A WORK for the LADIES.—THE LADIES' GUIDE TO CROTCHET AND FANCY KNITTING. By Mrs. Ann S. Stephens. Copiously illustrated with original and very choice Designs in Crotchet, &c., printed in colors, separate from the letter-press, on tinted paper. Also, with numerous wood cuts printed with the letter-press, explanatory of terms, &c. Oblong, pp. 117, beautifully bound in extra cloth, gilt. Price 75 cents.
This is by far the best work on the subject of Crotchet yet published. There are plenty of other books containing Crotchet patterns, but the difficulty is, they do not have the necessary instructions how to work them, and are, therefore, useless. This work, however, supplies this much-felt and glaring deficiency, and has the terms in Crotchet so clearly explained that any Crotchet pattern, however difficult, may be worked with ease.

THE FLYING CLOUD.
A ROMANCE OF NEW-YORK BAY AND THE CHAGRES RIVER.
By Professor INGRAHAM, Author of "La Fitte," &c., &c.
Price 25 cents.
"With but one glorious exception (Cooper), Ingraham is the most successful writer of nautical tales that we have had, and this is one of his very best stories. Each succeeding chapter of this book increases the interest awakened by the first, and few will be able to lay down the book until they have eagerly read every sentence—from the first to the last. Rosabel Leffingwell and Clara Sheridine are two bewitching creatures, and irresistibly attract the sympathy of the reader to the strange events that cross their destiny. Fordwell, the noble, generous, dashing captain of the "Flying Cloud," affords an admirable contrast to the villain Edgar, whose vindictive heart seems to revel in committing the most atrocious offenses.
"The struggle for life in the Hudson River is one of the most graphic things of the kind ever written."

"It is a difficult task to write personal descriptions of living persons, which shall not transgress the bounds of propriety, while they are piquant enough to satisfy the reader's curiosity; but Q. has certainly performed this task with no ordinary success." [N. Y. Courier and Enquirer.
"Singers, painters, composers, dancers, authors, actors, statesmen and artists of all kinds are presented, one after another, in the liveliest manner, and about each celebrity there is a pointed anecdote or a group of them or a bit of gossip which approaches often to scandal. THE LIFE OF P. T. BARNUM—Written by himself, with Portraits and numerous illustrations. 12mo, cloth. $1 25.
J. S. REDFIELD, Nos. 110 and 112 Nassau-st.

THE NEWSBOY.—The Home Journal, in a long review of this popular Novel, says: "We would commend 'The Newsboy' for the humane intent, and the honest, practical, earnest Christian spirit in which its lessons are inculcated. There is much dramatic force in the plot, the characters are well drawn, and the narrative is vigorous and admirably sustained."
In the strong description of the American Merchant a noble and just tribute is paid to the high-souled merchant; and the chaste and tender allusion to that "noble minded wife of a sailor—God bless her true, hopeful, wife-like, woman heart!" as well as to that magnanimous and munificent person of her desperate, but most noble enterprise, our fellow-townsman, Henry Grinnell Esq., will awaken a kindred emotion in every manly bosom.
The New York Mirror (second notice) says: "The style of 'The Newsboy' is evidently Dickensish, yet so wedded with American idiosyncracies, impulses and feelings that it ceases to be plagiary, but rivals it in originality, and resembles it only in passages of pathos and refined humor. As some writer has remarked, it is such a work as the author of 'Oliver Twist' might have written, had he been an American. Let him brush off whatever dust may have accumulated on his laurels, for Bob, the Newsboy, all but out-Olivers Oliver."
The Tenth Thousand of "The Newsboy" is just ready. Price $1 25.
