No. 113 Chambers-st. General Agents.

Sold by the principal dealers in Ship and other stores, in the City of New-York.

Certificate of Dr. Chilton.

I have made a careful examination of "Alden's Steam Concentrated Milk," and find it to be prepared from pure and wholesome materials. I have used the "Milk" prepared from it, and find it to be good. It gives me pleasure to recommend it to the public as worthy of their attention, especially at this time, when so much impure and unwholesome milk is sold in this city

JAS. R. CHILTON, M. D., Chemist.

N. B.—"Alden's Concentrated Milk was awarded a Silver Medal at the late Fair of the American Institute."

New Publications.

SEQUEL TO UNCLE TOM'S CABIN.—57,000 COPIES SOLD.

TENTH EDITION NOW READY.

Everybody who has read "UNCLE TOM'S CABIN" will read this Sequel; a book equal to "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

UNCLE TOM IN ENGLAND;

OR, A PROOF THAT BLACK'S WHITE.

Notices of the Press.

UNCLE TOM IN ENGLAND.—This is another of the novelties which spring from the negro literature so rife among us. It contains thrilling scenes and graphic delineations, and will command a sale equaled only by the original "Uncle Tom." Those who have read any of the exciting publications of the day upon anti-slavery will, of course, procure this work. Its vividness is not equaled by the work of Mrs. Stowe, and those who read a page of it will be forced to continue its perusal until they reach the close of the book. [Boston Herald.

"UNCLE TOM IN ENGLAND.—This book is said to be written with consummate skill, and it is thought to be the best ever published on the institution of Slavery. The English press give it the highest meed of praise, and even assert that it rivals Mrs. Stowe's 'Uncle Tom.'" [Oswego Daily Palladium.

"We have received from A. D. Failing, No. 22 Ann-st., New-York, a copy of 'Uncle Tom in England, a Proof that Black's White.' It is represented as a sequel to 'Uncle Tom's Cabin,' and the most powerfully written work on the institution of Slavery that has ever been published. It is full of thrilling scenes of slave life, both on board the slave ship and on the plantation at the South." [Express.

"SEQUEL TO UNCLE TOM'S CABIN.—This is a work published in England, and reissued by A. D. Failing, New-York. It is a sequel to Mrs. Stowe's 'Cabin,' and is exciting considerable interest." [New-England Journal.

PRICE 25 CENTS.

A. D. FAILING, No. 21 Ann-st.,

and for sale by all booksellers.

Third Edition now Ready, 10,000 Copies Sold.

GUS HOWARD; Or, How to WIN A WIFE.—By the author of Minnie Gray, Amy Lawrence, Stanfield Hall, &c. Beautifully illustrated. Price, 50c.

In a criticism of this romance The Morning Chronicle says:

"This work abounds in thrilling interest, extraordinary adventures, and hair breadth escapes as well as in scenes of deep and tender pathos. The interest never flags; and the attention of the reader is absorbed until the very last, in tracing the eventful career of the hero and heroine."

Also, just ready, the Fifth Edition of MINNIE GRAY; or, WHO IS THE HEIR? By the author of Gus Howard, Amy Lawrence, &c. Beautifully illustrated. Price, 50c.

Also, New Editions of the following Books:

STANFIELD HALL. A Historical Romance by the author of Minnie Gray, &c. Beautifully illustrated by 16 fine engravings, from the London copy, 2 vols. Price, $1.

AMY LAWRENCE; or, THE FREEMASON'S DAUGHTER. By the author of Minnie Gray, Gus Howard, &c. Beautifully illustrated. Price, 50c.

☞ Copies of either of the above justly celebrated works will be sent to any one by return of mail, on the receipt of the price in a letter. Address the letter to the Publishers, and you will then receive the work by return mail, free of Postage.

Just Published.

FIRST LOVE: A Story of Woman's Heart. By Eugene Sue. Three volumes complete in one. Price 25 cents.

H. LONG & BROTHER, No. 63 Ann-st.

FOR SALE under MORTGAGE—A well established Magazine, enjoying a fair literary fame, and possessing a large paying subscription list. The stock embraces fine Steel Plates, stereotypes of several back volumes, with a number of bound sets, &c. To close the concern, it is offered for Cash, at less than one-half the original cost. If not disposed of at private sale this month, will be sold at auction, the mortgagee requiring an immediate settlement of his claim. Apply to J. W. R., Box 3,145 Post-Office, N.Y.

THREE YEARS IN A MAD-HOUSE.—This is a Pamphlet of 96 pages giving a true account of the barbarous and inhuman treatment of Isaac H. Hunt, the Author, by Drs. Isaac Ray and James Bates, in the Maine Insane Hospital. Also, an account of the same description of treatment of Miss Elizabeth T. Stone, by Dr. Luther V. Bell, in the McLean Asylum, Somerville, Mass., together with a multitude of other cases of abuse in these Institutions! and being a true representation of all Insane Hospitals in the New-England States, and undoubtedly all others in our country. The book will be offered for sale by the Author, to the citizens of New-York and vicinity. Price 25 cents.

A New Book by the Author of "Frank Farleigh," &c.

THE FORTUNES OF THE COLVILLE FAMILY. By the author of "Lewis Arundel," "Frank Farleigh," &c.

NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

"There is no writer of modern times who has risen to so great public favor, and in such a short time, as the author of 'Frank Farleigh and Lewis Arundel.' He has well deserved this, for his works are the careful reflexes of human nature, which almost involuntarily find an answer in the great heart of humanity. The 'Fortunes of the Colville Family' is one of the best and most sparkling of his productions." [Fraser's Magazine.

"A book which every reader will thank us for recommending. Its moral is beautiful in itself, and interwoven in a narrative replete with interest, and where the characters are exquisitely drawn and developed. It must be universally popular." [Athenæum.

"This is one of the best stories of its kind we ever remember to have read. True to the life, and abounding with wit, there is no wonder that it has already secured a large share of public patronage." [Blackwood.

Price 50 cents.

New editions of the following works are now ready:

FRANK FARLEIGH. Illustrated. Price 50 cents.

LEWIS ARUNDEL. Illustrated. Price 50 cents.

MARRYING MAN. Price 12½ cents.

In Press,

HARRY COVERDALE'S COURTSHIP: AND WHAT BECAME OF IT—from the advance sheets.

H. LONG & BROTHER, No. 43 Ann-st.

New Books,

RUTH GARNETT, by Wm. Harrson Ainsworth. Price 50 cents.

The new edition of this work will be ready on Saturday. There has been a great demand for this brilliant novel, and it has passed to a second edition in less than a week from publication, making ten thousand copies printed.

Ready next Week,

MISS SINCLAIR'S NEW WORK,

BEATRICE; Or, THE UNKNOWN RELATIVES, by Miss Sinclair, author of "Modern Accomplishments," "Holiday House," "Kate Bouverie." Price in paper 50 cents; cloth, 75 cents.

This work is indorsed by the most distinguished Clergymen in the city. As there will be a great demand for it, and as only 10,000 copies have been printed in the first edition, it will be therefore important to send in orders in season.

In Press,

MARK HURDELSTONE, by Mrs. Moodie, author of "Roughing it in the Bush," &c. Price 50 cents.

DEWIT & DAVENPORT, Publishers, Tribune Buildings, Nassau-st.

THE BOOK of the DAY.—Now ready, the Eighth Thousand of

THE LOFTY AND THE LOWLY; Or, GOOD IN ALL AND NONE ALL GOOD. By Maria J. McIntosh, author of "Two Lives," "Charms and Counter Charms," "Evenings at Donaldson Manor," &c. 2 neat vols. 12mo. Paper $1; cloth $1 50.

An eighth edition having been called for so soon after its publication sufficiently attests its great merits. Any one remitting to the publishers the price of the book can have it mailed to his address free of expense.

A few criticisms of the Press:

"As to its literary merits, we can honestly commend it as a charming story, and for its moral influence we think the admirers of Uncle Tom's Cabin will not find their dislike of slavery greatly lessened by its perusal, while they may be persuaded to cherish a kindlier feeling toward those whose lot is cast amid the institutions of the South." [Cincinnati Gazette.

"It is a book of great interest, written in a candid, truthful spirit. The arrangement of the plot and incidents is skilful, and the work abounds in passages of great pathos and of thrilling interest." [Boston Daily Advertiser.

"A good book, commendable in spirit and creditable in execution. It will make its way in public favor and win for its accomplished author the commendation of all dispassionate readers." [Daily Times.

"Written in a most admirable tone and with manifest sincerity." [Troy Whig.

"The tone of the book is conciliatory and its spirit truly feminine." [New Bedford Mercury.

"Miss McIntosh will certainly find a host of very earnest admirers of the Lofty and the Lowly." [Tribune.

"Her sketches of character and incident show that she is perfectly familiar with the ground upon which she treads." [Journal.

"We assure our readers they will arise from the perusal of these pages impressed with the important lesson they contain." [Gazette.

"The characters are depicted with force and clearness." [Phila. Inquirer.

"The most eager novel reader will find himself satisfied with the novelty of incidents with which this book is filled." [Charleston Gazette.

"Written with a great refinement of feeling." [Reading Gazette.

"The book throughout exhibits great dramatic power, fine knowledge of character, and unusual command of language." [Buffalo Com. Adv.

"It places Miss McIntosh in the front rank of American novelists." [Utica Gazette.

"We cordially recommend this noble romance." [Ontario Repository.

Daddy Cato is a fine character, and the work is one of rare interest." [The Democrat.

"One of the ablest and most absorbing tales we have ever read." [Observer.

"We commend this story to our readers as one of admirable spirit and tendency." [Evening Mirror.

"Written in a most commendable spirit, and in a style equally remarkable for simple correctness and earnest candor." [Springfield Daily Whig.

"The book is full of incident; the characters are all well drawn and the interest well kept up." [Boston Atlas.

"The general reader—our fair patrons especially—may be assured of finding a most agreeable treat in these volumes. The scenes, characters and incidents are all purely American, and of quite a domestic character." [American Courier.

Published by D. APPLETON & Co., No. 200 Broadway.

THE ABBOTTSFORD EDITION of the WAVERLY NOVELS, printed upon fine white paper, with new and beautiful type, from the last English edition, embracing the author's latest Corrections, Notes, &c., now complete in twelve volumes, demi-octavo, with illustrations.

THE NAVAL and MAIL STEAMERS of THE UNITED STATES.—By Charles B. Stuart, Engineer-in-Chief U. S. Navy. Author of "Naval Dry Docks of the United States."

The undersigned is enabled to announce to the American public, that the very favorable reception and unprecedented sale of the "Naval Dry Docks of the United States," warrants him in announcing the second of the series of NATIONAL SCIENTIFIC WORKS, by the same author, now in press, and which will be published on Tuesday, 1st March.

This number of the series contains about two hundred pages, quarto, illustrated by Thirty-six Engravings, executed in the highest style of American art, on steel, copper, stone and wood, and in the letter-press and binding is similar to the splendid volume already issued on the "Naval Dry Docks."

It is believed that this popular work, describing as it does, Naval and Mail Steamers, with beautiful engraving of the hulls and machinery of some of the finest and most celebrated steamers in the world, including the Fulton, Princeton, Mississippi, Powhatan, Arctic, Illinois and Golden Gate, will be exceedingly interesting at this time to all classes of the American public, and especially to the statesmen, merchants, engineers and mechanics of the country.

THE NATIONAL MAGAZINE.—This new work is got up in the finest style of typography and embellishment yet used by the periodicals of this country. The verdict of the press is strong in its favor.

The Christian Witness, of Boston, (Protestant Episcopal,) says:

"We think it the best and cheapest of the monthly publications."

The Indiana American says:

"This is to be THE magazine, and it may as well take its position at once."

John G. Saxe, the poet, pronounces it, in his Burlington Sentinel,

"The best magazine of its class extant."

The Rockland Gazette says:

"We value it as superior to any of the magazines for a solid and pure literature, and with our exchanges, we think it is the cheapest magazine published."

An Ohio paper (The Toledo Blade) says:

"It lends off with the literary monthies."

Another Ohio paper, (The Zanesville Times,) after eulogizing it highly adds:

"We give this notice unsolicited by either publishers, agents, or friends, but merely because the work has fallen under our observation, and we like it."

The Boston Commonwealth says:

"It is one of the leading monthlies in our country. It abounds in valuable reading, which can be taken with confidence into any family. Through the whole of its literature there is a cheerful, genial spirit of Christianity, which is like the calmness of a summer's even-tide. The letter-press and engravings are in every respect equal—we had almost said superior—to Harper's Monthly."

The Cincinnati Christian Herald says:

"Its true merits need only be known to give it an unbounded circulation."

Says the Western Recorder:

"The National has already become a universal favorite, and its popularity is a hopeful omen, indicating that the popular taste is not entirely vitiated by the literary poison afloat in the shape of monthlies."

It is only two dollars per annum. Published by CARLTON & PHILLIPS, 200 Mulberry st., New-York.

And can be obtained of Swormstedt & Poe, Cincinnati; W. M. Doughty, Chicago; J. L. Read, Pittsburgh; J. P. Meager, Boston; and of Booksellers generally throughout the country.

The March number is now ready, with the following contents, and fourteen fine illustrations.
