Proclamation.—Whereas, From reliable information received from the ports of Norfolk and Portsmouth in Virginia, this Department is advised that the YELLOW FEVER now prevails in both of these ports. Be it, therefore, known to all men, that by virtue of the power in me vested and by and with the advice and consent of the Board of Commissioners of Health of this port, I, ISAAC O. BARKER, Acting Mayor of the City of New-York, do issue this my Proclamation, declaring said ports of Norfolk and Portsmouth in the State of Virginia, as INFECTED PLACES, and all vessels arriving from said places to be subjected to Quarantine. This proclamation to have full force and effect till the 1st day of September 1855.
Given under my hand and seal, at the Mayor's Office, in our said City, New-York, July 28, 1855.
ISAAC O. BARKER, Acting Mayor.

Wisner's Patent Wash-Tubs.—This is a common Wash-tub within which is a simple contrivance for rubbing the clothes. It will not injure the finest fabric, and will save at least three-fourths of the time and labor commonly employed in washing. It is the only machine for this purpose which stands the test of use. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of every family. Specimens exhibited, and orders received at No. 267 Broadway. I. A. HEAD, Agent.
P. S.—Please call and examine.

Emigrant Intelligence Office and Labor Exchange is Removed from No. 27 Canal-st. to the corner of Centre and Canal-sts., New-York. The Office is established by the Commissioners of Emigration, where can always be found large numbers of LABORERS and SERVANTS at very low rates of wages, and persons can have their orders filled by writing to the Superintendent, and sending the amount necessary to pay the passage of the parties required. No fees charged to employers. JAMES P. FAGAN, Superintendent.

New Publications.

"AN EXTRAORDINARY PRODUCTION."
Now Ready:
MARY LYNDON;
OR, REVELATIONS OF A LIFE.
AN AUTOBIOGRAPHY.
In one Duodecimo Volume, neatly bound in cloth. Price $1.
It is but four days since Mary Lyndon was published. Already a "rush" has commenced to get a copy of this striking book. Duplicate orders are pouring in by telegraph from all quarters where the book has been received, in numerous instances the supply being exhausted on the first day. A third large edition is being printed with the utmost expedition. Like all great original efforts of genius when first introduced, its merits are canvassed, pro and con, by various minds. The Times's prediction is being verified that it would be "admired and abused more than any work published for many seasons." The philosophy of "Jane Eyre" was severely condemned, and Mrs. Stowe's "Uncle Tom" was roughly handled, and even the tone of "The Scarlet Letter" was severely denounced in some quarters; it is but the fate of the works of genius. "Mary Lyndon" has produced a profound sensation in literary circles; every one wants to know who wrote this brilliant book; who is the great unknown? The critics are united in extolling its fascinating power and originality, but they diverge widely when discussing its bold women's rights principles, which The Mirror thinks is set forth with "fearful sagacity," and doubts its being the "maiden efforts of the author." The Commercial says it is as original and as profoundly interesting as Miss Bronte's "Jane Eyre," and The Savannah Journal and Courier pronounces it "an extraordinary production." And the Press from every section is coming in freighted with eulogies on this charming novel, more than fulfilling the high expectations of the early reviewers.

BLANCHE DEARWOOD.
Fourth Edition Just Issued
OF THIS NEW AMERICAN ROMANCE.
From the N. Y. Correspondent of The Philadelphia Mercury.
"Have you read 'Blanche Dearwood?' If you have not, please take it home at once, compose yourself in your easy chair, and read it through. Or go into the country, take the book with you and seek some shady place under a large tree, where there is nice soft grass, lie down there, open the book, and my word for it, you will not close it until you have read to the 'finis.' * * * It is not written as are some books, which startle the reader at the outset, and weary him before he is half through them. On the contrary, it commences mildly, and like a pleasant breeze, grows stronger as it progresses, causing only soothing delicious sensation. It is like a good acquaintance, the more you have of it the better you like it."
In 1 vol. 12mo. Cloth, $1; papers, 75 cents.

OLIATTA, and other Poems. By Howard H. Caldwell.
J. S. REDFIELD, No. 34 Beekman-st.

TO ALL WHO READ.—NATURE AND MAN BEFORE AND AFTER THE DELUGE. This is a treatise of profound interest to all classes. The writer assumes as a basis the literal verity of the Scriptures as respects NARRATIVE and FACT; confining his remarks chiefly to those subjects detailed in the first ten chapters of Genesis. Nature, as she appeared at the Beginning, is briefly reviewed, and the opinion that no Rain fell in the Antediluvian Ages defended: the MEANS probably employed in producing the Deluge are considered, and the writer shows conclusively that no RAINBOW could have been seen until after the Flood; together with new and interesting opinions respecting the existence of a SOLID SKY, the source and nature of Color, the development of Disease, the intelligence and power of the Antediluvians, &c. Illustrated with an engraved Diagram of the forms and present positions of the Earth. 50 pp. 12mo., price 25 cents, for which sum it will be sent by mail, prepaid.

TO CLERGYMEN AND MAGISTRATES.—Ministers of the Gospel and Magistrates have become accustomed to present to those they marry a handsome CERTIFICATE of MARRIAGE, and this document is now expected in a style befitting its importance. A new BLANK CERTIFICATE, engraved on steel, has just been issued. It comprehends a beautiful symbol: Matrimony is represented by an arch, based, the one side upon the Bible, and the other on the statute law, while beneath it dashes the rapid torrent of destruction. The arch supports the structure of society, composed of the different kindred relations. A vine surrounds the whole, the leaves of which are lettered with Scripture texts, poetical quotations, &c. Price $1 per dozen. For sale at No. 117 Nassau-st.

Telegraph Companies.

MAGNETIC TELEGRAPH (MORSE LINE) between NEW-YORK, PHILADELPHIA, BALTIMORE, WASHINGTON, and intermediate Stations
SIX WIRES AND TWO LINES OF POLES THE ENTIRE DISTANCE, AND SEVEN WIRES BETWEEN NEW-YORK AND PHILADELPHIA.
RATES REDUCED AND MESSAGES INSURED.
SHORTEST DISPATCH INCREASED FROM TEN TO TWENTY WORDS.
The Morse Line of Magnetic Telegraph from Washington to New York is the first company Telegraph line ever constructed in this country, and believed to be the most efficient working line in the world. It has more wires and greater facilities for telegraphing than any other in the United States. With a view to render it even more reliable the limit to the shortest dispatch has been fixed at twenty words, instead of ten, as heretofore, thus removing the inducements of those using the Telegraph so to abridge their dispatches as often to render them unintelligible. These undue abbreviations often have led to error in the transmission of dispatches, resulting in loss to the parties interested and in discredit to the Telegraph, which is too frequently charged with the errors of careless writers and bad chirography.

MESSAGES IN A FOREIGN LANGUAGE OR IN CIPHER.
All messages written in whole or in part in a foreign language or in cipher, or composed wholly or in part of words, figures, or letters intended to convey a meaning understood only by the persons who invent or agree to use them will be charged fifty per cent above the ordinary rates.
Figures are allowed only in the address and signature of a message. All numbers in the body of a message must be written in words at full length.
REPEATED AND INSURED MESSAGES.
The public are respectfully informed that in order to provide against mistakes in the transmission of messages by The Magnetic Telegraph Company every message of consequence ought to be repeated by being sent back from the office at which it is to be received to the office from which it is originally sent. Double the usual price for transmission will be charged when the message is so repeated, and a report made by special messenger to the party sending the same, whether it has been received by the party to whom it was sent, and if not, why not; or fifty per cent in addition to the usual rates will be charged for either repeating or reporting only.
The Company will not be liable for any loss or damage that may ensue by reason of any delay or mistakes in the transmission or delivery, or from non-delivery of unrepeated messages, but only engage to refund the amount paid, and to use reasonable efforts to secure the services of competent and reliable employees, so as to have their business transacted in good faith. Nor will the Company be responsible for mistakes in the transmission, nor for delay in the transmission or delivery, nor for non-transmission or non-delivery of any repeated message to any extent beyond ten dollars, unless it be insured.
Correctness in the transmission of messages between any two offices of this Company can be insured at the following rates, in addition to the charge of repeating and reporting as above: For any sum up to one hundred dollars, $1, and $1 for every one hundred dollars, or fraction of one hundred dollars above that sum, and the Company will not be responsible for any amount beyond the damage sustained by reason of the error or delay, and in no case for any sum exceeding that for which the message is insured and the rates paid, nor in any case for delays arising from interruptions in working their Telegraph.
NOTICE.—Messages designed for any place beyond this Company's line will be delivered from the terminal office to the proper parties there having control of the further means of forwarding the same, but the Company in no case hold themselves responsible for the correct transmission or prompt delivery of any message beyond such terminal office.
The Company's offices will be open daily (Sundays excepted) from April 1 to Nov. 1, from 7 A.M. to 10 P.M.; from Nov. 1 to April 1, from 8 A.M. to 10 P.M. On Sundays they will be open twice, namely, from 1 to 2 P.M. and 7 to 9 P.M.
The above regulations to go into effect on the first day of August, 1855. WM. M. SWAIN, President.
