But, oh! when the bosoms of all forget,
And the heart rings again with glee—
Then, then will my aching lids be wet,
My gallant boy, for thee.

The love of a mother for her child is the strongest and holiest of all earthly affections. And when the material heart is crushed by the loss of one of her jewels, how dear to her is the pic are that brings back the dear lost one. HEMORRHAGE, OR BLEEDING FROM THE LUNGS,
AS A SYMPTOM OF CONSUMPTION
By GUILFORD D. SANFORD, M.D.,
Of the New-York Lung Institute, No 6 Bond-st.
LETTER NO. V.

Bleeding from the lungs is a frequent and fearful symptom of Consumption. It is more indicative of the disease than all others united. Whether occurring frequently or at long intervals—whether so slight as to be scarcely perceptible or poured forth in common torrents, it is ever ominous. In ninety nine instances in a hundred, it tells that tubercles exist in the Lungs. Most persons who have "raised blood," particularly the first time, believe that it came from the stomach, throat, or nose, and are reluctant to believe it was from the lungs. It usually occurs unexpectedly, with no marked symptoms of its approach.

I have said that the earliest symptoms of Consumption and those which are never absent are a dry hacking cough, shortness of breath and a little losing of flesh and strength, with, perhaps, slight pains about the chest, &c. Now a person may be laboring under all of the above symptoms and still there may be a doubt whether the cause of such symptoms be tubercles in the lungs, but if bleeding occurs in connection with them, every doubt may be removed. It seldom takes place until the earlier symptoms are manifest, and is much more frequent in the first than in the last stages of the disease. It yield in proportion readily and, but may return at intervals for many years, and still the person enjoy a comfortable degree of health. From tables it is shown that nearly one fourth of persons who die with Consumption have never bled from the lungs. I believe that there are but few who have not bled more or less, during the progress of their disease. Of five hundred and thirty-four, evidently consumptive persons whose lungs I have examined and questioned relative to this fact, four hundred and forty-one had bleeding. It has frequently been observed, and I believe too truly, that Consumptives who have had frequent attacks of hemorrhage from the lungs, live longer and suffer less than those who have not. It would seem to be one method which nature adopts to cure the disease by removing the congestion of the lungs, which tubercles ever produce.

Now, a person may have the Consumption, and die with it, yet never have the least Hemorrhage. Tubercles may be deposited, and soften and cause no bleeding. However, I believe that ninety in a hundred do sooner or later, much or little.

Can a person have bleeding from the Lungs, and not at the same time have Tubercles? is a question often asked the physician. There are hundreds who, to allay the fears of their patients, speak of it as of but little importance, telling them it came from the throat or nose and to guard by some little irritation. It is possible that they are honest in their assertions, but it is more likely that they are not. I believe in telling patients the truth and the whole truth. Now, I say to those who have spit blood, I care not under what circumstances, that that there are not ten chances in a thousand that it came from any place except the Lungs.

I am not prepared to say that a person can have true hemorrhage from the Lungs and not have tubercles. I am aware that "bloody Expectorations" are common in acute inflammation of the Lungs and in some forms of fever, yet such persons recover, and never exhibit any disease of the lungs afterwards. Females whose "menses" are intermitted or imperfectly established, frequently have a monthly bleeding from the Lungs. Again it occurs at the turn of life. Now such persons may recover but in more than half the instances they do not. There is one other important condition of the Lungs or rather of the lining of the Lungs which sometimes (too often) causes bleeding. In the attacks of influenza which are so common in spring and fall, a slight hemorrhage from the congested membranes takes place, and no serious result follow. Heart diseases sometimes cause bleeding from the Lungs. I have mentioned MOST of the instances when bleeding from the Lungs does not positively denote the commencement of consumption or the existence of tubercles. They are few and far between. In this City alone three thousand persons must have bled from the Lungs in the last year, and the direct cause in twenty-nine hundred is tubercles in the Lungs. I say again, it is a fearful and almost certain symptom of the presence of that disease which "cometh like a thief in the night." It should ever be regarded with suspicion.

Must a person who has had hemorrhage from the Lungs necessarily die of Consumption? or, in other words, Can the disease in any stage be cured? My next communication will be upon that subject, when I shall mention the principles which should be kept in view in its prevention and cure.

THE PERMANENT CURE OF RUPTURE.—The following is extracted from The New York Scalpel for August, 1852, edited by Edward M. Dixon, M.D., late Surgeon to the Deaf and Dumb asylum and House of Refuge. It is designed to answer inquiries on the subject to the Editor:

"Among the variety of diseases that arrest the attention of the practical surgeon, none occupy a place of higher interest than that in which the bowel descends from the proper position, situated on one or other side of the lower part of the abdomen, and emerges through an opening. The smallness of the opening through which the bowel descends, and the absolute necessity of the continuity of the entire tract of intestine to the continuance of life and its constant liability during its displacement to constriction and mortification, as this disease is often brought on and continued by labor, render the unfortunate man liable, at any moment, to one of the most dangerous and severe operations known to surgeons. This constant danger to life, with the oppressive nature and inadequate support of even the best trusses, in our exhausting and variable climate, must render the reliable assurance of a certain and final cure of priceless value to the afflicted laboring man.

"Without going into detail on the nature of the now well-known operation for its permanent cure (entirely free as it is from the least danger, and if properly performed, of certain successful result), Dr. Dixon assures those interested, that recent beautiful and simple improvements made by him in the instruments for performing the simple and comparatively painless operation, enable him to assure those who need such service, that they may place implicit reliance on a permanent cure."

It may be proper in this relation to mention the importance of the first symptoms of hernia—many persons being then immediately curable without any confinement whatever, by the improved process. It consists of a general fullness or swelling of a persistent character in the groin—usually disappearing on lying down. Fistula, Hemorrhoids, or Piles, all not of certain cure by the same process—neither requiring the knife. When such persons are received at Dr. DIXON'S private Hospital, where every arrangement has been made for their comfort. Applicants abroad will address EDWARD M. DIXON, M.D., Editor of The Scalpel, Box No 3,121, Post Office. City applicants will apply personally at Dr. DIXON'S residence, No. 42 5th av.

Office hours from 8 to 9, morning; 12 to 3 and 7 to 9, P. M.; and at no other hours.

INSTALLATION.—The Rev. Samuel L. Cochran was installed as Pastor of the Elm-place Congregational church last evening. The sermon was preached by the Rev. Joseph T. Thompson, of New York.

ACCIDENT FROM FIRE-ARMS.—Henry Barnard, aged 13 years, a son of the President of the Brooklyn Common Council, met with a serious accident on Thursday evening, while engaged in firing at a mark with a pistol loaded with shot, with a companion about his own age, a son of Dr. Wells. The pistol accidentally exploded, and the charge lodged in his side. He was attended to by Doctors Hall and Cullen. He appeared easier yesterday, but the shot had not yet been extracted.

A NEW ENGINE.—The members of Continental Fire Company No 9 received their new engine from the builder yesterday, and tried her capacities at the foot of Maiden-st., with results highly satisfactory to the members and a large crowd of spectators, which had assembled to witness the display. The apparatus is of the piano pattern with side brakes arranged so as to fold at the top. She is peculiarly constructed in other respects, and different from any other engine in use in the city. Her name was mended by 121 men, a portion being delegates from La Fayette Company No 9, of the Eastern District. After parading about the city preceded by a band of music, they repaired to their house in Vanderbilt-av, where a collation was served up in the evening.

MISSING.—Mr. James Kane, a respectable citizen of the First Ward, aged about 40 years and of temperate habits, has been missing from his home since Sunday last, and his friends fear that some accident has befallen him.

This congregation now worships in a chapel or session-room erected at the corner of the public square, on a site hitherto selected for a Church, but which is to be abandoned when the new Church is completed.

LAW INTELLIGENCE.

SUPERIOR COURT—SPECIAL TERM—April 27.—Before Judge HOFFMAN.

Daniel B. Allen agt. Cornelius Vanderbilt and John Orser, Sheriff.

By the late agent of the Pacific line of steamers, who replevied the books of the Company from Mr. Vanderbilt, (a principal, and in whose possession they have been for two years) for a perpetual injunction restraining Mr. Vanderbilt from reclaiming them from the Sheriff, or the Sheriff from delivering them to Mr. V., already referred to. The Court considered that plaintiff had a right of access to the books, but Mr. Vanderbilt having had their possession for two years by concurrence of plaintiff (who about that time commenced to use them) the temporary injunction which has been allowed cannot be sustained, and an order was made that it be dissolved.

SUPERIOR COURT—April 27.—Before Judge OAKLEY.

Samuel A. Foot agt. James M. Smith, Jr., executor &c.

To recover $150 for counsel fee in relation to suits as to John Clark's estate, already referred to. Verdict for plaintiff, $47.

SUIT ON ACCOMMODATION CHECK.

John H. Whittaker agt. Edward Fox, impleaded with Philip Burrowes.

On a check for $500, dated Dec 18 1854, payable at the Island City Bank, to order of Philip Burrowes signed by Mr. Fox, and indorsed by Mr. Burrowes.

The check was not paid, and suit is brought.

In defense, it is said that the check was accommodation to Mr. Burrowes, without consideration, that plaintiff received it, (if at all,) after it was due, and that he is not the owner of the check.

Mr Burrowes, it is said, was a lawyer of this City, and also agent for the Rensselaer estate, and for Alex T Stewart, and for Count ——, (residing in Belgium, husband of one of the granddaughters of John Jacob Astor,) for the block of stores in Broadway, where the City Hotel formerly stood; and also holding a large amount of property in his own right. It was said that he contracted a large amount of indebtedness, which, from the stringency of the money market or some other cause, he did not pay—made an assignment, and suddenly left the City in the early part of January, taking the steamer for Europe, from a portion of which he originally came.

In the present case, it was said that Mr. Burrowes owed Dr. Whittaker $3,000, which he was to have coin in cash, but gave the check in suit as a part of it, doing so Dec. 8, and the check dated ten days ahead—that, Mr. Fox and Mr. Burrowes both being considered wealthy men, it was taken in lieu of cash. The Judge allowed proof as to whether Dr W., the plaintiff, actually owned the check. If he did, the allegation as to accommodation must fail. Verdict for plaintiff, $[illegible] and interest. For plaintiff, Mr J. B. Fogarty; for defendant, Messrs. H. D. Townsend and A. Matthews.

FAMILY SCALES.—Mayor Wood's recent order, which calls into requisition a detachment of the Police force for the detection of false weights in the City of New York, suggests the great importance of Housekeepers being supplied with the means of protecting themselves against the impositions of dishonest traders. With a view to meeting the wants of the community in this respect, FAIRBANKS & CO. have recently got up an improved modification of their celebrated SCALES, which they denominate the FAMILY SCALE, it being designed for, and peculiarly adapted to household purposes. It weighs, with the utmost accuracy from one half ounce to 240 pounds. This Scale is provided with a Scoop, or Pan, for weighing flour, sugar, or other house stores, in the kitchen, and also with a Platform for heavier articles, as boxes, chests, &c., as well as for taking the weight of individual members of the family—from the pretty grandfather down to the little "baby in the cradle."

Hotel keepers and others interested, are invited to call at the Scale Warehouse, No. 189 Broadway, and examine the most extensive variety of SCALES, BALANCES, WEIGHTS, &c. to be found in the United States. FAIRBANKS & CO.,

The semi-annual interest due on the 1st of May on the Mortgage Bonds of the Indiana Central Railroad, and on the Second Mortgage Bonds of the Wilmington and Manchester Railroad, will be paid on presentation of the Coupons at the banking-house of Winslow, Lanier & Co, in this City.

The interest due May 1, on the following Bonds, will also be paid on that day, at the office of the same gentlemen: Cleveland City Bonds, Painesville and Astabula and Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railroads; Madison (Ind) City 6 and 7 ⅌ cent. Bonds; Scioto and Hocking Valley Railroad Second Mortgage.

The interest due on the 15th of May, on the following Bonds, will also be paid on that day: Ohio County (Va.) Bonds to the Hempfield Railroad; Washington Co. (Pa) Bonds to the same Company.

All the above securities, we believe, were originally negotiated by this house, and the prompt payment of the interest on them, as upon the large variety and amount of security, the interest upon which fell due 1st January and 1st March past, also negotiated by this house, is highly creditable to their financial judgment.

The business at the Clearing-House was $14,705,494.

The Committee of the Board of Brokers, to whom was submitted the application of the Hampshire Coal and Iron Company, to be placed upon the books of the Board, made a favorable report to-day, and the stock was admitted. This is, we believe, the first Coal Stock which has been admitted to the Board since the Parker Vein frauds. The Committee took time before they reported to make a searching examination of the whole affair, and were satisfied, we believe, that the Company is a legitimate working Company, and not a stock speculation; that the stock was issued at the original cost of the property and improvements, and that the concern is in the hands of honorable men. The President is General Tyson, of Baltimore, and the Treasurer, Mr. Luther R. Marsh, of this City. The number of shares is 20,000, which were subscribed and paid for at $20 per share. The Company is represented to be without a dollar of floating or funded debt, and to own its estate unembarrassed in fee, which is a novelty in coal operations. Its estate is situated on the Virginia side of the Baltimore and Ohio Road, near Piedmont, and the Company is at present mining at the rate of about 100,000 tuns per annum, for which it has contracts or market from local consumers.

It is thought by those interested that the Governor of Pennsylvania will not sign the bill repealing the charter of the Erie and North-East Railroad. If he does, another charter can be obtained with some concessions on the part of the Company.

Mr. Ludlow, the Real Estate Auctioneer, sold a few days since at private sale, to Mr. M. Morgan, as a site for a banking-house, the property in William-st. next north of the corner of Exchange-place, which is being improved by the Bank of the State. The price was $56,500.

At the Board to-day 17 was bid for New-Haven and New-London stock. The monthly receipts, for the year ending 31st of March, of this Road were:

April	$69,958 78	November	$7,538 93
May	9,384 87	December	6,358 23
June	9,121 73	January	5,545 67
July	11,709 47	February	5,590 95
August	13,111 17	March	7,747 80
September	10,472 54
October	10,165 23	Total	$163,906 67

Of this, $87,607 was from passengers. The earnings paid the cost of operating and repairing the Road, and the interest on the debt. The road was operated for about 45 ⅌ cent. The Road is reported to be in better order than at any time since its completion, and having earned its expenses and interest this year, the managers are confident that a promising future is before it.

The foreign letters speak favorably of the money markets abroad. A fair amount of orders for stocks and bonds have been received, but nearly all are limited below our prices.

The quotation of Canandaigua and Corning Bonds yesterday, should have been 2d instead of 1st mortgage, at 67½.

The sale of Chicago and Mississippi Railroad stock at auction, advertised for to-day, was stopped by an injunction. Mr. Henry Dwight, Jr., has but in a plea of usury and fraud against the liability for which the stock to be sold was collateral.

It is understood that the Norwich and Worcester Railroad Company are negotiating with the Norwich and New London Road an arrangement by which the steamboat trains will be run direct between Boston and New-London. The steamboats of this line will then land and receive passengers at New-London instead of Allyn's Point, making a considerable gain in time.

The Springfield Republican says:

"The friends of the Housatonic Railroad are felicitating themselves over a prospective increase of business on account of the probable construction of the new City Hall in New-York, out of the Lee marble, which will pay a good deal of freight money to the Company."

We are glad to be able to announce, as we do in our report of the market, a decline of 25 cents ⅌ bbl. in Flour. We hope to see still lower prices. Cotton fell off ⅛ ⅌ lb to-day with a large demand, the sales being some 5,000 bales. Corn is dull and heavy.

The London Globe of the 13th has the following upon the new loan:

"Two O'Clock.—The announcement made to-day by the Chancellor of the Exchequer to the Stock Exchange, that on Monday he will be prepared to meet partial and receive proposals for a loan, is no more than was anticipated, the expense of the current year being about £20,000,000 beyond the ordinary expenditure. The loan will, most probably, be for about £20,000,000. Opinions are divided, however, as to the probable mode in which it will be raised. It is not expected that any further additions will be made to Consols, and while some lean to the idea that a 3½ ⅌ cent. stock at par may be offered, others consider it most likely that a further extension of the various terminable annuities may be made, which would be readily taken for another twenty-five years, and would provide fully three-fourths of the probable amount required.

Consols, after being dealt in up to 9¾ have receded to 91¾@9½ for money, and 91½@91¾ for the 16th of May, and the announcement of the loan does not as yet appear to have had much effect upon the funds, the market being well prepared for the same.

The return from the Bank of England for the week ending the 7th of April gives the following results, when compared with the previous week:

Public deposits	£6,972,595	Increase..£434,051
Other deposits	11,896,875	Decrease. 834,754
Rest	3,655,450	Decrease.. 567,657

On the other side of the account:

Government securities	£13,096,749	Dec.....£1,445,682
Other securities	18,854,595	Increase.. 435,968
Notes unemployed	8,590,140	Increase.. 441,870

The amount of notes in circulation is £19,812,360, being an increase of £24,040, and the stock of bullion in both departments is £15,078,818, showing a decrease of £126,769, when compared with the preceding return.

The Liverpool Times says:

"The money market continues easy and well supplied. Accommodation can now be obtained readily on good paper in the discount houses at a considerable reduction from the Bank of England minimum rate of 4½ ⅌ cent. A large amount of capital is at the present moment seeking investment—a large proportion of which finds its way into the Stock Exchange, and the demand for Government Securities has been at 2 to 2½ ⅌ cent. really taken. At the latter figure, the East India Company have lent a considerable amount. The Joint Stock Banks in the metropolis have reduced the rates allowed by them on money on deposit, which now vary from 3 to 3½ ⅌ cent. The advices from the Continent continue highly satisfactory with regard to the appearance of the foreign exchanges and the prospect of these being maintained. A large proportion of the gold which may arrive from Australia and America for some time will likely find its way to the Bank of England, the demand for export to the Continent being at present almost entirely subsided."

In relation to American securities Baring's Circular has the following remarks:

United States 6's Bonds of 1868 107@108, Inscriptions 106@107, Pennsylvania 5's Bonds 82@84, ditto Coupons 81, Massachusetts Sterling 5's 100@102, Maryland Sterling 5's 92@93, Virginia Sterling 6's 97@98, Dollar 6's 87@88, New-Orleans City 6's 86@88; ditto of 1874 '78, and 1884 72@74, Pennsylvania Railroad 6's, 88@89½, Panama 7's Bonds 93@94, Illinois Central 7's 66@76. The business has not been extensive, but holders generally are firm. Canada 6's 162@169.

Mr Satterthwaite's Circular says:

Since our last the market for American Securities has been very firm and the demand continues good for State stocks and Bonds; also for the Bonds of established railways. We note transactions in Virginia 5 ⅌ cent. at 97½ and 6 ⅌ cent at 98½; Pennsylvania at 84. There is a demand for Massachusetts 5 ⅌ cent. and Ohio 6 ⅌ cent., but no supply.

Considerable transactions have taken place in Erie 1883 and Pennsylvania Central 6 ⅌ cent. at the accompanying quotations.

Illinois 7 ⅌ cents are firm, and could not be bought, except in small amounts, without giving an advance of 1 to 4 ⅌ cent. The Free Land Bonds carrying stock privileges are last done at 66.

For Great Western Canada Bonds there is an improved demand; the shares are steady at 17¼.
