Dove, Mabb & Swan, (of Plymouth, N.C.) Halsey, from Barbados, via St. Croix, for New-York, (before reported) with a cargo of rum and molasses, was stranded on Fire-present Beach, opposite Barnett's Ocean House, (Harpchief) on Sunday night, May 9, at 11 o'clock, in a thick and hazy weather. The Marine Insurance Agent, C. Prentiss, with the wrecking tackle, and a large force, has landed, in good order, 60 puncheons of rum and about 58 hhds. of molasses, and hopes to have the balance, (two puncheons of rum and the rest of the molasses) on the 12th. The tide ebbs and flows in her, and the schr. is fixed off shore. The sand is in the ground tier, rudder and waist broken and wholly bilged. The wind is fresh from the east, and the sea is making a complete breach over her at very high tide. There is but very little hope of saving the vessel.

The mast on the barrels found on the south side of Nantucket Island, correspond with those lost from steamer St. Lawrence several weeks since, on the passage from Portland to Boston.

Barque Vanessa.—Fears are entertained that two more of the Gloucester fishing vessels are lost. They have now been absent five or six weeks, and they are now about given up. Their names are Capt. Beal, Parsons and schr. Napoleon. The former was a beautiful clipper, new last year; the Napoleon was ten or twelve years old.

Bona, Amarantes, from Panama for San Francisco, with 187 passengers, put into La Union about 10th March, having been out 30 days. Shortly after leaving Panama the passengers were put on an allowance of half a pint of water per diem, and being also short of provisions it was found necessary to put into that port. At La Union the captain was displaced, and the command given to the mate, and the passengers advanced money to purchase provisions. There were several indios on board. Four deaths had already occurred, and the vessel would sail for San Francisco with half her passengers sick with fever.
