(Received on the Irish night with great applause.)
HERR KŒNIG.
Quadrille—(First time).....Jullien
GREAT EXHIBITION QUADRILLE.
Founded on the world's Fair in London in 1851, and expressly composed for that occasion by M. Jullien, performed with the greatest success for upward of two hundred consecutive nights in England, and considered throughout Europe as M. Jullien's most popular composition.
DESCRIPTION OF THE QUADRILLE.
INTRODUCTION—The Music of Northern Nations—the Themes taken from a Sclavonian Melody and the Russian National Hymn.
FIRST FIGURE—The French "Pas Accellere," the grand "Pas Redouble," and "The Marseillaise."
SECOND FIGURE—The "Spanish Sapatendo," with variations for Clarionet, by M. Wuille; Flute by M. Reichert; Oboe, by M. Lavigne; and Flageolet, by M. Collinet.
INTRODUCTION TO THE THIRD FIGURE—The "Aurora Serenade" —a Russian love song to the universe, with the solo for the Cornu Mass, by M. Wuille, being the first time this beautiful and ancient instrument, perfected by M. Sax, has been heard in New-York.
THIRD FIGURE—The "Neapolitan Tarantella," concluding with the "Piedmontese Monferina"—the Castagnettes by M. Collinet.
FOURTH FIGURE—French Air "Parent Pour La Suite," taken from an ancient Eastern melody. Solo, Cornet-à-Piston, Herr Koenig; Solo, Opheicleide, Mr. S. Hughes.
FIFTH FIGURE—
THE MARCH OF ALL NATIONS.
Founded on the National Melodies of America, France, England, Russia, Turkey, Poland, Hungary, Spain, Italy, India, China.
FINALE—The morning of the inauguration of the World's Fair is supposed to have arrived. The great city which, for the first time, shelters such masses of people from all parts of the known world as yet assembled, is seen at daybreak the festival is ushered in by the pealing forth of the London Chimes, echoed far and near from each surrounding belfry. Soon the city is in motion, and the multitudes hasten toward the same goal, all eager to behold the stupendous realization of human industry. The various military bands perform the National Anthems of their several countries. Here we hear "The Russian Hymn"—there that of Austria, with the French republican air "Mourir Pour La Patrie," "The East India War March," "The Chinese Long Gong," "The Polish Cracovienne," and "The Spanish Cabcoca." Anon "Yankee Doodle" breaks upon the ear. At length one tremendous shout burst forth, and the gladly welcomed nations join in the English National Anthem, "God Save the Queen," performed first time in double counterpoint simultaneously with "The March of all Nations," (the one being in ¾ time, and the other in ¼ time,) and secondly, by the full Orchestra, accompanied by the peals of bells and salutes of artillery.
PART II.
