POINCARE QUITS THE PREMIERSHIP

NEWLY ELECTED PRESIDENT OF FRANCE RESIGNS, AND WILL LIVE IN RETIREMENT UNTIL HIS INAUGURATION

United Press Service

PARIS, Jan. 18.—Raymond Nicholas Poincare, who as elected president of the French republic yesterday, today tendered his resignation as premier of the French cabinet.

He will rest until his inauguration, and will decide upon the cabinet officers who will serve during his administration.

Just who will succeed Poincare as premier is the question of moment today. It is conceded that Paul Briand, the minister of justice, is the most likely to receive the appointment.

COX CASE STILL IN FEDERAL COURT

MOTION TO VACATE AN ORDER TRANSFERRING ACTION FOR DAMAGES TO U. S. DISTRICT COURT OVERRULED

Circuit Judge Henry L. Benson today denied a motion by the plaintiff in the damage suit of Maude Cox against the California-Oregon Power company to have the order for transferring the case to the United States district court vacated and the action tried here. The motion was made some time ago, and the ruling has just been announced.

The action grows out of the death of Horace Cox, an employe of the company, who was killed by falling from a pole last summer. His relatives seek to recover $20,000 damages
