AN EXQUISITE LOVE TALE.
Published This Morning.
THE LOVER UPON TRIAL: A NOVEL.
By Miss STUART; author of "Olivia," &c. &c. Price 25 cents.
PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.
Messrs. STRINGER & TOWNSEND invite the attention of all lovers of good and wholesome reading to their new MINOR LIBRARY OF CHOICE TALES, in which will at all times be found the finest efforts of modern literature. The public may rest assured that every work of this series may be taken up with confidence, and read with corresponding interest and pleasure. The leading foreign magazines (to which we shall look as the principal source of supply for this Library, which shall, however, be additionally enriched by occasional productions of home writers of acknowledged talent and celebrity) abound in short tales, from the pens of the ablest writers in Great Britain. These tales, although large enough for a medium sized book are yet too small for our larger LIBRARY OF STANDARD NOVELS which, like the present series, embraces only the best works of the best authors, and enjoys a larger patronage and a wider popularity than any similar enterprise ever undertaken in this country. All such minor productions, when bearing the impress of unmistakeable talent, shall be incorporated into our "MINOR LIBRARY," and placed before the American public with all the advantages which new and readable type, good printing, and firm white paper can give them. The volumes of this series will be found admirable companions for leisure hours; they will serve to shorten the journeys of all railroad travelers, and while away an evening at home most delightfully, as each can be very conveniently read at a single sitting.
The first "Choice Tale" selected is Miss STUART'S exquisite Love Story,
THE LOVER UPON TRIAL.
In this charming little Novel is embodied the same brilliancy of style, the same capacity to analyze, and depict the intensest emotions that the author has exhibited in her previous works. The principle characters of the story are truthfully sketched, and with much power. The dialogue is lively and spirited. To read these pages is like being introduced into the sterling realities of life, idealized by education and refinement.
Then, beneath all its wit and interest, this work has a deep moral, and conveys an admirable lesson to the gentler sex. "The author has a quick and delicate perception of the external indications of emotion, and has a happy talent for expressing the thoughts and passions."
Published by STRINGER & TOWNSEND, No. 222 Broadway; and for sale by all the principal Booksellers throughout the Union.

CHAMBERS'S EDINBURGH JOURNAL, No. 9, (weekly) is this morning published. Price 5 cents. Sold by all booksellers and news agents.

THE MOST ASTONISHING BOOK of the SEASON.—HIGHLY INTERESTING TO THE CHRISTIAN COMMUNITY. Will be published in a few days, in one volume, elegantly illustrated,
THE RAPPERS; OR,
THE MYSTERIES, FALLACIES AND ABSURDITIES
OF
SPIRIT-RAPPING, TABLE-TURNING AND ENTRANCEMENT
By a Searcher After Truth.
The publishers, in announcing this work, feel convinced that it will be received with universal satisfaction by that large majority of the public who are opposed to all kinds of delusion and charlatanism, and to all systems of religious belief which are pernicious in their tendency to the morals and well-being of society. The design of the above work is to show that what is called "Spiritualism" or the communication of the spirits of the dead with the living, by means of rapping, turning tables and speaking through the living, while the latter are in a state of entrancement, is of this delusive, charlatanical and pernicious character. The author of the volume has visited a large number of the "spiritual circles" (as they are called) of every class in the city of New-York, and the revelations which he makes are such as will astonish the community, both by the curious way in which the alleged spirits manifest themselves to mortals and by the magnitude and extent of the delusive and pernicious influence which these "circles" are creating. Full descriptions of the different kinds of "mediums"—rapping, tipping and speaking—are given, and the whole doctrine and practical workings of modern Spiritualism set forth in a light as startling as it is true.
