THE NUN and the BRITISH CONSTITUTION.—Among the mass of favorable notices of the Press we find the following in the "BRITISH CONSTITUTION, published in Canada:

"We acknowledge the receipt of the "Escaped Nun, or Disclosures of Convent Life." It is a well-written volume of three hundred and forty-four pages, and discloses in a truthful and candid style the tyranny, immorality, abuses and licentiousness of a monastic life. When first published it made much excitement in the United States, and every effort was used to suppress the work by the Popish party, which, however, was unsuccessful. Although it deals practically and historically with the land, force, and pollution which permeate from the depraved minds of an unmarrying priesthood, the language is so chaste and the delicacy manifested so unimpeachable, that the most prue and fastidious need not fear to give it a perusal," &c.

This elegant volume is sold for $1, and sent free of postage, on receipt of one dollar.

A GREAT FORTHCOMING BOOK—THE OLD HOMESTEAD.

BY MRS. ANN S. STEPHENS,

Author of "Fashion and Famine."

BUNCE & BROTHER, Publishers.

THE OLD FARM HOUSE.—By Mrs. CAROLINE H. BUTLER LAING.

This work is increasing immensely in public favor. Read what the Press say of it:

"The book throughout, in its well-chosen mottoes and evenly balanced style, indicates a mind familiar with higher literature, and it cannot fail to please." [Bulletin.

"Its tendencies are of the purest and noblest character." [Times.

"This is a well-written and skillfully-managed story. Pathos and excellence of description are not wanting, and altogether, 'The Old Farm House' is a superior novel." [Dispatch.

"It abounds with excellent sentiments, and the moral is such as to disarm prejudice against fiction of one of its most formidable weapons." [Dollar Newspaper.

"Many of the descriptions are given with rare beauty and interest." [Corn'an Chronicle.

These are but few of the many flattering notices received.

It is beautifully illustrated and bound in extra muslin gilt. Price $1 25.

NEW SYSTEM of TEACHING FRENCH.—THE WHOLE FRENCH LANGUAGE. By T. Robertson. 617 pp. 12mo., $1 25. KEY TO DO. 75 cents.

This system has met with the most extraordinary favor throughout Europe; and the present work applied to teaching French by Prof. Robertson himself is believed to combine all that is valuable in the systems of MANESCA, OLLENDORFF, HAMILTON, AND THE OLDER GRAMMARIANS.

For the convenience of those who would wish to examine this system, the Publishers have printed extra copies of the First Lesson (and all the Lessons are arranged essentially on the same plan) for gratuitous distribution to those who may apply for it; and to professors of the language who may prefer the entire work for examination, copies will be sent by mail free of expense on the receipt of $1 for the System, or $1 50 for the System and Key. Published by ROE LOCKWOOD & SON,

The New Book by the author of "Alone."

THE HIDDEN PATH.

By MARION HARLAND.

One elegant 12mo. Price $1 25.

From The N. Y. Evening Post.

"The following notice of this work, which we find in The Richmond Enquirer, is doubtless from the generous pen of Mrs. Anna Cora Ritchie, and contains a just tribute to the literary talents of the most successful female writer which Virginia has yet produced."

"Let this noble production (we use the adjective in its fullest sense) lie upon the table, enliven the hearth, be the household companion of every true-hearted Virginian. Foster this gifted daughter of the South with the expanding sunshine of appreciation, the refreshing dews of praise—stimulate undeveloped genius, which has never yet 'penned its inspiration' to walk in her steps, emulate her achievements and share her honors—let Virginia produce a few more such writers, and the cry that the South has no literature of its own is silenced forever! The Hidden Path is a work that North or South, East or West, may point to with the finger of honest pride and say, 'Our daughter sends this message to the world—scorn this balm into wounded hearts—traces for wavering, erring feet this 'Hidden Path' which leads to the great goal of eternal peace.'"

ANDREWS AND BRICHELOR'S

NEW FRENCH INSTRUCTOR.

A NEW AND COMPREHENSIVE FRENCH INSTRUCTOR,

BASED UPON

An Original and Philosophical Method, Applicable to the Study of All Languages. By STEPHEN PEARL ANDREWS and GEORGE BATCHELOR.

With an Introduction Explanatory of the Method, and a Treatise on French Pronunciation by STEPHEN PEARL ANDREWS.

There are, including that now offered to the public, three principal SYSTEMS OF LINGUAL STUDY. The first and oldest, a merely grammatical analysis with a body of verbal rules, may be called the GRAMMATICAL SYSTEM; the second, which proceeds upon the simple imitation of nature, without regard to any rules, called the "ORAL," or MANESCA-OLLENDORFF SYSTEM; and the third, that here presented, called the PHILOLOGICAL or INTEGRAL SYSTEM, embracing Grammatical Analysis and Rules, on the one hand, and the Imitation of Nature in Practice on the other, in an appropriate order and induction of the Materials of Language, adapted to the combination of the habit of reasoning or of imitation in the adult (or partially adult) mind.

IT IS CLAIMED BY THE AUTHORS THAT THE LABOR OF TEACHING AND LEARNING THE FRENCH LANGUAGE IS IMMENSELY REDUCED BY THIS NEW METHOD, AND THE SUCCESS OF THE LEARNER PLACED UPON A FOOTING OF CERTAINTY NEVER HERETOFORE ATTAINED.

GENERAL CHARACTERISTICS.

1. The Combination and concurrent presentation of Theory and Practice in their just proportions to each other. 2. A new Analysis of the Constituent Elements of Language. 3. The earliest possible guidance of the Learner to a Panoramic view of the French Language as a whole. 4. The Assault and Conquest of the vital difficulties of the Language from the first. 5. Individualization of details and clearness of Method. 6. The leading Importance accorded to the Complex Sentence and Words of Connection. 7. The Freedom allowed to Teacher and Learner in the modes of using the System.

SPECIAL CHARACTERISTICS.

ARRANGEMENT OF THE BOOK—The Lessons are full and strictly inductive. The exercises are short, simple, the observations following immediately; the Lessons and Exercises embody a course of Comparative Grammar never heretofore so thoroughly attempted, while this detachment from the practical part leaves the teacher free as to the use to be made of the theoretical portions. The Book is divided into Canons based upon the well known division of the French Verb into Conjugations, the treatment of the Conjugations, of the Gender of Nouns, and of the formation of the Plural in Nouns and Adjectives, of the Feminine of Adjectives, and of Adverbs, will be found novel and ingenious.

ACCOMPANYING ADVANTAGE—The Introduction, Treatise on Pronunciation, on the Tenses, on the Modes, Notes, and Philological Apercies, contain a mass of information on the French Language, which would be sought for elsewhere in vain. The student who is without a teacher will find himself completely guarded by this new method through the intricacies of this indispensable language.

TOWER & TWEED'S ELEMENTS OF GRAMMAR.

TEXT-BOOK IN THE PUBLIC GRAMMAR SCHOOLS OF NEW-YORK AND BOSTON—ADOPTED BY THE SCHOOL COMMISSIONERS FOR THE STATE OF NEW-HAMPSHIRE.

This book has received the universal and unqualified approbation of Educators and the Press throughout the whole country; the notices alone would fill a large volume. It is the most popular School Book ever published, and the sale of it is altogether unprecedented.

From The North American Review.

"Our schools suffer no imposition so egregious as in the cumbrous grammatical text-books in common use. They serve no earthly purpose except to overtask the verbal memory and to obscure the mental perception of the pupil. The Grammar now before us is an honorable exception. Its definitions are as simple as language can make them, and are in every instance illustrated by examples carefully analyzed. Its rules of syntax are few, concise and comprehensive. It contains no irrelevant matter, and could be studied with its direct and profit by an intelligent pupil of seven or eight years of age."

From the Rev. S. Saltmarsh, Canton, Mass.

"I have to acknowledge the receipt of a copy of your Elements of Grammar. The excellence of your little book having been suggested to me some months since, I procured a copy for examination, and fully satisfied of its worth above any other Grammar for beginners with which I am acquainted, introduced it into one of our schools. I am happy to say that its practical working has confirmed my estimate of its worth. I trust the time is near when it shall displace in the hands of the younger scholars the books which now serve mainly to bewilder and confound the young mind. There is indeed no 'royal road to knowledge,' but there is a natural and logical road, and I congratulate you on having opened it."
