The interest on the San Francisco City 7s (School Fund) will be paid on the 1st of November, by Wells, Fargo & Co.

The agent of the Lewis County Bank, situated at Martinsburg, N. Y., declined to day to redeem the notes of that institution. This is one of the old Safety Fund Banks, and the circulation is about $135,000. This Bank has been in trouble several times before, and it is quite time that it should be wound up permanently.

The Assay Office was very prompt to-day, that portion of the gold by the George Law and Star of the West which was deposited Friday afternoon having been melted, the value ascertained and paid for to-day. Had it been necessary to send this gold to Philadelphia, the returns would not have been received until Tuesday. The aggregate of deposits was about $900,000. The officers of the Assay Office appear ambitious to afford every facility possible to those doing business there.

The Bank Statement of to-morrow is not expected to show much more than $9,000,000 of coin and a further contraction of a million and a half to two millions of loans and discounts. In the statement of Monday week the Bank officers generally anticipate an increase of the specie reserve. The gold by the California steamers which may have gone into Bank will have but little effect upon the statement, as it only averages one-sixth of the amount.

There was a slight relief in the Money Market to-day, but the stringency is still severe. First-class paper is still, however, in better demand than the supply, although the continued contraction of the Banks throws a larger proportion than usual on the street. The rate is 10@12 ℘ cent., with occasional transactions at 8@9 ℘ cent.

The Anthracite Coal trade in the Schuylkill region was very light the last week. The Reading Railroad brought down some 28,500 tuns, and the Schuylkill Navigation 11,380 tuns. On the Lehigh Navigation the last weekly shipments were 39,697 tuns.

The Concord Railroad Company has declared a semi-annual dividend of 4 ℘ cent. ($2 ℘ share) payable on demand.

The Otis Manufacturing Company, (Ware, Mass.,) has declared a semi-annual dividend of 6 ℘ cent., payable on demand, which makes 12 ℘ cent. for the year past.

The paragraph copied into some of the evening journals from The San Francisco Herald, in relation to a sale of $700,000 of Government drafts to Messrs. Page, Bacon & Co., is, we presume, old news—a precisely similar transaction having been reported by the previous arrival, and $400,000 of the drafts were then paid at the Sub-Treasury in this City. The remaining $300,000 have not yet appeared.

A bet of $7,500 was pending on the last voyage of the Sonora and Yankee Blade. Steamship racing is, however, discountenanced by the Mail Steamship Co., and they issued positive orders to Capt. Whiting, commander of the Sonora, not to engage in racing on any account whatever, and also instructed the engineer not to carry at any time more than the usual average amount of steam. To further prevent pushing the steamer, she was only coaled for nine days' run, and was obliged to go into Acapulco for the balance of her coal.

The Inspector General of Canada has issued formal and official notice, in order to give effect to the Reciprocity Treaty, that the articles mentioned therein shall be admitted into that Province under Special Bonds conditioned for the due payment of the Customs Duties legally chargeable at the time of importation on the articles so imported, in the event that the said Reciprocity Treaty and the act in relation thereto do not go into operation and take full effect within six months from the date thereof.

There being much interest felt at present in the condition of the Indiana Banks we give below a statement of the securities of each of them in the hands of the Controller. The Indiana 5's were taken at par, the Pennsylvania 5's at 83@86, the 2½ per cent. Indianas at 50@55. All the six per cent. stocks were taken at par. Mississippi 6's at par we should consider exceedingly dubious security. There are $376,000 of Mississippi stocks in the list. In addition to these stocks the note holders are secured by the constitutional personal liability of the stockholders to an equal amount as their stock. Holders of notes are also by the constitution preferred creditors over all others.

JOHN P. DUNN, Auditor of State.

A pamphlet has been published containing the legal opinions of Judge Bronson, Judge Kirkland, Charles O'Conor, Esq., and Daniel Lord, Esq., upon the New-York and New-Haven Railroad Company.

The United States Economist gives the following comparison of Exports from six leading cities of the Union for the September quarter:

A proposition has been offered in the Canal Board by Lieut.-Gov. Church, that a million of the nine millions appropriated for enlarging the Canals of the State be immediately expended on the improvement of the Erie Canal navigation, so as to admit the passage of boats of the largest size. Mr. Church argues that the cost of enlarging the Canals will be probably $18,000,000 or $20,000,000, instead of $9,000,000, as estimated.

At Philadelphia the demand for money continues active, with but little fluctuation in rates. Strictly first-class paper is placed at 10½@12 ℘ cent., and second-class ranges from 15 to 18. At Boston Money is still in good supply at the reduced rates. The Banks promise much more ample accommodations, and the demand for outside capital continues to diminish. The quotations for prime notes are 8@10 ℘ cent.

There has been a Railroad Convention at Buffalo of various Railroads in this State, at which a number of important measures were adopted. It is stated that prominent among those measures, so far as the public is concerned, was the adoption of a memorial to the Legislature, praying for the abolition of all laws to license runners for emigrant passengers to the West, and asking for a statute making it a penal offense to sell tickets for passage by the railroad lines at rates higher than those charged by the roads.

The charge for emigrant passengers from New-York to Chicago, is to be $11; New-York to Cincinnati, $10; luggage, to the extent of 50 pounds, free; over 50 pounds, $2 25 to Cincinnati, $2 50 to Chicago. The New York Central and New-York and Erie are to have 10 ℘ cent. on the whole amount collected at New-York from emigrants, as compensation for the trouble and cost of taking care of them and starting them. There will be an increase of freight from New-York to Chicago, amounting to 7 ℘ cent. advance on the present rates. After the 1st of December there will be a slight advance of fare from New-York to Buffalo, amounting on the Central, we believe, to 50 ℘ cent. The through trains will soon be changed, starting from Buffalo at 6 A. M., 5 P. M., 11 P. M., and leaving New-York at 7 A. M. and 5 P. M., and getting to Buffalo respectively at 10:30 P. M. and 10:30 A. M.

INDIANA BANKS.

To the Editor of The N. Y. Tribune.

SIR: In your paper of the 19th inst. you copy from an article which recently appeared in The Cincinnati Gazette, and which pretends to give the public some information in reference to the Free Banks of Indiana.

In this article the following language occurs: "The "run upon the Free Banks was simultaneous and "heavy, and most of them, we understand, failed to "respond to the calls made upon them;" and further on the following: "That these Banks are unable to "redeem their paper, and that they will be forced to "wind up, is quite apparent."

So long as the circulation of these statements was confined to the columns of The Gazette, few people would think it worth while to contradict them. The habitual readers of that paper know that, either from ignorance or malice, probably both, its money articles are entirely unworthy of credit so far as they relate to the Free Banks of Indiana.

But the readers of THE TRIBUNE do not all read The Gazette, and do not know what value to give to its statements. I ask, therefore, for a little of your room to correct them.

Charges so general as those made by The Gazette, are difficult to deny except in terms as general. Living, as I do, in Indiana, and being largely interested in one of these calumniated banks, which handles daily large amounts of the notes of others, my opportunities for knowing something on this subject are at least equal to those of the editors of The Cincinnati Gazette, and I do not hesitate to say that the statement that the Free Banks of Indiana have generally failed to respond when called on to redeem their paper is untrue, and I believe the statement that they are generally unable to redeem their notes quite as untrue, however "apparent" it may be to those gentlemen.

That the people of Cincinnati do not rely upon The Gazette, and do not believe its reports are sufficiently shown in the fact that the merchants of that city, immediately after the publication of its sweeping denunciation, published a list of between thirty and forty of these banks whose paper they offered to take at par, and proposed to increase the number as additional information was obtained. Only two days ago I was assured by a runner of one of the Cincinnati banking houses, (so called) whose exclusive business for some time has been to return bank notes for coin, that he had been all over Indiana, and had visited at least two-thirds of the Free Banks within a short time, with their paper, for redemption, and in every case coin had been paid to him promptly and freely.

I have no doubt, however, though I have no personal knowledge of the fact, that calls have been made upon Free Banks which have not been promptly met, and believe that some banks are winding up, and that others will be compelled to. And it is true that a few of the banks of New-York—some of them in the City of New-York—have failed, and also true that one of the banks and two or three of the bankers of Cincinnati, and two of the banks of Kentucky have recently failed, but how unjust as well as untrue it would be to say of the banks of New-York, and of the banks and bankers of Cincinnati, and of the banks of Kentucky, that they had generally failed. The man who would publish such a statement would properly be called a libeler.

One part of the quotation you make from The Gazette is undoubtedly true, viz: that the run upon the Indiana banks, State as well as Free, has been simultaneous and heavy. The truth is, a large part of the capital of the Cincinnati bankers, and a good deal of that of the State Bank of Ohio, has been for months past traveling over our State in carpet bags, engaged in this highly reputable and productive trade.

Considering the extent of this run and the general complaint of hard times, I think the Indiana Banks have sustained themselves well, and should any of them be unable to continue to do so, we have no right to infer from the past anything to their discredit.

Up to this time, The Cincinnati Gazette has given, on its own authority, the names of three Free Banks of Indiana which it said had failed, and has since corrected the report in regard to two of these, and I believe should do so in regard to the other. Besides this, it has given, in quotations from other papers, the names of perhaps three or four others. This is the extent of its specific information on this subject. If its editors are justified in discrediting all Free Banks, they are in duty bound to give the public the benefit of their information. It is not enough to say that many of these Banks are located at points not easily accessible. I admit and regret this, but their failure is quite another thing.

A CITIZEN OF INDIANA.

Markets—CAREFULLY REPORTED FOR THE TRIBUNE.

SATURDAY, Oct. 28, 1854.

ASHES—The market is quite steady. The demand is fair for Pots at $6 87½@$7, and Pearls at $6 25.

BRICK—The market favors the buyer for hard North River; the supply ample; sales of inferior to prime at $3 75@$4.

COTTON—The market is heavy and the transactions are light. We annex quotations:

NEW-YORK CLASSIFICATION.

	Upland.	Florida.	Mobile.	N.O. & Tex.
Ordinary	7¼	7¼	7½	7½
Middling	9¼	9	9½	9½
Middling Fair	10½	10½	10¾	10¾
Fair	10½	10½	11	11½

COFFEE—A heavy and quiet market; sales 260 bags Rio at 9½@10¼c.; 50 bags Government Java at 13½c.

FLOUR AND MEAL—The demand for good brands of State and Western is steady, and these are without change; but the low grades are 12½@18½c. easier, mainly on the inferior brands, these being more plenty and difficult of sale. The extra brands of Genesee are in very limited supply and held firmly. Canadian Flour is a shade lower; but, with a limited supply, holders are not disposed to press it on the market; sales of 750 bbls. at $8 50 for No. 2, $8 62½@$8 75 for common brands in bond, and $10@$10 25 for extra, duty paid. The sales of Western Canal are 5,300 bbls., at $8 18½@$8 25 for "bogus State," $8 37½@$8 62½ for common to good State, $8 87½@$9 18½ for mixed to good brands Michigan and common to good Ohio and Upper Lake brands, and $10 50@$11 for extra Genesee. Rye Flour is scarce and wanted, at $7 25@$7 75 for fine and superfine. Corn Meal is in good request and is scarce at $4 50 for Jersey. Buckwheat Flour is in demand at $4@$4 18½.

GRAIN—There is little Wheat here; good white Western is scarce and wanted; in the absence of sales, quotations would be no guide to the market. Rye is scarce and wanted at $1 21@$1 22. Barley is very scarce and is nominal at $1 25@$1 45. Oats are better and scarce at 54@56c. for State and Western. Corn is rather easier, and is less active for the East; there is still a fair demand for export. We notice a sample of new southern in the market, the quality superior. The sales to-day are 43,000 bushels at 79½c. for unsound; 80@81c. for western mixed, and 83@85c. for round yellow; the latter is wanted.

HIDES—The demand is fair from the trade and previous prices are realized; the arrivals have been on the most limited scale, and the stock is reduced to 144,000; sales of Buenos Ayres at 16½@18½c., Rio Grande at 18½c., and Angostura 16½@16½c. The lot of Montevideo reported yesterday was resold at 18½c., 6 months.

HOPS are in fair demand for export and home use, with sales of 26 bales Eastern and Western, crop 1854, at 34@40c., as to quality.

THE HOP TRADE.—The following remarks we take from the circular of Mr. John Avery, Malt and Hop factor:

"The official declaration of duty may be expected in about three weeks time. The Government have wisely consented to issue the separate amounts of duty returned by each county or district instead of, as in the old way, waiting until November and then publishing them altogether. The estimated duty on English Hops is still £45,000, but from personal observation I doubt if it will reach even £40,000. Under these circumstances high prices must prevail for some time to come.

"Not only has the English growth to a great extent failed this year, but on the Continent a serious falling of has occurred in the yield. From the result of my inquiries, I believe that the crop in Bavaria will amount to a good third of an average; in Bohemia to half an average; in France from one-fifth to a sixth of an average; in Belgium fully one-fourth of an average; and in Brunswick to fully an eight of an average.

"The early importations from Bavaria being greatly approved of by Brewers caused an increase in their cultivation, and induced the planters over there to pay more attention to the coring—the sulphuring, drying, and picking. It is, however, very desirable that instead of being unpressed, they should, like the English, be subjected to hydraulic pressure.

"The Bavarian growth of 1854 comes in good condition, and generally shews a great improvement in quality. Owing to the better method of picking and drying, high prices have been realized for spelt of the growth of 1854, as much as £20 per cwt. in bond being paid for some with the King of Bavaria's Brand (equal in quality to Farnham's) and suited for the brewing of pale ale. Other growths of good quality sell in proportion, say from £14 10/ to £16 per cwt. in bond.

"The Belgian crop of 1854 is of fine quality and hydraulic pressed. The opening price was £10 5/, but large orders being given out the market at Antwerp gradually rose; as much as £14 10/ per cwt. in bond was paid here. This is still the nominal price, but as brewers have not yet begun to make their stock beer (owing mainly to the high prices of pale malt and hops, inducing them to wait for the new pale malt, which may be expected at market in about three weeks,) there is at present an absence of demand.

"The 1854 growth of Brabant hops being small (about 900 bales) has all been sold. It was of inferior cure to the Belgian, and brought £11 per cwt. in bond (unpressed.)

"The import of old and old old foreign hops has been large, and the following prices have been realized: 1837 and 1838 English (returned from Hambro) 40/ to 50/; Bavarian 1847 and 1848 70/ to 80/; 1850 to 1852 £5 10/ to £7, and 1853 £9 10/ per cwt., all in bond. There are now none left in first hands.

"A small parcel of Russian hops of the growth of 1851, from Bomarsund, I have recently sold at £6 10/ per cwt. in bond."
