Special Notices.

To the Free Democratic Electors of New-York.—The undersigned, members of the Free Democratic State Committee, in view of the importance of a union of all those opposed to Slavery, and who are determined to resist its extension and avenge the notorious wrong perpetrated by the "Nebraska Swindle," after due consultation, have decided not to call a State Convention of Free Democrats. We therefore respectfully but most earnestly recommend a response to the "Republican Call," made and to be made, for State and County Conventions, for choosing delegates and nominating Candidates, both state and County, and a hearty cooperation with the men of all parties in organizing a truly Republican Party upon a permanent basis.

We trust no County will fail to be fully represented in the Republican State Convention to be held in the city of Syracuse on the 26th of September next, by men imbued with the right spirit, and who, while they will not consent to lower the standard of action in opposing the slaveholding Oligarchy at all points, will be ready to cooperate with men and all who have broken from the old "National Pro Slavery organizations," and are prepared to organize a party under the Republican name and banner. Every Free Democrat should feel bound to attend the Primary Meetings, and help to send such men.

HOW IT DIFFERS FROM OTHER WORKS.—We have before listened to the homely tale of the liberated slave; but it did not impress us as does this narrative of Iona-ne, for the reason that we were left to supply the commentary which is here pressed upon us by one who has both seen and felt what he relates. The story bears throughout the impress of truth and the manner in which it is told stamps the writer as a man of genius and a high order of talent. [Ohio State Journal.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS:

"This novel inaugurates the career of a new writer who is destined to create a strong sensation among the readers of fiction. As a story title production will bear a comparison with the best of its class." [U. S. Gazette.

"Considered as a work of art it will rank high, even among the numerous and interesting works of fiction which are continually issuing from the press. The narrative is lively, bold and always sparkling with animation. The play of the passions intense, and the denouement is so strictly poetic and withal practical as to satisfy an old-fashioned novel-reader. The personages are not cold, lifeless, lay figures, but living beings with earnest hearts, with whom the reader instinctively sympathizes." [Penn. Enquirer.

LIPPINCOTT'S PRONOUNCING GAZETTEER OF THE WORLD; Or, GEOGRAPHICAL DICTIONARY, Containing a greater amount of matter than any other single volume in the English Language. Edited by J. Thomas, M. D., and T. Baldwin, assisted by several other gentlemen. The above work, (upon which over five years' labor and research, with a large outlay of money, has been expended,) has not been published merely to supply the deficiencies of existing Gazetteers, but to furnish a GEOGRAPHICAL DICTIONARY Which should be as comprehensive in its design, as perfect in its arrangement, and as complete and accurate in its execution as the BEST DICTIONARY OF THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE. Among the many claims to superiority which this work has over all others of the kind are the following:

1. It is a PRONOUNCING GAZETTEER, a feature as essential to the completeness of a Geographical Dictionary as to a Dictionary of the English Language.

2. It contains above 26,000 more Geographical Names than any other Gazetteer of the World. And the notices of all important places will also be found far more full and satisfactory than in any other similar work.

3. In regard to ACCURACY and RECENTNESS of information it will be found incomparably superior to every other.

We might have hurried this work through the press to forestall others commenced long after ours was in progress, but we could not be tempted to wave a single feature of excellence requiring time for its perfection.

The "PRONOUNCING GAZETTEER; Or, GEOGRAPHICAL DICTIONARY," contains above 2,100 pages. Price, in strong leather binding $6.

Any person remitting $6 will receive the work in two volumes, bound in cloth, free of postage.
