SPIRIT MANIFESTATIONS EXAMINED AND EXPLAINED, JUDGE EDMONDS REFUTED; Or, AN EXPOSITION OF THE INVOLUNTARY POWERS AND INSTINCTS OF THE HUMAN MIND—By John Bovee Dods, author of the Philosophy of Electrical Psychology, &c. Price in cloth 75 cents.

The following notice from the New-York Tribune speaks for itself:

"Few better books in opposition to the so-called Spiritual Manifestations have been called forth by the existing controversy on the subject, than the volume before us. It is uncommonly readable, as we can testify from actual experiment—calm and philosophical in its tone, free from abuse or ridicule of the spiritualists, and abounding in facts for the support of its views. * * No one whose mind is given to the investigation of the matter should neglect the perusal of this volume. Apart from the peculiar views it maintains, it is both curious and instructive."

Agents wanted, to whom a liberal discount will be made. Sent by mail to all parts of the country, postage paid, for 75 cents.

CAPTAIN FOOTE'S AFRICA AND THE AMERICAN FLAG.—D. APPLETON & Co., Nos. 346 and 348 Broadway, publish on Tuesday the following interesting work: AFRICA AND THE AMERICAN FLAG. By Commander Andrew H. Foote, Lieut. Commanding U. S. brig Perry, on the Coast of Africa, 1850–'51. 1 vol. 12mo., 379 pages; illustrated with handsomely-tinted lithographic plates. Contents: Discoveries by French and Portuguese along the Coast—Slave Trade Systematized—Horrors of the Middle Passage—African Nations—Formation of the American Colonization Society—Disposal of Recaptured Slaves by the American Government—The Commonwealth of Liberia—Thomas H. Buchanan—Use of the American Flag in the Slave Trade—Slavers at Basse—Expedition Against Them—Conflict—Death of King Bentreral—Expedition of Buchanan against Gaytumbe—Death of Buchanan—His Character—Condition of Liberia as a Nation—Aspect of Liberia to a Visitor—Condition of the People compared with that of their Race in the United States—Schools—Condition of the Slaves on board of the Slave Vessels—Capture of the Slave bark Pons—Affair with the Natives near Cape Palmas—Cruise of the Perry—Abuse of the American Flag—An Arrangement made with the British Commodore for the Joint cruising of the Perry and the steamer Cyclops—Capture of the American Slave-ship Martha—Claims to Brazilian Vessels illegally—Letters found on board illustrative of the Slave Trade—St. Helena—Appearance of the Island—Island of Madeira—Interference of the British Consul with the Louisa Benton—Necessity of Squadrons for Protection of Commerce and Citizens Abroad.

This interesting volume makes us acquainted with very important facts connected with the efforts of the American Government to suppress the Slave-Trade on the Coast of Africa. Lieut. Foote not only prepared before us a record of what occurred while he was in command of the U. S. brig Perry, but gives us an account of the History and Government of the African Race—their manners and customs, an account of the establishment of the Commonwealth of Liberia, its condition, prospects, &c., &c. It abounds in every variety of incident and adventure, and will, from the very novelty of the subject, have a wide sale.

D. Appleton & Co., have just published the 5th thousand, RUSSIA AS IT IS. By Count A. De Gurowski. One neat vol., 12mo., pp. 328; well printed. Price $1; cloth.

"The author takes no superficial, empirical view of his subject, but collecting a rich variety of facts, brings the lights of a profound philosophy to their explanation. His work indeed develops no essential defect—it is a minute and accurate in its statistics—it attends in lively pictures to society, manners and character." * * "Wherever writers obtain an accurate notion of the internal condition of Russia, the nature and extent of her resources, and the practical influence of her institutions, will here find better materials for the purpose than in any single volume now extant."

With Original Illustrations from Designs by Billings. Price 88 cents. "A purely imaginative and very charmingly-written romance is 'Crystalline.' It will enhance the already high reputation of its author. We have followed the little heroine through all her reverses and triumphs with unabated interest. * * The style is singularly graceful and vigorous." &c. [Knickerbocker Magazine. Just Published—Third Thousand. UP THE RIVER. By F. W. Shelton. 1 vol. 12mo. With 16 elegant Engravings from Original designs. $1 25. "It is full of the country; trees wave, and the sweet breath of the new-mown hay is therein, with touches of pathos, humor and good-hearted feelings, while, through all, is a hidden stream of true poetry, like a clear rill, runs the even varying, conversational style of one of the most captivating imagery writers of the day." [N. Y. Daily Times. "Chatting of every-day country life in a style of freshness and naivete." [N. Y. Tribune. "There are few books in which the English language is written with such purity and taste, and we cordially commend this book to all who love the charms which Nature to her votaries yields." [Springfield Republican. Third Thousand: THE RECTOR OF ST. BARDOLPH'S; Or, SUPERANNUATED. By F. W. Shelton, A. M. 1 vol. 12mo. Price $1. "This simple but beautiful sketch is worthy a place in literature by the side of the 'Vicar of Wakefield' and the 'Poor Vicar.'" [Newburyport Herald. "Almost another Vicar, as described by Zschokke or Goldsmith." [Evening Mirror. "Characterized by the peculiarities of this favorite and delightful writer." [Express. PUBLISHED THIS DAY.—THE TURKISH QUESTION. By Count A. DE GUROWSKI. Price 12½ Cents. WM. TAYLOR & Co., No. 18 Ann-st., New-York.

NEW BOOK, PERIODICAL and NEWSPAPER ESTABLISHMENT, BALTIMORE, Md.—WM. TAYLOR & Co. beg leave respectfully to inform the citizens of Baltimore and its vicinity, that they have opened a new establishment at the corner of Baltimore and Charles streets, for the purpose of carrying on a general Book and Publication business, and where will be found, at all times, every new and popular Book, Magazine, Newspaper, &c., as soon as they may be issued from the press. W. T. having had more than fourteen years personal experience in this peculiar line in this city, flatters himself that he is competent to anticipate and provide for the wants of the literary and reading community. The new store will be opened this morning, May the 6th, at which time he invites all his old friends and customers, and the public generally, to come and examine his stock. He hopes they will make his store a place of frequent resort, and expects by his business habits and attention to their interests, to commend himself to their favor as heretofore. He avails himself of this opportunity, also, to return his sincere thanks to this community for the patronage bitherto so liberally extended to him. The stock of PLAIN and FANCY STATIONERY, NEW BOOKS by the most popular authors, bound and in cheap forms, are worthy the attention of all. WM. TAYLOR & Co., Corner of Baltimore and Charles-sts., Baltimore, Md., and 18 Ann-st., New-York.

VARA; Or, THE CHILD OF ADOPTION. 12mo. Price $1. "This is a beautiful volume. It commences its sketch with a missionary family on one of the Pacific islands. Nature there had lavished her richest charms, and the eye roamed, delighted with her scenes. But sin abounded in all its forms and made that otherwise enchanting island repulsive to the Christian heart, and wonderfully training a young family of children for the wave of virtue and religion. These devoted missionaries had three children; two of them died young, leaving but one survivor. The desolate father and mother loved this little daughter fondly, and the more so, as she represented all of that little group which had existed, and was a source so much joy in the distant lonely home. It cost them much pain toful struggle to think of parting with their little Vara, then ten years of age; but, after much reflection and prayer, they resolved to send her to America to be educated. A pious family on her arrival adopted her, and with them she lived and became a pious, intelligent girl, full of charms, the delight of all that knew her. At length her father and mother visited America, and she married a pious, faithful missionary, and returned with them to their island home, and entered upon her toils with earnestness and unfeigned love. The whole sketch is full of interest, and receives many impressive lessons from the nature and trials of missionary life. The book will be found profitable in every pious family." EXTRAORDINARY WORK! MARRIAGE: Its History, Character, and Results; its Sanctities and its Profanities; its Science and its Facts; Demonstrating its influence as a Civilized Institution on the Happiness of the Individual and the Progress of the Race. By T. L. and Mary Gove Nichols. "We have attentively perused this book, and are free to endorse our unqualified admiration of the work and its accomplished authors. It is a volume in our literature which no man or woman in the field of letters has ever yet had the courage to supply. The want, the great want, of humanity has been met, and no book ever yet written, in our opinion, is better calculated to work so great a good. The sentiments of the gifted authors are expressed fearlessly and boldly, by may God be said to be for the truths they have so nobly spoken. While many from a sickly delicacy or mawkish sensibility may condemn it, the great heart of humanity will beat a thrilling response, and the future ages will witness innumerable monuments to the memory of Mary Nichols and her gifted husband, not, indeed, of marble, but in the perfect bodies and happy hearts of men and women, made so by the practical application of the sound principles inculcated in this great and good book, which bears the unmistakable marks of genius on every page. "The price of the work is $1, sent by mail. Address T. L. NICHOLS, No. 303 Broadway, New-York." [N. Y. Messenger of Light, May 6.

From The Pennsylvania School Journal. "GRIMSHAW'S HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES, Revised and Corrected, with additional Chapters to the Peace with Mexico in 1848. By Dr. A. H. GRIMSHAW (son of the author.) 424 pages. Published by LIPPINCOTT, GRAMBO & Co. Philadelphia. "We take to see good old School Books, and nothing is hazarded in calling Grimshaw's History of the United States one of the best of this class—rescued from the danger of losing the place they have so long and so usefully filled, by new editions and such improvements as keep them fairly and fully up to the advanced state of the subject to which they relate. We knew William Grimshaw well, and knew him to be a just minded, clear headed, learned and industrious scholar, and one abundantly capable of supplying a plain, natural and safe history in language adapted and beneficial to youth. The effort of the son to keep the admirable work of the father in its appropriate front rank, as a School-book, not only deserves all praise for the motive, but will be found on examination, to merit high commendation of the manner in which it has been performed. His improvements are, 1st, an introductory chapter on the alleged discovery of America, prior to that of Columbus, by the Northmen; others at the end, bringing our history down to the close of the Mexican war; dates in the margin throughout; and questions put at the foot of each page. The work is now in such a shape, as to form and matter, as to place it on a footing of equality with the very best extant."

NEW-YORK CITY DIRECTORY 1854-'55. Price $2 25. Published by CHARLES R. RODE, late Doggett & Rode, No. 161 Broadway. The canvass for this work being nearly completed, any person whose name has not been obtained is particularly requested to leave his name at the above office. The public is respectfully informed that although the size of the Directory will be much increased and the information elaborated, the price will not be changed. The expense of a very large edition of the City Directory approximates closely to the price at which it is sold, and no reputable work can be made unless for a work very inferior to any which the publisher would be willing to issue. Subscribers and other purchasers of the above work can depend upon its high character for accuracy and completeness being sustained, and no doubt the unpleasant experience of the last two years will be sufficient caution against a merely speculative affair, at however small a price it may be offered.
