We were in error in stating, a few days since, that the Transfer Agency of the Cleveland, Columbus and Cincinnati Railroad Company was at the Merchants' Bank. This is not so. The Transfer Agents are now as heretofore—Messrs. Winslow, Lanier & Co., at whose request Mr. Silliman of the Merchants' Bank was appointed Register, to countersign the certificates issued here.

The New-Haven Journal and Courier of this morning publishes a call, signed by a number of stockholders of the New-York and New-Haven Railroad, for a meeting to be held at the Metropolitan Hotel in this City, on Thursday evening next, at 8 o'clock, "for the consideration of such matters as the interests "of all may require, and for the adoption of such "measures as will place the management in the hands "of those whose administration will be for the great-"est good of the greatest number." The call as published has twenty-eight signatures annexed, and purports to be signed by 115 others.

The earnings of the Galena and Chicago Union Railroad for August were $69,024 15 from freight, $38,824 92 from passengers, and $1,106 from mails—total $105,955 07.

The earnings of the passenger trains on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad continue to show a steady progressive increase. For the week ending on Saturday their trains carried 5,629 passengers, for which the company received $4,502 18—an increase of nearly 10 ⅌ cent.

Of Red the market is nearly bare and firm at 60c., cash. Olive is dull and heavy.

PROVISIONS—Holders of Pork are firm at the improvement noted in our last; the demand is fair and the arrivals moderate; sales of 800 bbls. at $14 25 for Mess; $14 for thin Mess; $11 for Rumps, and $11 87½@$12 for prime "Regular." Beef is without important change; the inquiry is steady for the home trade; sales of 250 bbls. at $11@$11 75 for country Mess; $14 75@$15 for City Mess, and $15 50@$15 87½ for repacked Chicago. Prime Mess is inactive at $20@$21. Cut Meats are more plenty and are dull; sales of 49 bbls. Hams at 9@9½c. and Shoulders at 6c. Lard is a shade easier and is dull; sales of 200 bbls. and tcs. in lots at 10@10½c. Butter is more plenty and is less firm at 14@17½c. for Ohio and 20@22c. for State. Cheese is dull at 9@10½c.

RICE—The market is very firm, but the demand is limited; sales 100 casks at $4 12½@$5 for fair to prime.

SUGARS—The market is firm, but not very active; sales of 336 hhds. New-Orleans, part 5½@5½c.; 200 do. Cuba Muscovado at 4¾@5½c.; 50 boxes brown Havana at 6c.

SPICES—There is but little doing and rates are unaltered; sales 200 mats Cassia at 25c.; 25 bags Pimento at 15c.; Nutmegs, No. 1 at $1; Cloves at 15c.; Pepper at 10½c.

SALT—We have to note sales of one cargo Cadiz and one of Turks Island on private terms.

TALLOW—The market is barely supported, but the stock is light; sales 40,000 lb Western to arrive, on terms we could not learn.

WHISKY—The market is more active but rather easier, and closing firmer; sales of 1,000 bbls. at 40½@41c. for Ohio and 41½@41½c. for Prison. Drudge is nominal.

This is 356 less than the receipts of the previous week.

Another of the unaccountables of the cattle market has affected the price to-day full half a cent a pound all round upon the different grades, and upon the best quality still more. Though brokers cried the 10ps for first choice, they fix the estimation of weights at rates which undoubtedly brought some of the best cattle sold at 10c. a pound, and whole droves at 10c.

There were very few lots offered to-day that would rate in any other market as first, or even second quality of beef. Mean as the stock appears to a stranger, we think the average ten per cent. better than it was three or four weeks ago. It is likely that the late rain has encouraged farmers to believe that the world is not yet quite ready for Parson Miller's torch, and that and the very low price of grasshoppers of late has caused them to hold back until the cattle will be able to get up without lifting before they send them to the beef market.

Notwithstanding high prices and full weights to-day, the sales were very lively, and we have rarely seen as many pens emptied before noon as to-day.

Another thing that helped beef perhaps was the advance in mutton, and the clear cool weather. Though on the other hand we should suppose that the cool weather would bring forward the fresh pork in competition with the beef; so that after all we are obliged to conclude that the "operators for a rise" are too strong for the butchers, and consequently "beef rises."

We made notes, as usual, of the transactions of some of the cattle-brokers, while in the yards, which will give readers a better idea of the price, as compared with the quality of cattle, than quotations by the pound.

The best and most even good yard of cattle in the market was that of

E. WHEATON—84 head of first-class Chester County cattle; average weight at Philadelphia 734 lbs., and sales here averaged $73 ⅌ head. The weight was estimated upon 55 lbs. ⅌ cwt. live weight, after a day fasting; the quality as good as any offered to-day, and prices at estimated weights were from 9½ to 10c.; average, 10c.

J. PURCHASE sold 39 from Chester County; all sold before noon, at an average of $75 a head—which is full 10c. 32 head sold for $82 each. This was full 10½c., and perhaps some were 11c.

WM. FLORENCE—79 head from Pickaway County, Ohio; good fair beef, selling for 9@9½c.

CHARLES TEED & D. BARKER—220 head, owned by O. T. Maxey, from Madison County, Ohio, on foot, through drovers' roads and pastures, and fattened on the way. Arrived 19th July. The whole will average not far from $60 a head, or 9c. a pound. This is rather a rough looking lot.

S. RENWICK—109 head of Illinois common stock, from Piatt County, owned by Taylor—a few of the best of which sell for 10c.—perhaps the average a little over 9c. If they do, it is all they are worth, and more when compared with such as are selling for an average of 10c.

GEORGE AVRAULT and WM. BELDEN sold 178 head of common Indiana stock, wholesale, to Neebaum & Strauss, Jew butchers, at $47 a head; this was about 9c. They were owned by Walker & Van Vorihees. Mr. B. sold last week at home to a Washington market butcher, to be delivered weekly, 150 head of Dutchess County good grass fed beef, at 10c. a pound. Another lot at retail of 85 Ohio common, owned by G. Hussey. The Ohio cattle average less than 6 cwt., and will sell for full 9c., averaging say $52 50. They are nothing to brag of.

J. H. WILLIAMS—60 head of light Ohio common stock, owned by Hays from Pickaway County, selling for 8@9c., or about $56 a head, and probably losing the owner from $4 to $10 a head. They belong in some good pasture instead of the beef market. Also, 60 Virginia small stock, 5½@6 cwt., selling for about 8c. 76 common, fair quality Chester County grass fed beef, at 9½@10c. The latter are cheaper at that than the Buckeyes at nothing.

BRECH & SMITH—65 head common Illinois stock, average about 6 cwt 6½ cwt. and selling for 8@10c., the latter for a very small portion. A good many of them are small steers, not a bit too fat. They are owned by B. Strope, who will not make his fortune this time.

GEO. TOFFEY—101 head of small Ohio steers, mostly about half fat, owned by Miles & Igoe, from Champaign County, mostly 3 year old steers, selling at an average of $54, or 9c. a pound. Not more than half of this lot are even passable beef, and it is a great destruction of the material out of which time and feed would make beef, to kill such small growing steers.

MESSINGER & GILLETT sold 106 good fair Illinois steers, estimated at an average of 7 cwt., for $63 ⅌ head, very early this morning, (probably yesterday) at wholesale to a cattle broker, who sold them out to-day at a small advance on that price, probably about $65 a head.

SHERMAN & WHEELER—103 Kentucky cattle, owned by Castleman & Frazier, part grades and part common, of good quality, averaging 7½ cwt. by owners' estimate, which is full the third above butchers' weights. The price will not vary much from $70 a head. This is supposed to be the best drove of western cattle in market; some of them are very nice beef. Buyers say the whole is over 10c.—the owner says not over 9c.

JOHN A. MERRITT—100 head of common stock Illinois cattle, owned by Cuff & Jacoby, from Morgan County, the best of which sell for 10c., and the whole will average about 10c. They are good fair medium beef, but not in such condition as the owners wish, but owing to the great drouth, could not make them better. The total expense from home was near $14 a head, owing to increase on railroad freight. They were shipped at La Porte.

These owners have about 500 more upon the farm, 100 of which they are anxious to make heavier than the hundred last winter that averaged 2,067 lbs. live weight.

WHITE—92 head of common Ohio, owned by Stout, average about 6 cwt., and sell for $54.

BARNEY BARTAM—90 head of Illinois cattle, owned by Crabbe & Farrington, from Piatt County, estimated by owner at 5½ cwt., and selling for $63. We doubt that average won't hold through the tail end of the drove.

FR. KELLY sold 38 head of Putnam and Dutchess County cattle at 10@10c.—18 head to Geo. Hawes for $70 a head, the buyer says exactly 10c. Mr. Kelly sold 21 head at home last week to a New-York butcher, at $110 a head. These were fatted by Albert Akin and Mrs. Kirby of Dutchess County. These were very choice beeves, and did not vary much from 10c. a pound.

CULVER, HURD & CO.—150 head of good fair quality of retailing Beef, common stock, and a few Durham grades from Kentucky and Ohio, which are selling at an average of 9½@10c. We noticed sales of some nice three year old grades at $70, which are estimated at just 10c.

WM. BATTERSELL sold 110 Kentucky steers at Albany at $66 a head; 70 of them went to Boston and of them are in the above lot. This sale was estimated by the owner at 9c. ⅌ lb. The average quality good fair retailing beef, with two or three extra worth $100 each.

MILLER & HARING—75 head of Western New-York cattle, from very light to good, ranging in price from $35 to $47, or 8 to 9½c. ⅌ lb. None head sold for the Bermuda market.

Also, 43 head of dry Cows and Heifers from Ohio, sold at Perrin at $39, or 5½c. ⅌ lb.

E. PRAY—50 head, owned by Ezra Bailey, a drover who used to sell cattle for years at Hull's Head, near the Bowery Theater. This lot is from Connecticut, of the beautiful red stock of that State, grass fed and some of them quite fat.

Three fine oxen, estimated by the buyer at scant 9 cwt., sold to Geo. Hawes at $96. Some others, we think, sold at full 10½c., among which were six Durham grade three year old fat steers. We did not see any of the lot that were held at any less than 10c.

There is a freshness about these home-grown and home fed Beeves that we do not find in those that have been starved for food and water five days at a time on railroads from the West. And there is a richness too in the beef that we do not always find in that of equal fatness, that has been driven or transported a thousand miles.

SHEEP AND LAMBS—There has been a great falling off in the receipts of Sheep since the rains have dispelled from the minds of farmers the fear of sheep starvation in their own pastures. We have not for a long time seen the pens at Brownings's so empty as they were this morning. This was partly owing to an accident to the steamboat that was bringing some 700 from Albany. There is however, a general disposition among all who have feed to hold back for better prices than have lately prevailed.

The receipts last week at Brownings's were 3,750; at Allerton's, 1,250; by the Hudson River market boats, 1,376. Chamberlain reports 4,125 Sheep and 2,781 Lambs, making a total for the week of 15,290, which is 2,300 less than the previous week. This is probably a good deal above the number that will arrive the present week, unless the considerable advance in price has a tendency to bring them in the last of the week.

We annex the sales of several sheep drovers, those of McCarty and Mearow, at Brownings's, to wit:

Sold by JAMES MCCARTY:

223 Sheep and Lambs	$22 75@ 80 Sheep		$512 50

The market this week has been much better than last; the demand has been good and the supply light. The week closes with a very small supply on hand, and the demand good. Mutton is selling by the carcass in Washington Market from 4 to 5½c ⅌ lb. Lamb from 6 to 11c. ⅌ lb, as in quality.

VEALS—We have nothing new to offer in this line. The number arriving, though greatly decreased, is still surprisingly large for this time of year. This is owing to the plan adopted by those who furnish the City with milk of having a market cow come in at this season to supply winter milk. Good calves sell readily for 6½c. a pound live weight. The largest number comes from the Harlem road—286 at Allerton's, while the boats only brought 163.

MILK COWS—There has been a falling off the last two weeks in the number of cows, without any advance of prices. A few good cows will sell well as the weather gets cool, while a great many that come here for milk will go for beef. If the ordinance should pass that is before the Common Council, it will stop a good deal of the cow trade in the City and confine them to the country, where they more properly belong. They are kept among a class of people not noted for cleanliness, not for their own use, but to convert street garbage and brewers' grains into milk, which enables them to sell a great deal of Croton water. Of the three thousand cows estimated to be kept in the City, probably there is not one hundred kept by families for the purpose of furnishing milk for their own use.

SWINE—We are told by some Western drovers that the market is flat. We don't wonder, for a fatter looking lot of sides we do not often see than some of the stock now arriving. We have heard of tying knots in the tails of pigs to keep them from creeping through the fence, and from appearance a good many of those brought here for sale belong to that breed.

We know one chap who bought some pork of a merchant, and afterward asked for some dry codfish to fry it with, thinking that would afford the most grease of the two. Some of the pork made from our present supply of swine will require a little extra grease to make it go go down easy.

The state of the Hog market will be better understood from the transactions at the Union Drove-yards:

Reported by G. W. Dorman, salesman, for the last week. Received by Erie Railroad—1,844 Ohio corn-fed; 344 this State corn-fed; 351 Ohio still-fed. By New-Jersey and Pennsylvania Railroad—191 Ohio corn-fed. Making in all offered for sale 2,170. Some of the sales have been made at the following prices, viz:

N. McBeth, 260 poor Ohio grass hogs, live weight, 4½c.; W. Tallos, 131 do., 4½c.; A. Brown, 431 do., 4½c.; Ashbrook & Fisher, 149 poor Ohio corn-fed, 4½c.; D.
