POPULATION OF LINCOLN, 65,000.

IN THE LIBRARY.

The first original article by Count Tolstol, that has ever been published in an American magazine, appears in the February issue of the Cosmopolitan, with a number of interesting photographic reproductions, one of them being a picture of Tolstol guiding a plow in his Russian fields. Brander Matthews appears with his first article upon Some Latter-day Humorists. Mr. Matthews' contributions constitute one of the most interesting features of the magazine. The third in the series of colored frontpieces is a delightful sketch from McVicker, illustrating a character in Mrs. Van Rensselaer Cruger's new story, "The Mademoiselle's Reseda." Ex-Postmaster General James presents an article upon the Welsh in the United States, liberally illustrated by portraits of prominent men who are of Welsh extraction. Women Clerks in New York, by the Marquise Clara Lanza. A charming article on the old Chateaux in Touraine by Miss Elsie De Wolfe; Prince Talleyrand and his Memoirs by H. de Bury. Amateur Portraiture in Photography, and A Remarkable Musical History by William Fols, F. R. S., the well known Englishman, are other prominent features of the February issue. Price 25 cents. (Cosmopolitan Pub. Co., Madison Square, N. Y.) This excellent publication and THE COURIER will be sent one year for three dollars. Call at or address this office, 1124 N street.

I have a cousin who is a printer, says ex-Mayor J. B. Loughran of North Des Moines, Iowa. Some years ago he was employed in his city where they were printing circulars for Chamberlain. He had a deep seated cold and terrible cough, and while setting up copy he made up his mind to buy a bottle. It cured him and that was the first I ever knew of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I have been strongly in its favor ever since. My own experience and that of my family convince me that this remedy is the best in the world. That may be strong language, but that is what I think. For sale by A. Shader, Druggist.

SOUTH LINCOLN.

A very pleasant social was held Wednesday evening at the Plymouth Congregational church. A programme of music and singing with coffee and sandwiches were a few of the enjoyable features indulged in by a large number of happy people, old and young. All went home well pleased with the evening's entertainment.

The friends of Mrs. Angie F. Newman will be glad to hear that under the skillful treatment of Mrs. Catlin her strength is rapidly returning, and her friends feel in hopes she will soon be able to walk as well as ever.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Bergeron and daughter of St. John, Penn., were the guests of Mrs. Josie Lancton, this week. Mr. B. has gone into business in the city.

Glen, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Druse, died on Sunday. The funeral took place on Monday from the family residence, Knob Hill.

Mrs. C. M. Dunbar of Maquoketa, Iowa, mother of Architect Fiske, is making her son a pleasant visit at his home, 1131 O street.

B. L. Curtis from Owatonna, Minn., brother of Mrs. W. N. Abbott, made her a pleasant visit and left on Friday for Dakota.

Little Jean Lane, daughter of Superintendent Lane, is quite sick with croup at his home, 1313 C street.

Frances Lane is expected home from Omaha the first of March.

AUNT SAMANTHA

Although "Aunt Louisa Eldredge had quite made up her mind never to leave New York in a professional capacity, she was persuaded by the management of the "Dr. Bill" company to play her original role on the road. It would be a hard task to find a substitute for "Aunt" Louisa.

Max Maretzek's new book, "Sharps and Flats," has charmed musical New York. The gifted composer is often seen on Broadway as chipper as he was a score of years ago. Report has it that he will conduct the Italian opera at the Metropolitan Opera House under Henry E. Abbey, and he could find no better man the world over.

Herr Xaver Scharwenka, Court Pianist to the Emperor of Germany, who will make a professional tour of the United States this winter, under the direction of Mr. John Lavine, is considered a thorough representative of the modern school of German musicians, in which may also be included his brother, Philip, Jean Louis Nicode and Moritz Moszkowski. He is also equally celebrated as a composer and executant.

A Welcome Enterprise. Before the last days of January expired there was born to Lincoln another enterprise that will in course of time become a great factor and boon to both the purchasing and merchantile interests of this city and state. Reference is made to the new Enterprise Commission company which has recently been organized, having at its helm some of our best known and most influential citizens. David W. Brown being the president and general manager, C. W. Kaley vice president and general agent, and J. D. Parke secretary. These names in themselves should be ample recommendation for the establishment which opens its doors to the public at 1308 O street on Tuesday next. The object of the new concern is to receive on consignment merchandise of all descriptions and to offer the same at auction to the public. Sales will be conducted every afternoon and evening and a strict order, customary with the finer commission houses of the metropolitan cities, will be maintained, and every attention tending to transaction of a legitimate commission business will be fully executed. The store room, which by the way is centrally located, is one of the lightest and most modern places of business in the city. It has been especially fitted up and presents a very neat and attractive appearance. Ladies will be welcomed at all times, and provisions for their comfort have already been fully considered. In fact Mr. Kaley, of the firm, who will personally conduct the sales, is noted for his affability of manner and will see to it that every bid made by the fair sex will receive prompt and courteous attention.

The Enterprise Commission company will receive goods—all new, and nothing old or shoddy, as stated above, on consignment. These consignments consist of dry goods, clothing, hats, caps, glassware, crockery, china, jewelry, watches, clocks, silverware, house furnishing goods, and in fact a diversified classification of all kinds of merchandise placed upon the market for the purpose of realizing speedy returns for the owners thereof.

Sales will commence next Wednesday and every afternoon and evening thereafter. It will pay you to call and witness one of these sales. Anything that you may want offered, and certainly in all the various goods shown, there will be something you will want, will be put up for your consideration.

The Burlington's New Line to the Black Hills.

The Burlington Route takes pleasure in announcing to the public the completion of its new line to Deadwood, South Dakota, and the formal opening of same for business.

This event marks an epoch in the history of Nebraska, in opening up to the trade centers of the state and the Missouri Valley, new and valuable territory and a country immensely rich in coal and mineral deposits, whose possibilities for the future promise much for the commercial and manufacturing prosperity of the state.

The line is substantially constructed and thoroughly equipped, the object being to afford a service that is first class in every particular, and in keeping with other through lines of the Burlington System.

It is the shortest and quickest line from Missouri River cities and principal points in Nebraska to Deadwood, Hot Springs, Custer and Hill City, South Dakota, Merino and Newcastle, Wyo., and all points in the Black Hills.

Through trains are run daily with Pullman Sleeping Cars from Omaha and Lincoln to Deadwood without change, making connection at Lincoln and Omaha with all trains of the Burlington Route to and from all points East, West and South.

For further information apply to any Burlington agent, or to

COURIER CONTRIBUTIONS.

An actor had a lion coat. It had no pockets in it. And down the front no buttons were. He always had to pin it. When e'er a hole did show itself Himself he had to darn it. Until so many holes there were He was compelled to do— It. He knew to dance and play the drum And sing just like a linnet. But when he put (say) run on his hair His stomach wasn't in it.

This Man. A man along the sidewalk strode A little the worse for drink, A gutter in his pathway Looked to him like a river's brink. He was against a gentleman When he thought stood in his way. He struck him a blow ('Twould have felled an ox) And a kick he'd the insult repay.

THE OTHER MAN. He could not strike or call for help. He could not fly nor flee. He could not even cry aloud nor could he noise—some be. He could not walk nor could he talk. He could not hear or see. He was made to be a silent man. A cigar store stand was he.

'Twas the Cat. She was standing on the terrace With her eyes turned to the sky, And was mewing some quaint ditty Maybe "Coming thro' the rye." As I watched her in her posing She reminded me of that Which the lovers of the feline tribe Would call a lovely cat. —LIKE STONE.

Smiles. Why was Eve made miserable? Because she had too much curiosity. Why is life the greatest of all conundrums? Because everybody has to give it up.

In what way do balloons resemble some men? Because they are filled with gas.

Why is a kiss without a mustache like an egg without salt? Because both are rare.

Why did Adam bite the apple when Eve gave it to him? Because he had no knife to cut it with.

Why ought Adam and Eve to have been the happiest people in the world? Because they were the most perfect pair in existence.

A little girl asked her mother this riddle: "Three little hopper toads sat on a tree. One hopped off but still there were three." Her mother could not guess the riddle and the child replied: "Because one hopped right back again." Her mother asked where she heard it. The bright child replied: "No where. I just thought it up myself." —CHIEF-PULPNESS.

Consumptives obtain relief by using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. No other cure is effective.

How to Break Up a Severe Cold.

From the Virginia City, Mont., Madisontian. When we find a medicine we know to possess genuine merit, we consider it a duty and we take pleasure in telling the public what it is. Such a medicine we found Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. By the use of this syrup we have relieved, in a few hours, severe colds, and in the course of two or three days, entirely broken them up as has several of our friends to whom we have recommended it. It is all it is represented to be by the manufacturers. If you have a cough and want to stop it, Chamberlain's Cough Syrup will do the work. For sale by A. Shader, Druggist.

Doctor Koch's Discovery.

Dr. Koch's great remedy seems to prove efficacious in those cases where the patient has contracted consumption in low lying countries. Almost all the level European districts where the disease exists it is traceable to purely climatic conditions, the moist atmosphere being a fine breeding region for the microbe. But in the high and dry altitude traversed by the Union Pacific, the original Overland Route, consumption not only cannot exist but is surely curable in its early stages. An this is testified to by thousands who have regained health and strength in the life-giving air of the mountains. 3-1114-191.
