☞ New-York and Erie Railroad.—To the Editors of The New-York Tribune.—As the time is approaching for the opening of the spring business, it is well enough to look about and see the facilities which are offered to the public for the conveyance of passengers and the transportation of freight from this great mart to the unbounded West; for I maintain that in those facilities the business community of New-York are deeply interested and their confidence has a mighty influence as to which of the different channels should have the preference.

In my view the New-York and Erie Railroad is identified with the interest of the city, and the whole weight of the business part of the community should be thrown in her favor. The Erie Railroad Co. have not only opened a mighty empire to her trade, but have systemized and facilitated the shipment of merchandise so as to make it less difficult as in former times. They have also been fortunate in selecting their employees, and among them I will make particular reference to one who by his industry, perseverance and ability has had a great influence in giving direction to property by this road, the gentleman, S. Brown, Esq. who is connected with the freight department. He has no superior for that station in this community—his extensive acquaintance with western business men, his ability and tact places him beyond any rival, and as long as the sole direction of this branch of the Company's business remains in such capable hands, the road will reap a rich reward in its undertaking, and command the confidence of the public. They have others, also, who commend themselves to notice, Mr. Palmer, receiving Clerk, who I term a living walking Gazetteer, as every one knows, especially our Carmen, who have daily intercourse with him, and but for his knowledge and acquaintance of the location of places would have to make many a journey to and from the depot for naught.

A LOOKER ON.

Barnard & Parsons, Attorneys, No. 16 Wall st., the certificate for their lot at Fethanville, are requested to do so immediately, or they may have to wait twelve months for their deed. ☞ The Last Opportunity.—The Fourth Regular Monthly Meeting of the SECOND MANHATTAN BUILDING ASSOCIATION will be held at the Mercer House, on MONDAY EVENING, Jan. 19, 1852, at 7½ o'clk. By the decision of the Board of Trustees, and for the purpose of filling up the entire number of members, the initiation fee still remains at Two Dollars, but it will positively be increased after this meeting. There remain but 200 shares to be disposed of, and as there are 168 taken at the last regular meeting, the probability is that there will not be a single share left after Monday night next. Remember, that an investment of Three Dollars per month will accumulate in a few years to Eight Hundred Dollars—and pay now!

Remember, that if you wish to borrow money to build or purchase a home, that you can do it by becoming a member of this Association—begin now.

The par value of each share is $800. Entrance fees $2. Monthly dues $3. Office of Secretary is at No. 15 Spruce-st., 3d floor, where copies of the By-Laws can be obtained, and members may enroll their names.

JOHN N. GENIN, President.

AN EXQUISITE TALE for the HOME CIRCLE.—HOME AND ITS INFLUENCE. A Domestic Story for Mothers and Daughters.

The above work is a domestic story that must appeal to the home sympathies of the reader. Its characters are drawn with a marvelous delicacy; they are happily contrasted, and present a varied, pleasing and highly interesting group. The story is of that character, that, while it enchains the attention, arouses the feelings, and enlists the sympathies, it is pure and simple. Home thoughts, characters, influences and scenes are vividly portrayed and so truthfully rendered, that they elevate and expand the mind, and are calculated to enlist the heart closer to those scenes and events that are common, every-day associations of all who enjoy the blessings of home.

KOSSUTH IN ENGLAND.—An English edition of the authentic Life of his Excellency, LOUIS KOSSUTH, Governor of Hungary, with a full report of his Speeches delivered in England; to which is added his Address to the People of the United States of America, beautifully illustrated with beautiful scenes in England of his reception, with an Autograph Letter.

The London Athenæum says of this man, "that common fame represented him as a sort of magician, who by a word could persuade men to exchange their silver coin for bits of paper containing no better security than his promises to pay when he should be able; who by his conjuration could raise up army after army of Magyars, and launch them against the Imperial House of Hapsburg, shows him to be a most extraordinary man." AMY LAWRENCE, or THE FREEMASON'S DAUGHTER. By J. P. Smith, Esq., author of "Stanfield Hall," "Mannigrey," etc.

"This is a vivid and fascinating story, full of dramatic action and tragic interest. It is distinguished by an energy of thought and feeling such as we too seldom have the good fortune to encounter in modern fictions. It is not only entertaining for its graces of description and pleasantries of colloquy, but imposing for its grandeur of thought and the majestic beauty of its symmetry. The author has produced a work which is entitled to a highly distinguished position among productions of its class. In thoughtful and large conceptions—in number and variety of characters—in copiousness of description, ingenuity of intrigue, and skillful combination of incidents, there are few modern novels with which we are acquainted which will not suffer by comparison with Amy Lawrence."

Beautifully illustrated. Price 50 cents. For sale wholesale and retail by IMPORTANT NATIONAL WORK.—D. APPLETON & CO. have just published NICARAGUA: its People, Scenery, Monuments and the proposed Inter Oceanic Canal, with numerous original Illustrations. By E. G. Squier, late Chargé d'Affaires of the United States to the Republics of Central America. 2 vols. 8vo. price $3.

"A valuable contribution to American literature—a work combining the attractions of a vivacious narrative and graphic description, with the results of historical and ethnological research, the disquisitions of political science, and the calculations of commercial enterprise. The visits of Mr. Stephens to Central America excited a romantic interest in our neighbors of the extreme South, and especially in ethnological inquiries respecting races of whom the imperfect monuments and the degenerate representatives are scattered throughout the whole central region of America.

"The established reputation of Mr. Squier for thoroughness and accuracy in the investigation of mounds, relics and other memorials, gives authority not only to his statements but even to his hypotheses. The narrative portion of the work possesses all the interest of a sprightly book of travels, and the commercial data in that portion relating to the Inter-Oceanic Canal are of great value to the mercantile community.

"Mr. Squier's elaborate work is illustrated by numerous maps, wood cuts and colored lithographs. Its production is an additional evidence of the honor conferred upon our Government abroad through representatives who are not mere politicians, but who have a standing in the world of science and of letters." THE NINETEENTH CENTURY, or, the NEW DISPENSATION, being an examination of the claims and assertions of EMANUEL SWEDENBORG, with a brief review of the Writings of ANDREW JACKSON DAVIS. By a Layman. 12mo., pp. 425. Price $1. John Allen, Fowlers & Wells.

"We cordially bear witness to the general ability and well-timedness of the work. * * * It is, in its general scope, eminently popular. It directs its appeal to the plain sound sense of the masses."
[Prof. Bush's Repository and Monthly Review.

"It is ably written, often eloquent, and in a far more lucid style than is usually employed by writers of the Swedenborgian school. Many of its criticisms on the spirit of the age are pungent and strongly sustained; a vein of masculine thought pervades its course or argument, and no one can read it in a contemplative mood without receiving important and fruitful suggestions."
