New Publications.

Will be Published on the 19th of March.

GRAHAM'S AMERICAN MONTHLY MAGAZINE—APRIL, 1853. Vol. XLII. No. 4.—The April number of GRAHAM is the second of the New Series—enlarged to 144 pages, and it is certainly the very best number that we have ever furnished to our readers. The articles are mainly original, and from approved sources. The illustrations by Deveraux challenge admiration, and a comparison with those which appear in any other American Periodical, will satisfy our vast army of readers of the superior beauty of these delightful sketches.

Mr. Read's novel opens charmingly, and, illustrated as it is, is certainly the most attractive paper of the number. The article upon Whipple is discriminative and just, and as he has long been one of the favorites of Graham's readers, will be especially welcome. Many of the other papers are of very superior merit.

GRAHAM'S MAGAZINE, since its enlargement, contains more reading matter than any other, as its printed page is larger; and it shall be our care that the quality shall be of the best: for, in spite of the foolish bluster in some quarters, we intend to maintain for "Graham" the front rank in merit.

THE FORTUNES OF THE COLVILLE FAMILY, by Frank E. Smedley, author of Frank Fairleigh, Lewis Arundel, &c. The following are a few unsolicited notices of the Press:

"The Fortunes of the Colville Family," by the author of "Frank Fairleigh," "Lewis Arundel," &c. This capital romance has just been sent to us by the publishers, H. Long & Brother, New-York. It is written with great power and felicity—presenting the two phases of life, opulence and poverty, in marvelous contrast, and with such vividness that the most hasty reader cannot fail to receive their teachings. Each character is drawn with an object—we find no superfluous either in the plot, the persons, the narrative or the dedications; all is natural, emphatic, graceful. There is a sense of morality which adds much strength to this book, as well as a sprinkling of pure wit, which freshens and gives relish to its details. We heartily recommend it to public approval. [Buff. Morn. Express.

"There is no writer, of modern times, who has risen to so great popularity, and in such a short time, as the author of Frank Fairleigh and Lewis Arundel. He has well deserved this, for his works are the careful reflexes of human nature, which always involuntarily find an answer in the great heart of humanity. The "Fortunes of the Colville Family" is one of the best and most sparkling of his productions. [Fraser's Magazine.

"A book which every reader will thank us for recommending. Its moral is beautiful in itself, and interwoven in a narrative replete with interest, and where the characters are exquisitely drawn and developed. It must be universally popular." [Athenæum.

New editions of the following works are now ready:
FRANK FARLEIGH—Illus. Price 50 cents.
LEWIS ARUNDEL—Illus. Price 50 cents.
MARRYING MAN—Price 12½ cents.
H. LONG & BROTHER, No. 43 Ann-st.

This Day Published,

THE THREE PIRATES; Or, THE CRUISE OF THE TORNADO, beautifully illustrated. By Harry Hazel, author of "Yankee Jack," "The Burglars," "Adventures of a Sailor Boy," &c.

This is a startling portraiture of pirate life, and carries the reader back to the days of the ferocious Blackbeard and the Buccaneers. The character and exploits of those roving demons of the sea are depicted, if we may so speak, with an awful power by the author, which, although it thrills the soul with horror, rivets the interest to a degree of intensity that we have not seen equaled in any work of a similar kind. The work also contains many scenes of pathos and humor, and in every point of view is one of the best romances of the sea that has been produced in a long time. Price, 25 cents.

N. B.—Now ready, a fine edition of DOW, JR.'S SERMONS, 2 vols. in one, cloth.
H. LONG & BRO., Publishers, No. 43 Ann-st.

Beatrice,

OR THE UNKNOWN RELATIVES.—By Catherine Sinclair, author of Holiday House, Modern Accomplishments, Sir Edward Graham, &c.

Price in paper, 50 cents; cloth, 75 cents.

MORE TESTIMONY.

"Beatrice," since its appearance on Monday, has produced an effect upon the religious public even greater than was anticipated. Among the additional testimonials of its power and value, as an instrument of religious truth, the publishers have received the following

From Rev. J. W. Taggart, Pastor of the Sixteenth Baptist Church, New-York.

MESSRS. DEWITT & DAVENPORT—Gentlemen: I have read the book entitled Beatrice, or the Unknown Relatives, with more than ordinary interest, and believe the author has succeeded in bringing to light the depraved efforts and diabolical tricks of the Jesuits, in a manner peculiarly readable and highly calculated to guard the young mind against the insinuations and dangerous tendencies of Popery.

Very Respectfully yours, &c., J. W. TAGGART,
Pastor of the Sixteenth Baptist Church, N. Y.

From Rev. A. R. Van Nest, D.D., Pastor of the Twenty-First st. Dutch Reformed Church, New-York.

MESSRS. DEWITT & DAVENPORT—Gentlemen: I am much obliged to you for the new work of Miss Sinclair's, "Beatrice." I have read it with much enthusiasm. As a work of fancy it is deeply interesting, and we must all fear that its vivid pictures are only too true to real life. The book cannot but do good. You have full liberty to use my recommendation.

Very respectfully yours,
ABM. R. VAN NESS.

From Rev. Isaac Westcott, Pastor of the Lasalle-st. Baptist Church.

MESSRS. DEWITT & DAVENPORT—Gents: I have read "Beatrice," and I am satisfied that it is well calculated to guard Protestants, and especially Protestant Parents, against the wiles of Popery. Yours truly,
ISAAC WESTCOTT.

From Rev. James Millett, Rector of Church of the Holy Martyrs.

MESSRS. DEWITT & DAVENPORT—Gents: If my humble name will add any weight to the deserved popularity of "Beatrice," you may freely use it.

Yours respectfully, JAMES MILLET.

Extract of a letter from Rev. Joseph H. Price, D.D., Rector of St. Stephen's Church.

MESSRS. DEWITT & DAVENPORT—Gentlemen: I would be glad to see the book ("Beatrice") extensively circulated.

Yours truly, JOSEPH H. PRICE,
Rector of St. Stephen's Church.

Extract of a letter from Rev. H. J. Eddy, of the Cannon-st. Baptist Church, New-York.

To Messrs DEWITT & DAVENPORT—Gentlemen: I have read "Beatrice," and am well pleased with the plot and moral of the tale. Allow me to express my hope that it may soon be in the hands of all our youth—Catholic and Protestant. Yours truly, H. J. EDDY.

Extract of a letter from Rev. L. Covell, D.D., Pastor of the Rose Hill Baptist Church, Lexington-av., New-York.

MESSRS. DEWITT & DAVENPORT—Gentlemen: I have perused "Beatrice" with interest, and I recognize in its pages a graphic description of an iniquitous system, curtling at the fountain every feeling of humanity. I cherish the hope that its publication may open the eyes of some, at least, and do good. Yours, &c., L. COVELL.

NEW-YORK, Feb. 12, 1853.

MESSRS DEWITT & DAVENPORT—Gentlemen: I have perused "Beatrice" with deep interest, and I consider it a masterly exposition of Jesuitism, that masterpiece of the devil of all his evil inventions, since his original seduction of our first parents in Paradise to the present time. I hope, therefore, that this excellent work may be read by every family in and out of our highly privileged country; containing, as it does, a trumpet toned warning to every reader to beware of the abyss of ruin into which said system of iniquity has already plunged its millions of the human family. You are at liberty to use my name in connexion with the publication of this opportune portraiture as you may deem most expedient. Your sincere friend, JOHN S. EBAUGH,
Pastor of the German Reformed Church in the City of New-York.

Such has been the unprecedented demand for the book, that two editions, of 10,000 copies in all, are now exhausted, and many orders still remain unfilled.

DAISY BURNS, by JULIA KAVANAH.—T. APPLETON & Co., No. 200 Broadway, have just published

DAISY BURNS. A tale. By Julia Kavanah, author of "Nathalie," "Madeleine," "Women of Christianity," &c; two parts, 12mo.; paper cover 75c., 1 vol. cloth $1.

Every character in the work bears the stamp of the author's genius—a genius which has produced three or four of the most charming books in the language. The present volume is so absorbing in interest that its pages, numbering nearly 100 glide along the reader's eye almost unperceived, and ere he is aware of it he has reached the end, only to wish the story were longer. Its style is unusually fresh and invigorating. [Worcester Palladium.

A very delightful tale. * * * The charm of the story is its naturalness. It is perfectly quiet, domestic and truthful. In the calm force and homely realities of its scenes it reminds us of Miss Austen. [Times.

All her books are written with talent and a woman's true feeling. [U. S. Gazette.

It is full of deep feeling, tenderness, pure feminine sentiment and moral truth. [Albany Knickerbocker.

Among all of Miss Kavanah's popular works, none is likely to eclipse this in public favor. Its personages are well characterized, and have an air of pleasing reality about them; the incidents of the story are interesting, and its narrative portions are written with grace and elegance of style. [Courier and Enquirer.

MADAME SONTAG as she IS, not as she WAS!—THE MUSICAL WORLD AND TIMES for the week ending Saturday, March 19, (now ready,) contains a criticism on Sontag from the pen of Lista, the celebrated pianist, composer and critic, in which her capacities as a singer and as an actress are rigorously and mercilessly discussed. Every lover of music should read it. THE MUSICAL WORLD AND TIMES is full of other good things; Musical News, Stories, Criticisms, Anecdotes, Scientific and Humorous articles, three pieces of choice Music, and a valuable selection of miscellaneous matter—a tip-top number! Price 6¼ cents a copy. For sale at periodical stores and at the office, No. 257 Broadway, where subscriptions are also received.
