T. J. MAJORS STRIKES IT RICH.
Special to Omaha World Herald.

Lincoln, Neb., Dec. 21.—Nebraska republican politicians are considerably interested in a piece of news which comes from Colorado. The Plateau Mining, Milling and Development company, an organization which has for its directors H. N. Bradshaw, T. J. Majors, C. E. Adams and E. Bosserman, has struck a vein in its mine at Blackhawk, at the depth of 250 feet, which is two feet thick and assays $600 to the ton.

The list of directors contains the names of two men whose ambition to be republican governors of Nebraska were disappointed. The other republicans who were recently turned down are happy to see this evidence that republicans can become rich if they can no longer become governors and state officers in Nebraska.

Take the wagonette when in Auburn
