Rain—Markets and Stocks.

Correspondence of The N. Y. Tribune.

PHILADELPHIA, Monday, Aug. 25, 1851.

A delightful rain-storm visited our city and vicinity this afternoon. Our streets for a short time were miniature rivers, and to cross them was an act which only the expertest swimmer attempted. The shower was indeed delicious.

The FLOUR market continues very quiet to-day. Some further sales of sound old stock and recently inspected, have been made at $3 75 ⅌ bbl., but there is very little export demand. A small sale for city consumption at $3 81½ @$4, for common and good brands, and $4 12½@$4 50 for select brands and extra. In RYE FLOUR nothing doing. CORN MEAL is held at $2 87½ ⅌ bbl. There is but a limited amount of WHEAT offering, and prices rather tend upward. 3,600 bushels prime new Southern Red, sold on Saturday, at 81 cts. ⅌ bushel, but holders now demand more. A sale of old White at 91 cts. CORN is in good demand for shipment, and prices have advanced. Sales of 2,000 to 3,000 bushels, mostly Southern Yellow, at 60 cts., afloat. OATS are in fair request at 23 cts. ⅌ bushel. WHISKY is in limited demand. Sales of hhds. and bbls. at 21½ cts.

Spanish Barbarism—A Bull-Fight.

To the Editors of The N. Y. Tribune:

What a picture does the following letter, just received from a gentleman in Cadiz, present of a most barbarous entertainment; and how deadened to every humane prompting toward man and beast, must children become when trained, as there, to take delight in witnessing the torture of the brute creation and the reckless exposure of human life, solely for the amusement of the spectators! Ought a nation where such scenes are countenanced to be called civilized? No wonder, then, that during the recent Carlist insurrection in Spain, there were details of shocking barbarities inflicted on the prisoners whom misfortune threw into the power of their captors. At one time, about 300 persons were brought out, and, under the pretext of a scarcity of powder to execute them in prescribed military form, turned over by the commanding officer to his troops, to glut their blood thirsty propensities in tearing and mangling the bodies of their victims! I read during that period, in the periodicals of that country, of instances, and those are abundantly confirmed, where the tongues of prisoners were cut off before other violence was done to them, and they were even then left to go as examples, to wit, "to deter others from espousing the opposite cause!"

"CADIZ, Monday, July 28, 1851.

"Yesterday, notwithstanding my repugnance to bull-fights, it was impossible to resist the repeated urging of Mr. C——, a gentleman to whom I am particularly indebted for many civilities, to accompany him to one of these spectacles. Many thousands were present at the vast amphitheater of the Square. Eight bulls entered the ring and twenty-four horses were killed. One of the horsemen was severely gored, and two of those whose office it is to goad the animals to phrenzy, were badly bruised, and one barely escaped having his neck broken. The exposure and escape gave rise to rapturous applaudings. Even while I write, my imagination paints the poor horses with their entrails protruding, and still further drawn out by tramping upon them with their own feet; their eyes bandaged to prevent them from recoiling from their ferocious enemy, and continuing to be gored till life was no longer. Such scenes as this causes me to realize in what country I am; and still more when I see present well-dressed men with their wives and tender offspring."

McCoy again Lynched.

We published, a few weeks since, an account of the lynching of a man named McCoy, in Pike County, Ala., on the ground that he was an Abolitionist. By the following article from The Tuskegee (Ala.) Republican it will be seen that the same man has again suffered violence at the hands of a pro-Slavery mob:

AN ABOLITIONIST IN HOCKELEY.—On Wednesday last McCoy, the Abolitionist who had been treated so like a stranger by the good people of Pike, made his appearance in our town. This news soon spread, and about a dozen of our citizens constituted themselves a Special Committee to wait upon him, and inquire into his whereabouts and business. He denied being an Abolitionist, or that he was the same man that was ducked in Pike, or that his name was McCoy. The proof, however, was conclusive, and thereupon a Jury of good and lawful men was empanneled to inquire into his case, and if the facts were found against him, to assess the punishment. The Jury having retired, and evidence being adduced, there was no doubt left that he was the individual that he was suspected of being. It was likewise proved that he had talked abolition the night before, (besides misbehaving in divers other way,) and that he had talked abolition that very morning in town. The verdict therefore, was, that he be taken to the town pump, and after being well pumped upon, that he be rode on a rail out of the corporate limits of the town. The whole sentence was carried into effect in a most becoming manner, the boys accompanying the procession with music on the tin-pan, cow-bells, fire-crackers, and divers other popular instruments.

As the sentence was being carried into effect, McCoy entered his solemn protest against the whole proceeding, and we put it on record for his benefit, "Gentlemen," said he "I call you to witness that this whole thing is done without my consent, and rather against my feelings and wishes." He did not seem to take it very much at heart, and if we are not mistaken he has been rode on a rail before he ever saw Pike.

McCoy is a long-legged man, some 40 to 45 years of age, stout, and a clock-mender by profession. He rides a white horse, and carries a particularly dilapidated pair of saddle-bags.

Let him be a warning to all abolitionists who come to Tuskegee.

MONDAY, Aug 25—P.M.

Stocks at the First Board were quite firm, with considerable transactions. Governments were wanted at full rates. The supply offering is small. The speculative descriptions were in demand to meet time sales, as well as for new transactions. At the Second Board there was a dull market, and prices ruled somewhat lower, owing, it was said, to an expected shipment to Europe this week of at least one million of coin, perhaps more. This, coupled with the impression that the coin in Bank has not increased of late, causes in some quarters an uneasy feeling.

The Money market to-day was much the same as at the close of last week, easy on demand. Loans at 7 ⅌ cent, and for first-class paper 9@10 ⅌ cent. The same causes which operate in the Stock market have a like effect in the Discount market, that is, the shipments of Coin are closely watched, and should they increase there will be higher rates demanded.

In Foreign Exchange the supply is not large, and we have no change to note. The Exchange House which has been mentioned as having recently failed, is that of William & James Curry, dealers in bank notes. Their losses are said to have been incurred in real estate operations. The credit and means of this house have been quite limited since the failure of the Bank of St. Clair, Michigan, with which they were involved.

The Valley Bank of Lowville, Lewis County, is the name of a new Banking House added to the list in this State. Mr. Leonard, the former Cashier of the Lowville Bank, is the President of this institution. The leading business men of Newburgh are engaged in establishing another Bank in that thriving village. They propose a minimum capital of $200,000.

The Grocers' Bank of this City will be in active operation in October. It will compete for business with the other Banks on the North River side of the City. Charles Denison, of the firm of C. & L. Denison & Co., is to be President.

The following was the condition of the State Bank of Indiana at the close of the quarter ending 31st July, 1851:

Means.

Bills and notes discounted	$3,716,295 47
Banking houses and other real estate	328,917 61
Funds in Eastern cities	1,505,677 07
Banks other than Eastern	290,544 98
Indiana Treasury notes	49,370 00
Remittances and other means	291,497 66
Notes of other Banks	285,564 00
Gold and silver	1,125,397 39
Total	$7,593,284 17

Liabilities.

Capital stock	$2,083,007 44
Surplus fund	777,637 98
Unclaimed dividend	11,880 85
Profit and loss last quarter	79,639 88
Due other Banks	191,747 60
Due Sinking Fund and branch balances	75,500 00
Circulation	3,780,827 00
Individual deposits	633,047 74
Total	$7,593,284 17

This shows the Bank to be in a very sound and strong condition—indeed, in the matter of proportion of means to liabilities, no statements that we have seen from any part of the country equal the Indiana Institution. The Bank has thirteen branches. There are no other chartered banks in the State.—From the foregoing it will be seen that the surplus fund exceeds in the aggregate 35 ⅌ cent. on the capital.

The "Forest City Bank" is in course of organization, at Cleveland, with a capital of $100,000, and with liberty to increase it to $200,000. It is to commence business on the 1st September.

The Central Bank at Middletown, Conn., has been organized, and Charles Woodward appointed President, and S. D. Smith, Cashier.

The amount of United States Stock issued to foreigners during the week ending 23d August, is as follows:

Loans of 1852	$3,000

The business on the Cleveland, Columbus and Cincinnati Railroad continues to increase in a remarkable degree. The receipts for the present month of August, will exceed $60,000. Receipts from passengers alone for the first week in August, were $81,959 62.

The receipts on the Little Miami Railroad for the week ending 16th Aug., inst., were $11,292 73

The progress of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad westward is very rapid. The rails have already been laid for a distance of more than forty miles from Cumberland.

The Cincinnati Commercial states that the Cincinnati and St. Louis Railroad is soon to be commenced under very favorable auspices.

The Directors of the Columbus, Piqua and Indiana Railroad, have been enabled to make contracts for that portion of the work lying between Urbana and Columbus, at prices below the Engineer's estimates. That part of the road between Urbana and Paris, and between Covington and Greenville, will be put under contract within thirty-days, when the entire line, from Columbus to Winchester, will be in the hands of contractors, and we may look for its speedy completion at an early day.

The Conhocton and Buffalo Railroad has been located through Caledonia, and energetic measures are on foot to prosecute the work westward.

The Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton Railroad will be opened on the 10th of Sept. next.

Thompson's Bank Note Reporter is making vigorous war upon the priciple of Life Insurance Companies as carried on this country.

The total value of the exports to foreign ports from Baltimore, for the week ending Thursday, amounted to $152,979 56. The exports to Southern coastwise ports were also large, among the principal articles were 15,132 bush. corn, 1,681 bbls. flour, and 2,179 bags coffee.

The following is the quantity of Coal transported over the different Railroads in Schuylkill Co. for the week ending Thursday evening:
