ORIGIN O FEPIDEMIC.

Cause of the Spread of Typhoid Fever at the Baptist Orphanage.

To the Editor: After weeks of investigation of all the conditions pertaining to the epidemic of typhoid fever at the orphanage, and especially the thorough examination of the milk and water supply, which is generally accepted as the medium of dissemination of the great majority of cases of typhoid fever, we find that neither the milk nor the water contains typhoid bacilli and cannot be responsible for rthis outbreak, but we have arrived at the conclusion that the privies are wholly responsible for the spread of the infection.

The alteration of the privy system, sewerage, so persistently urged for years by the general manager and the physician in charge, is now being pushed as rapidly as possible, although we have for some time past been using daily disinfectants in the privies.

TRINITY DEFEATED AT TENNIS.

Wake Forest Was the Winner—The Trinity Track Team at Work.

(Special to News and Observer.)

Trinity College, N. C., Nov. 12.—The Trinity Tennis Club, represented by Messrs. Armfield and Holland, was defeated yesterday afternoon on Hanes athletic field by Wake Forest. There was not a large crowd out to see the contest, owing to the cool weather, but those who were present showed as much enthusiasm as if the game had been baseball instead of tennis. The game was close until the third set was played, when Wake Forest began to show up more strongly, and she finally won out by taking three sets out of four played.

The track team is hard at work now getting ready for a meet on November 23d.

At Charlotte last night Dr. J. C. Kilgo made an address before the North Carolina Llorary Associat on on "The Library as an Educational Factor." Prof. Bivins will also address the association on "The Public Library and Public Schools."

Bids will be received until noon, December 12th, at the office of Capt. Johnson in this city.

Lockout of the Whoop 'Em Ups.

(Special to News and Observer.)

Asheville, N. C., Nov. 12.—The jollifications of the Republicans at the court house last night did not materialize owing to a misunderstanding about the keys to the doors. Several hundred persons, mostly Federal court attendants, were present to hear the orators whoop 'em up and shout the name of Roosevelt, but after waiting for a time they dispersed. Formal announcement was made at the court house steps that rally would be pulled off tonight, and it is now on with the faithful in attendance.
