JESSE W. BENEDICT, President.

NEW-YORK, September 30, 1852.

☞ To the Ship Owners of the City of New-York—GENTLEMEN: We, the Riggers by trade and residents of the City of New York representing the whole body of this branch of the mechanical community, would respectfully ask that the rate of wages now paid, viz: $1 75 per diem, be advanced to the sum of $2, for the following reasons:

That mechanics of different grades, such as Carpenters, Bricklayers, Caulkers, Sailmakers and others are now daily receiving for their labor $2 to $2 25, the nature of which is not more arduous than that of a Rigger.

That our trade is of an extra hazardous nature; that it is attended with more than ordinary risk of life and limb, and further are at all times, when called into action, subject to the inclemency of the weather, the nature of our business being such that delay is injurious to your interests.

That our occupation is not one which furnishes us with constant and steady employment, similar to our fellow-mechanics in other trades.

That within the last five years, house rent and provisions of every description have risen at least 25 per cent, and we find it utterly impossible to support our families with the wages we at present receive.

We would distinctly state that it is not the intention of the trade to oppose the action of those to whom this is addressed, or by any act of ours to incommode our employers.

We simply ask, as a matter of justice that we be placed on the same footing with our brother mechanics for the above reasons, and from the further fact that the rapid progress of the mercantile interests of this city, with which you and ourselves are so closely and necessarily connected, requires that prompt action and unceasing exertions should be used on our part when called upon to fulfil any orders you may from time to time be pleased to favor us with.

We therefore ask your candid and favorable consideration of the above subject, with a full conviction on our part of its justice. Yours, respectfully, TOE RIGGERS.

☞ Laborers' U. B. Society, First Division.—The members of this Division are requested to meet on TUESDAY EVENING, Oct. 5, 1852, at the Forrest House, No. 40 Spring-st. All the members are requested to attend.

JAS. WALLACE, Secry.

☞ Australia.—EAST RIVER, NEW-YORK, Sept. 30, 1852.—We the undersigned, passengers on board the ship Acutanea Captain S. Pepper, bound for Port Philip, Australia, desire before leaving this port to acknowledge publicly our appreciation of the efforts made for our accommodation and comfort by the owners, Messrs William T Dugan & Co., who have in all respects acted throughout honorably, and with characteristic liberality. We would desire also to bear testimony to the suavity and gentlemanly deportment of Captain S. Pepper, in whom we place the utmost confidence, feeling assured that nothing will be lacking on his part to render our voyage speedy and pleasant. We would also take the opportunity of recommending this line of Australian Clippers to our friends in the States and Canada, from the high character of the owners, our own experience, and the class of ships which are to follow ours. The vessel sailing next month, called the Sacsoxa, A 1, Captain Souper, will bear inspection, and we would advise our friends to receive our testimony. See her, and converse with the owners before applying elsewhere.

P. T. BARNUM AN AUTHOR.—FREEDLEY'S PRACTICAL TREATISE ON BUSINESS (4th Edition now ready) is pronounced by the press universally the best and most complete treatise on the important subject of Money-making ever written. P. T. BARNUM, besides many other successful men, has written for it a sketch of his life and his experience in money-making. It is a book that every man engaged or about to engage in practical life's needs and should own. It treats in a masterly manner of those principles and gives that information upon which nineteen-twentieths of us depend for our living and our fortunes.

IT IS THE CHEAPEST BOOK YOU CAN BUY.

One single hint, one item of its mass of information, may be worth to you, perhaps, thousands of dollars. The Legal Advice in it is worth many times its cost.

Every man engaged in practical affairs will peruse this volume with a lively interest. Its influence cannot fail to be salutary, as it certainly will be extensive. [N. Y. Tribune.

It is as interesting as a romance—much more so than some we have been reading lately. [Boston Mirror.

It is only necessary for us further to state that it is carefully and honestly written, and to recommend all who are bent on becoming rich to master its contents. [Home Journal.

IT IS WORTH ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD TO ANY MAN.

Price only $1. 300 pp. large 12mo., fine white paper, handsomely bound in cloth. For sale at COLBY'S, No. 122 Nassau-st.

SECOND EDITION THIS DAY PUBLISHED.—GETZ, BUCK & CO., No. 4 Harts' Building, Philadelphia, publish this day, the second edition of FRANK FORRESTER'S NEW SPORTING TALE—THE QUORNDON HOUNDS: or, a Virginian at Melton Mowbray. By Henry Wm Herbert, Esq., Author of "My Shooting Box," "The Deer Stalkers," "Warwick Woodlands," &c., with illustrations. Price 50 cts, illuminated paper cover, or 75 cts, cloth.

"The Quorndon Hounds," is an off hand, but graphic sketch of English fox hunting, mixed up with other matters of particular and general interest, and to say that it is a capital affair, would be faint praise indeed. It is one of the best of Frank Forrester's books, and worthy of repeated and very general perusal. [Item.

For sale by LONG & BRO., STRINGER & TOWNSEND, DEWITT & DAVENPORT, O. A ROORBACK, and ADRIANCE, SHERMAN & CO., New-York.

THE GREAT NOVEL of the DAY.—WHITEFRIARS: Or The Days of Charles the Second, a historical romance beautifully illustrated. A new edition of this most popular romance is now ready. Price 50 cents.

Hear what the press says of it:

This is said to be the best historical romance since "Waverly." As in a magic mirror, it gives us back the very tone and form of a departed age; the whims, possions, crimes, virtues, subtleties, the very personages—the great are and plebs in London, 1600; the heroes, hypocrites and villains—presenting a brilliant picture of historical truth varnished with the magic of romance. [Troy Journal.

This work is well written and will be read with deep interest. [Spirit of the Times.

We can cordially recommend Whitefriars as being one of the best works of fiction produced for many years. [Home Journal.

The illustrations add to the influence which the truth of history never fails to exert when blended with the magic of romance. [Saturday Courier.

It is a long while since we have had the good fortune to meet with a romance so well worthy of commendation as Whitefriars. [Golden Rule.

The interest embodied in this work is most intense, and will gain for it an immense circulation. [Sunday Times.
