A CHARMING NOVEL.—Just Published, MARRIAGE A LOTTERY. By Mrs Grey, author of "The Rectory Guest," "The Little Wife," etc. 12mo. Cloth, 75 cents; paper, 50 cents.

"This is an excellent novel, being a tale of Fashionable Life. The fair writer is not unknown to literary fame, being the author of several popular novels, but in this she seems to have surpassed herself. 'Marriage' abounds in natural descriptions of ordinary incidents daily occurring among the Summer residents on the English coast, and the interest arises from the naturalness of the web of intrigue which Mrs. Grey weaves. She is a very pleasing writer, and should be an excellent, kind-hearted woman, for she paints all her characters couleur de rose, and perpetrates but few libels against her own sex, so very different from the great mass of her co-literaires, who fancy they can best pourtray women kind by making most of them devils incarnate. 'Marriage' is also a lively tale, and cannot fail of rewarding the enterprise of the American publishers, who have thus cheaply placed it before the public." [British Whig, Kingston, Canada.

THE OLD HOMESTEAD.—

By Mrs. ANN S. STEPHENS, Author of "Fashion and Famine," Is receiving from every quarter the most unqualified praise.

From The New Orleans Picayune

"The Old Homestead will be found one of the most creditable works of fiction that has ever emanated from an American pen; and puts all the Uncle Toms and Ruth Halls to the blush, in comparison.

"Mr. Stephens writes with a purpose, and faithfully adheres to it throughout. Like Thackeray in this, she spares not a shade in her coloring of scenes whose dark traits she wishes to depict to the world. The truths she tells are stern truths, and she tells them with a directness and minuteness of detail which, how much soever they may rasp the delicate nerves of the sensitive, who cannot believe that such things can be, appeal to the more robust understanding of the truly philanthropic and the sincerely sympathetic in the sufferings and wrongs of humanity, with a force that is irresistible.

"The romance which, in her effort to blend amusement with her main design of conferring a benefit upon humanity, this accomplished writer has so skillfully woven into the Old Homestead among the Catskills as its center, is most charmingly wrought up; sparkling with character, animated with incident, and instinct with alternate pathos and humor. As a novel it will rank in interest with the most successful of the day, while as a utility book we know of none in its way that can compare with it.

"Mrs. Stephens has in her two first works marked out for herself a career which, will she but follow it up, will result in placing her name among the most eminent authors of her age; and what is far better, and to her, we judge, will be far more grateful, in securing to her for generations yet to come, 'the blessings of those who were ready to perish.'"

One volume, 12mo. Price $1 25.

SCIENTIFIC INFORMATION for the WHOLE WORLD—CHAPMAN'S GREAT DISCOVERY.—THE MONTHLY RAINBOW; Or, CHAPMAN'S PRE-CALCULATIONS FOR ELEMENTARY CHANGES based upon the discovery of the physical laws and harmony of electrical action pervading the solar system as improved in the differing effects of light modified (or polarized) by differing angles of reflection on a large scale. This important discovery of the laws of nature which regulate the changes of the elements, constitutes a subject of magnitude and importance, perhaps unsurpassed by any other on the pages of historic record. The surprising accuracy with which Dr. Chapman is enabled to precalculate elementary changes predicting more to storms, earthquakes, auroras, &c. and also atmospheric changes within the hour for each day, months in the future, and the physical effects on the health, feelings and humors of mankind, must be admitted by all unprejudiced minds to be of inestimable advantage to the whole human race.

In presenting THE RAINBOW to the public we do not claim it to be an infallible weather-guide. But this much we do claim, that it will be found to be correct to the letter eight times out of every ten. All we ask is a candid examination. Terms of RAINBOW, $1 per year, in advance; 50 cents for six months.

CHAPMAN'S PRINCIPIA; Or, NATURE'S FIRST PRINCIPLES. Cloth binding, 12mo., 200 pages. Volume first contains a full explanation of the discovery to which Dr. Chapman has devoted the last nine years of close observation. Published every six months (March and September), price $1 per volume for which it will be sent, post-paid, to any part of the country. First volume now ready. Eighth Thousand Now Ready, of the DIARY AND CORRESPONDENCE OF THE LATE AMOS LAWRENCE. 8vo., Cloth, $1 50.

MRS. BEECHER STOWE'S OPINION:

In The N. Y. Independent Mrs. Stowe volunteers the following commendation of the work:

"We have by us one her work—the Life of Amos Lawrence. We heard it once said in the pulpit 'There is no work of art like a noble life,' and for that reason he who has achieved one ranks with great artists and becomes the world's property. We are proud of this book. We are willing to let it go forth to other lands as a specimen of what America can produce. In the Old World, reviewers have called Barnum the characteristic American man. We are willing enough to admit that he is a characteristic American man; he is one fruit of our soil, but Amos Lawrence was another. Let our country have credit for him also. The good effect which this life may have in determining the course of young men to honor and virtue is incalculable. If parents had reason to dread the record of the gay, dashing, unprincipled career of Barnum, in which success covers a multitude of sins, they have equa reason to desire to see before their sons the life of another man who rose from nothing by exactly opposite courses. This biography shows another thing—that there is a Christian life in which all sects agree, a book of union, not doctrinal but practical, where there may be a real unity. Men of such lives have risen now and then in all sects and when found, disputants have agreed in admitting their practical example as an exponent of the religion about which they wrangle."

Just Published: AN EXTRAORDINARY BOOK. THE PRISON OF WELTEVREDEN; Or, A GLANCE AT THE EAST INDIAN ARCHIPELAGO. By Capt. WALTER M. GIBSON. Illustrated with 40 Engravings from the author's own sketches. Cloth, 12mo Price $1 25.

NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

"If the reader wishes to enjoy one of the rarest and most interesting of volumes let him get 'The Prison of Weltevreden.' Its rarest matters of fact have all the grace and glow of romance. It is an extraordinary book; novel, brilliant and possible only to have been written by one possessing a true poet's heart and brain. It is marked all over with enough evidences of genius to set up a score of modern romancists." [Evening Mirror.

"As either a romance or a narrative of fact it is certainly attractive, and we have read it with absorbing interest. Some of the scenes are thrillingly painted, and many of the incidents are highly melo-dramatic, while not a few have exquisite touches of nature worth remembrance." [Sunday Times.

"We can recommend it to the attention of our readers as being one of the most readable and amusing books of travel that has lately appeared." [N. Y. Herald.

"The outlines of the proceedings of our traveler are remarkable, but the minute passages resemble episodes of old romance. * * * The style partakes largely of the oriental in agery and picturesque diction so consonant with the theme. * * We can conscientiously commend it to our readers as being both instructive and deeply interesting."
