New-York Lung Institute, No. 6 Bond-st.—This Institution is established for the exclusive TREATMENT of ALL DISEASES of the LUNGS and THROAT, by the inhalation of medicated vapor, as the only medical treatment for the cure of any kind is given, into the stomach. The unparalleled success that has attended the system of practice is far greater and more satisfactory than the old antiquated method of making a drug-shop of the stomach. Physicians are cordially invited to witness its success in cases of Consumption, Bronchitis, or Asthma. The plan of inhalation adopted at the LUNG INSTITUTE is a simple, new and novel, and we are happy to say meets with the attention and approbation of all medical men who have examined it. Patients, besides using the remedy constantly, whatever their duties may be, have access to rooms filled with medicated air, daily or otherwise, as their case may require. Its success in Bronchial Complaints are truly astonishing, even after a few days' treatment. All patients are allowed the benefit of one week's trial, without charge, if they desire it. Patients received from 9 till 4 o'clock every day. Under the charge and direction of Dr. G. D. SANBORN.

Rock Island.—The advertiser proposes establishing a COMMISSION and FORWARDING HOUSE at the western termination of the Rock Island Railroad, on the Mississippi. Reference of the highest kind. Parties wishing to make arrangements please address FORWARDING and COMMISSION, at the office of this paper.

Diseases of the Lungs.—Drs. R. & J. HUNTER, Physicians for Diseases of the Lungs may be consulted daily, between the hours of 9 and 4. Office No. 26 Broadway, second door above Prince-st.

The process of administering Medicine by Inhalation so successful in the treatment of Diseases of the Lungs, was introduced by Dr. R. HUNTER several years since, and is fully explained in his work just published by Messrs. STRINGER & TOWNSEND, and for sale by all Booksellers. Price 25 cents—Cloth 50 cents.

Dysentery, Diarrhea, Cholera and Cholera Morbus, in all stages are controlled and cured by Dr. McCLINTOCK'S DIARRHŒA CORDIAL and CHOLERA PREVENTIVE, the unfailing remedy used by a leading physician in his practice during the last thirty years. Price 25 cents and 50 cents per bottle. Sold by all Druggists, and by A. CUSHMAN & Co., No. 122 Fulton-st.

Why Don't He Go to Winfield?—GRAND EXCURSIONS to this delightful village every MONDAY, WEDNESDAY and FRIDAY—only three miles from the Williamsburgh Ferries, and a short distance above the Calvary Cemetery. M. JULLIEN'S BENEFIT
AND CONCERT D'ADIEU.
AND
MOST POSITIVELY HIS LAST APPEARANCE
IN AMERICA,
ON MONDAY NIGHT, JUNE 26,

His departure with the whole of his Orchestra being irrevocably fixed for Wednesday, June 28, the only Concerts he can give in America will be the remainder of the present week, concluding on MONDAY NIGHT next with his Benefit.

In making this announcement, M. Jullien has much pleasure in sincerely thanking the President and Directors of the Crystal Palace for having so generously placed the evening at his disposal for a Benefit; this, in fact, being the first and only Benefit he has had in America, the proceeds of the previous occasions on which his name was used as the beneficiary being taken by the parties by whom he was engaged for the musical tour in this country. Therefore, M. Jullien respectfully invites all those who have so liberally and kindly patronised the One Hundred and Five Concerts given by him in New-York to the Crystal Palace on Monday evening next, when he hopes to present them with a Programme for his
that will recompense them for the patronage they may bestow.

Among the great features included in the programme will be
THE WAR MARCHES, QUICK STEPS,
SONGS and HYMNS, of the present belligerent nations of Europe, with the French Imperial Air,
PARTANT POUR LA SYRIE,
and
THE MARSELLAISE.
The English Anthem Air,
GOD SAVE THE QUEEN, and RULE BRITTANIA.
THE CELEBRATED MUSCOVITE HYMN,
and
THE NATIONAL RUSSIAN MARCH of
PETER THE GREAT;
Now the favorite piece in the Russian Camps.
THE COSSACK SONG,
and
THE TURKISH WAR MARCH.
For this occasion, also, will be repeated the pieces which achieved the greatest success at the Musical Congress on June 15, with Handel's
HALLELUJAH CHORUS.
(Sung by Five Hundred Voices.)

ARE YOU GOING into the COUNTRY? Do you wish a book to take with you to amuse your leisure hours?

Take Mrs. MOODIE'S last work,
FLORA LINDSAY;
Or, PASSAGES IN AN EVENTFUL LIFE.

To those who are not going into the country with something to read to cause them to forget the dust and rocking with that ear-murthy Corporation permits to cumber our streets and send its noisome vapors to our nostrils!

Read FLORA LINDSAY, and the genial and pleasant humor of Mrs. Moodie will transport you in imagination far away from our dirty City, to pleasantly mingle among the scenes and characters she so graphically describes.

In fine, let all read FLORA LINDSAY, and those that are not pleased can step up to the captain's office and get their money back.

The price is only 50 cents in paper, elegantly bound in cloth, 75 cents.

"JACK TO THE RESCUE"—
THE RENEGADE GIPSY; Or,
THE BETRAYAL OF CLAUDE DUVAL
Including his Remarkable Rescue by Turpin and Sixteen-String Jack.
By the author of "Dare-Devil Dick," "Gentleman Jack," &c.

This is another of these exciting romances, whose forthcoming has been looked for with so much eagerness in all parts of the country. They depict thrilling scenes of adventure, in an age happily now gone by, when men of singular boldness and courage exercised those qualities to robbing their fellow men which, had they turned them to better use, might have made them the ornaments, instead of the scourges, of the times in which they lived.

For sale by all the Periodical Dealers in the City and Country.

A Great Book by a Great Author!!

THE SUBSCRIBERS will issue, on the 1st of July, 1854, a work of singular beauty, interest, and power, called
THE PILGRIMS OF WALSINGHAM!
A ROMANCE OF THE MIDDLE AGES.
From the accomplished pen of Agnes Strickland.
Large 12mo., pp. 400. Price One Dollar.

The publishers invite the attention of the public to this, one of the grandest literary performances of our time. Apart from its superior merit, the work itself is one of marked originality. No book in the broad range of modern fiction will in any degree compare with it. From beginning to end it is a volume of fascination!

As the rush for this work will be unprecedented, the public are requested to send their orders for it in advance to their booksellers, or they will find great difficulty in obtaining early copies. Fifteen thousand copies are already ordered, and fresh orders are still pouring in.

Dealers will please send in their orders without delay. They will favor the publishers and themselves by stating the exact number which they desire for their first supplies. Orders will be filled according to the dates of their receipt.

A Sparkling, a Glowing, a Live Book!
FANNY FERN'S
NEW AND UNEQUALED BOOK.
The Second Series of
FERN LEAVES
Is now ready, and for sale everywhere.
THIRTY THOUSAND COPIES have already been sold, and the demand is now more brisk than ever.

This is certainly one of the most extraordinary Books of the age. It is composed wholly of original matter, and such an amount of wit, pathos, humor, common sense, intelligence, amusement and instruction, was never before wrapped up in four hundred 12mo. pages. There is such an immense variety of description, such felicity in depicting character, such winsome moral and religious teachings, such broad floods of humor, such brilliant flashes of wit, that the reader is kept constantly on the alert, and finds nourishment for every better humor of his head and heart. From the hundreds of glowing commendations which the work has received, we give a few extracts.

"Another book from Fanny Fern! Yes, and another yet, if she keeps on writing as gracefully and prettily as she has been doing. Little did we think some years ago—we won't name the time—when we first saw Fanny's golden locks fluttering in the breeze on Boston Common, that she would stir up such a sensation in the hearts of the people. We thought she was pretty and interesting and popular book of the day, the copies selling by tens of thousands and here she goes, come out with another to tempt our affections and our purses. We make it a point to read everything of Fanny's that our eyes greet, and we have never yet failed to glean the most delectable pleasures from her pages. The present volume is all new matter, and it is only half so popular as the last, there will be from 20 to 30 copies sold within a month."
[New-York Atlas.

"The second volume but further reveals her loveliness, her purity, her fun her sadness and her benevolence. Among the floods of trash which drown our literature at the present day, Fanny's volumes come up to the surface, entirely uncontaminated, to sanctify and to supplant the hour of her critics. They are books to be read, to be thought of, and how often will the peaceful maxims, and the cheering exhortations recur to the disheartened spirit, in moments of impatience and discouragement. These volumes are not for the centre-table, or the parlor mantle—glitter without and glimmer within. These are the sitting-room books, the volumes of the fireside. The mother reads, undisturbed by the romping of her children, and sees the better workings of those children's hearts imaged forth from the dear delightful page; and she rises from the perusal, feeling that she has received instruction and encouragement, and is enabled to pursue her responsible tasks, and to meet the cares and vicissitudes of life with cheerfulness and hope."

"Another volume from Fanny, which will doubtless be as well relished by her admirers as her former work. It is, we think, a better collection than the first, and deserves to have a more extensive circulation. [N. Y. Times.

"But there is something in Fanny Fern's writings better than fine composition, better even than wit, fun and humor. Fanny has a sweet way of talking to the world. That is what we mean. How she talks and how tellingly she has spoken to behalf of the struggling pastor, the poor teacher, the calumniated mother, the oppressed seamstress, the neglected child, and the tortured baby. She has even a word for a bothered cat. Her writings all practical, and as magnanimous as it is tender; and she will receive from the Great Right Judge, who sees the first show of regard to the prosperous Wrong. If we had a few more such women as Fanny Fern, women from whose presence a villain, however polished and courtly, would shrink instinctively away, and for whose approval heroes might worthily contend, we should soon begin to leave our mammoth sins. We want more men. Population increases, but men grow less, and far between. We wish every young man, in the bottom, who spends his hours in folly, and strength in tobacco smoke, having faith neither in God nor woman, would take hold of Fanny Fern's new book, and read it till it inspired him with better thoughts and higher aims. That book could do it; for humorous and entertaining as it is, it breathes the spirit of goodness and truth, and has strong words of warning, reproof, and instruction."
[American Religious Advocate.

All the leading newspapers and magazines in the country speak in the most unqualified terms of the unrivaled excellence and readableness of this work. We could give columns upon columns of these glowing criticisms.

The second series is a handsomely bound 12mo. of 400 pages, and contains eight elegant illustrations.

Price, $1 25; do. bound in full gilt, $2.

All orders must be addressed to
MILLER, ORTON & MULLIGAN,
Auburn and Buffalo.

Upon receipt of the retail price, $1 25, we will forward a copy of the above book to any address in the United States, post-paid.

"Architects, and those interested in Architecture, we should think would be sure to obtain the illustrated Crystal Palace." [Boston Post.
"This volume presents a technical and descriptive record of the origin, construction, and progress of the Crystal Palace."
[N. Y. Tribune.
"The work throws new light on a question once pretty warmly debated, and certainly so far as we can see, fully justifies the professional reputation of the authors." [N. Y. Times.

ARE WE AMONG THE SPIRITS? OR IS the WORLD the SAME as EVER?
This Day Published,
In one volume, elegantly illustrated,
THE RAPPERS;
Or, the
MYSTERIES, FALLACIES AND ABSURDITIES OF SPIRIT RAPPING, TABLE-TIPPING AND ENTRANCEMENT.
BY A SEARCHER AFTER TRUTH.
Price—Cloth, 75 cents; Paper, 50 cents.

This work is a striking exposition of the so-called "Modern Spiritualism," in all its forms, from "Rapping" up to "Elevated Entrancements." It is the most opportune work that has yet appeared on the subject. The author gives a graphic account of his visits to many private and public "Spirit Circles," and although oftentimes humorous in his descriptions, he reports with great minuteness and fidelity all that he saw and heard, giving literally every word alleged to have been rapped, tipped, or uttered by spirits, and leaving absurdities and contradictions to appear on the face of the alleged "manifestations" themselves. The connection between Demonology, Witchcraft, and Modern Spiritualism, is clearly shown, and a history of ancient "Rappers" given. The author concludes with great force of argument, both science and philosophy to develop the fallacy of the whole of these alleged "spirit manifestations," and places in striking contrast the sublime religion of Christ and the pernicious religion of Rappers. It is a book, in fact, which cannot fail to command the approbation of all who are opposed to evil delusions.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"This is the most sensible work we have had on the subject. The author rejects wholly the idea of the intervention of spirits. Any one may read the book with pleasure and profit. Its author wields a practised pen, and conveys amicably a great deal of historical information on the subject matter, among other things proving the antiquity of rapping and tipping manifestations."
[Philadelphia Daily Register.

"There is a candor about this publication which entitles it to a faithful perusal; and the result, we should hope, would be to convince many minds of the delusiveness of a system which is effecting many radical, and, we believe, injurious changes, in the religious belief and conduct of its votaries."
[Memphis (Mass.) Post.

"This is a very lively and interesting book. In the first part the author gives full descriptions of numerous visits he paid to different "circles," detailing the scenes he witnessed and relating the conversations he heard. In this respect the book differs from most we have seen on the subject, and, we think, forms a feature which will make it sought after and read. The second part is devoted to a philosophical consideration of the subject, in which the author shows that modern "Spiritualism" is a delusion of the most dangerous character, in direct antagonism with common sense, philosophy, and the religion of Christ. It is calculated to do much good among the doubting."
[Lancaster (Pa.) Express.

"This is a most astonishing book, wherein is explained spirit rapping, spirit tipping, spirit speaking, spirit singing. To those who are opposed to such delusions, and who feel the interest of humanity at heart, we would recommend the perusal of this work. Its design is to show the absurdity and tendency to mislead the public mind, by these 'spiritual circles,' and clearly proves the great superiority of the religion of Jesus Christ over that taught by these 'Spiritualists.'" [Mylard Courier.

"The object of this book is to show up, by the force of illustration and argument, the fallacies and absurdities of spirit rapping, table-tipping and other notorious follies of 'Spiritualism.' The author gives an amusing description, and he declares, a true one, of his visit to the various social circles and very graphically points out their absurdity. It is a book well worth reading." [Hartford Daily Courant.

"The first part of this book is a description of the author's visits to various 'circles' and the 'manifestations' which he there witnessed. He seems to have been desirous of giving the subject a thorough investigation, and his experience among the mediums is very interesting. The second part is devoted to the various philosophical theories that have been put forward in explanation of these phenomena." [Boston Commonwealth.

"The book is certainly an entertaining one, and furnishes all the information it is possible to obtain upon the subject of the rappings and the various theories in explanation of them; and concludes with an argument upon the pernicious tendency of the whole thing. We commend the work to our readers as worthy of perusal."
[Pittsburg (Pa.) Revelle.

"The author's account of his tour among the rappers is related with much spirit and minuteness. We commend the volume to the attention of all interested in the subject."
[Boston Atlas.

"This book is very thoroughly described by its title. Its revelations are interesting, and the contrast it draws between the religion of the Bible and that of Spiritualism, is clear, full, and convincing." [Springfield
