☞ In While Joint Executive Committee—Hall of Representatives, Nov. 29, 1851.—At a meeting of this Committee, held as above, the following report of a Special Committee of [illegible] appointed at a former meeting, was read, [illegible] and unanimously adopted:

REPORT.—Your Committee, to whom was referred the question of the practicability of harmonizing the action of the Whig party in this City, State, and elsewhere, cannot but express the decided opinion, that it is the duty imposed upon it, than to do better, in discharge of the duty imposed upon it, than to submit for your consideration and adoption, the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Whig party is greatly indebted to those Members of the Legislative Committee, appointed at Albany, who advocated a compromise of individual opinions, in August, last past.

That the Democratic Whig Joint Executive Committee approve, and adopt as their own, the resolutions passed by the respective Whig State Committees with the Legislative Committees, and at the recent State Convention at Syracuse.

That they pledge themselves, and their fellow Whigs of the City of New-York, to a cordial and united support of the Whig State Candidates nominated at Syracuse, and of all candidates hereafter nominated upon the just basis of adjustment put forth by the Whig State Convention.

And that this report and resolutions be published in the usual Whig papers of the city.
