Bayard Taylor, Esq., the American traveler, is announced to lecture at the Broadway Tabernacle on SATURDAY EVENING next, the 2d of December. His subject will be JAPAN. Mr. TAYLOR accompanied the recent Expedition under Com. Perry, to that strange country, and as he is an experienced Traveler, and should be a shrewd observer, we may expect a graphic and suggestive narrative of Japanese men and manners, as they presented themselves to Mr. T.'s inspection. We should not be surprised if he causes it to appear that there are some millions of dollars restlessly awaiting to be transferred to Yankee pockets, in that partially explored country. Perhaps we ought, however, on second thought, to retract this suggestion, lest our lecturer should be smothered by a too eager crowd of dollar-worshipers. Yet, apart from this appeal to our weakness, we do seriously expect that facts of great moment to various classes of our citizens, will be presented on the coming occasion.

CARL KRINKEN—HIS CHRISTMAS STOCKING. With Vignettes. 16mo. 75 cents; Gilt Extra, $1.
"Every one knows that the author of 'Wide, Wide World' and 'Queechy,' would write charmingly for children, and no one will be disappointed with this beautiful little volume. It is a most delightful and instructive tale—the scenes being chiefly rural, where Miss Warner is so completely at home." [Philadelphia Bulletin.
"A more delightful little book has not been published this season. The story is ingenious, humorous, and full of kindly sentiment. The printer, the engraver, and the binder, have also taken great pains to render this volume a handsome gift-book. Our little friends who have been favored by a visit from Santa Claus, will be delighted by reading what that beneficent, yet sometimes mischievous, personage did for poor Carl Krinken." [N. Y. Com. Advertiser.
"A very nice little book, as we are sure the children everywhere will pronounce it. Our own little daughter, four years old, listens with a face of delighted interest and an occasional gleeful laugh, to all the small pastimes of Sybil and Chryses—feeding the chickens, romping with the little dog and the kittens, and playing in the garret with the swing and the dolls on rainy days. All the every-day incidents of happy childhood in a quiet country home are told with perfect simplicity, and it is surprisingly pretty and pleasant. Miss Wetherell has an uncommonly happy talent for such things, and we hope she will be encouraged to give us the whole of 'Ellen Montgomery's Book-Shelf.'" [Saturday Evening Post.
"There is no doubt that these books will become great and deserved favorites." [Boston Transcript.

"They are written in that brilliant, sketchy style for which Mr. Willis is so famous. It will prove an amusing book, containing much that will long remain upon the memory." [Hartford Courant.
"The book needs no praise from us—our task is ended when we have announced its publication. * * * It consists of Willis's last series of beautiful Letters. * * * We know of nothing in all that Mr. Willis has ever written (and he has written much and very beautifully,) more wise and beautiful than the words of his preface." THE MYSTERIES OF ASTROLOGY, and THE WONDERS OF MAGIC.—The narratives in this work would be incredible but for the incontrovertible proofs by which many of them are sustained. After reading them it is difficult to doubt that there are things in the world which philosophy cannot fathom—miracles, if you please, produced by the direct action of superior intelligences, evoked by the aid of magic, or consulted through the stars. The work is beautifully got up, and is sold at $2; by inclosing which sum to the author, Dr. C. W. ROBACK, East Lombard-st., Baltimore, a copy may be obtained. The "Mysteries" is also for sale by Booksellers generally. DE WITT & DAVENPORT are the Wholesale and Retail Agents, No. 162 Nassau-st., N.Y.

JAY'S AUTOBIOGRAPHY. THE AUTOBIOGRAPHY AND REMINISCENCES OF THE REV. WILLIAM JAY. 2 vols. 12mo. $2 50.
"Few names are so extensively known in the Christian communities of Great Britain and the United States as that of of William Jay. His Morning and Evening Exercises is in the great majority of Christian families. The Autobiography is written in a style of great simplicity and pleasantness. The reminiscences by Mr. Jay of prominent individuals with whom he was well acquainted—as John Newton, Richard Cecil, Robert Hall, William Wilberforce, and others, are graphic and entertaining, and replete with anecdote." [Christian Intelligencer.
"These volumes contain the memorial of one whose name will be held in lasting remembrance. Our English correspondent remarks 'that there has been no biographical work so intensely interesting as this published among us for the last half century.' American readers will appreciate and honor his estimate of its merits." [Christian Observer.
"The biography of this eminently esteemed and useful man of God must be a welcome offering to the Christian world. His long, varied and successful labors made his influence felt in the promotion of evangelical truth and vital piety perhaps as extensively and powerfully as that of any man of his generation." [Presbyterian.
"As an autobiography, this will do to go along with that of Hugh Miller." [Journal.
"The Autobiography is written with great tact, and his reminiscences of his contemporaries present a beautiful series of portraits, which are alike valuable for the information they contain, and the art with which they are executed." [Evangelist.

A NEW TEMPERANCE NOVEL.—By Henry H. Tatot. BROTHER JONATHAN'S COTTAGE, Or, A FRIEND TO THE FALLEN.
Will be Published about the 15th of December, 1854.
This is a work which cannot fail to obtain a very general attention, treating as it does of a subject profoundly agitating the popular mind throughout this country, and also England and Scotland; and we unhesitatingly assert that no similar publication will more amply repay that attention, or gratify the lover of fine writing, high-toned sentiment, and hopeful philanthropy. The author takes a lively and intelligent interest in the leading phenomena of the present remarkable epoch, and his work is imbued with the views and sentiments which they are calculated to engender.
