Auburn can beat any place we know of for having trouble. Now the citizens of that burg are quarreling about the chautauqua. John H. Dundas has been trying to run a chautauqua for several years with more or less success. This summer he started out to raise a stock company. He first sold 100 shares of stock mainly to persons living on the north side. Then he issued 100 more shares, which he sold to southsiders. Some on the north side became alarmed at this for fear the southsiders would take the chautauqua away from the north side, drew out of the company and organized one of their own. They have incorporated and are ready for business. Both sides are trying to lease the park for next year's chautauqua. Both companies claim that John H. Dundas is with them.

Cures When Doctors Fail

Mrs. Frank Chiasson, Patterson, Ia., writes June 8th, 1901: "I had malaria fever in a very bad form, was under treatment by doctors, but as soon as I stopped taking their medicine the fever would return. I used a sample bottle of Herbine, found it helped me. Then I bought two bottles, which completely cured me. I feel very grateful to you for furnishing such a splendid medicine, and can honestly recommend it to those suffering with malaria, as it will surely cure them." Herbine, 50c bottle at Hill's.

Messrs. S. W. Christy and R. F. Steuterville have been collecting specimens this week for the horticultural and agricultural departments of the state fair, O. P. Doval of Auburn having charge of the latter department. Contrary to the opinion of all that the freeze last spring would kill all the fruit, some very fine specimens have been grown. John Davies and Frank Morrison have brought in samples of the Elberta peach measuring from 0 3/4 to 10 inches in circumference. Mr. Steuterville secured an apple measuring over 10 inches. Can you beat this?—Brownville Biograph.
