He lives in Jefferson County and returned home yesterday to his family, after an absence of seventeen years.

LAW INTELLIGENCE.

THE STANWIX-HALL TRAGEDY.

COURT OF OYER AND TERMINER—Before the Hon. Judge ROOSEVELT.

TRIAL OF LEWIS BAKER FOR THE MURDER OF WILLIAM POOLE.

FIRST DAY.....MONDAY, Nov. 26.

By 10 o'clock the Court room was crowded by citizens and others to witness the trial of Lewis Baker on an indictment for the murder of William Poole, on the 24th of February last at the Stanwix-Hall saloon, opposite the Metropolitan Hotel. The doors between the Supreme Court and Court of Sessions rooms were thrown open, and spectators were admitted into the latter. In the Court-room only members of the bar, witnesses and jurors were admitted. There was a fair representation of the sporting fraternity present, some of whom were witnesses in the case. John Morrissey, who is indicted as an accessory, was seated within the bar.

For the prosecution appeared the Hon. Ogden Hoffman, Attorney General, James R. Whiting, and A. Oakey Hall, District-Attorney. For the prisoner, James T. Brady and Horace F. Clark.

The indictment charges Lewis Baker with being principal in the case and John Morrissey, Patrick McLaughlin, alias Paugene, John Hyler, James Turner, James Van Pelt, Cornelius Linn, and James Irving, as accessories.

The Court inquired whether the new panel of two hundred and fifty Jurors had been returned. The Clerk said that no return had been made to him. The Court remarked that the return had not been signed and would not be, the Sheriff stating that there had not been sufficient time allowed to summon them. The Court, however, left it at the option of the counsel to say whether they would proceed with the old panel or adjourn to some other day when a new panel could be obtained.

The Jurors summoned on the special venire were discharged, and the Court proceeded with the impanneling of a Jury from the old panel.

At 11 o'clock the prisoner appeared in Court in the custody of a Deputy Sheriff. He appeared in very good health and spirits.

Mr. Clark asked for a severance in the case, which was granted, and then announced that they were ready to proceed with the trial of Lewis Baker.

The reading of the indictment was waived, Baker entering a plea of not guilty.

The counsel then proceeded to impannel a Jury.

Bernard McCafferty, grocer, No. 238 Elizabeth street—Had formed and expressed an opinion from reading the papers, such as would disqualify him, he believed, to sit in the case. Set aside.

Peter Kemp, ice dealer, No. 134 Charles street—Did not know Baker; knew Poole by sight; had formed no opinion in the case; read the reports in THE TRIBUNE; has a trifling acquaintance with Poole's brother-in-law in the Ninth Ward; knew him only from his being an officer in the ward; I live in the neighborhood of Poole's residence.

Mr. Clark suggested that it would be well to select a jury from other parts of the city than the vicinity of Poole's late residence.

Mr. Hoffman said that would depend whether the neighborhood would affect the juror's impartiality.

The juror was challenged peremptorily.

James C. Blauvelt, brick dealer, No. 12 Grand street—Read the newspaper reports of the transaction at the time and formed an opinion of the guilt or innocence of the prisoner; the opinion would remain except he should hear something to change his views. Set aside.

Charles W. Bockins, milkman, No. 16 Cannon street—Read of this transaction in the papers, from which he formed an expressed an opinion. Set aside.

William Ox, broker, No. 102 Hamersley street—Read accounts of the death of Poole and formed an opinion thereon. The opinion still remains. Set aside.

Are ue Roe, druggist, No. 297 Sixth avenue—Read the accounts of the murder of Poole and formed and expressed an opinion on the guilt or innocence of Baker, which opinion still remains. Set aside.

Enoch Messing, grocer, No. 36 Avenue B—Read the accounts of the transaction and formed an opinion which still remains. Set aside.

John P. Crane, clothier, corner of Second avenue and Fifty-seventh street—Read the accounts of the circumstances, but formed no opinion touching the guilt of Baker. Read a portion of the evidence taken before the Coroner's Jury. I did not read enough to form an opinion.

Messrs. Emmet and Grandon, members of the bar, were accepted as jurors of the Jury.

The Juror further stated that he did not think he had any bias or prejudice which would disqualify him as a Juror.

Mr. Clark—Would the circumstance of a man's being engaged in an affray late at night or early on Sunday morning, in which a man was killed by a pistol, or the bad character of a person create any bias in your mind for or against a prisoner?

Objected to by the Counsel for the prosecution. Objection sustained and exceptions taken.

Mr. Brady suggested that it would be well to know from a juror whether he could remain on the Jury in case it should be decided to keep them together until a verdict was obtained, or they were discharged by the Court. He said, also, that he thought it would be well also to know whether a juror was a member of any secret society.

The Court said the only question he thought was for the juror to say whether he had any bias or prejudice which would affect him as an impartial juror.

The juror was accepted by both counsels.

James M. Crocheron, dry goods merchant, No. 27 Vesry st.—Knows neither of the parties—either Baker or his friends or Poole's friends; read the newspaper accounts of the transaction; I formed an opinion at the time in regard to the guilt or innocence of Baker; his opinion had been modified by something which he had read subsequently; he had no fixed opinion upon that point; he was wholly indifferent between the State and the prisoner.

John S. Rockwood flour merchant, No. 263 Madison street—Read the accounts of this transaction in the newspapers. So far as the evidence might be taken as true, he might have formed an opinion at the time of the guilt or innocence of the prisoner. The opinion partially remained. I think I could be entirely impartial in rendering a verdict. Challenged peremptorily. Set aside.

Lorraine Freeman—Excused by counsel.

Albert L. Conklin—Formed and expressed an opinion in regard to the guilt or innocence of the accused.

James B. Kirker—Formed no fixed opinion. Read the newspapers and formed a general impression, but nothing to bias him. Accepted.

Jeremiah A. Wilkinson stated that he was opposed to capital punishment. If the prisoner were proved guilty, would not render a verdict against him. Set aside.

Alanson T. Briggs, cooper—Resides at No. 139 Henry street; had read some account of the Poole murder in the papers, but had formed no opinion; had no bias or prejudice whatever. Mr Briggs was excused from serving on the ground of urgent business.

William Gover, commission dealer, Washington market—Knew Poole; had known him for a number of years, but was not intimate with him; had formed some opinion, but it would not influence him as a juryman. Supposed to have expressed himself unfavorably toward Baker, and was therefore peremptorily challenged and set aside.

Thomas Holman—Had stated that the death of such a man as Poole was no loss to the community. Challenged and set aside.

John Boyle—Had formed but not expressed an opinion. Set aside.

Maurice Austine was not well enough to serve. Excused.

David Teats, tinsmith, resides at No. 171 Forsyth street—Knew one of the parties concerned, and had formed no opinion; was prejudiced neither way. Accepted.

William Kemp, resides at No. 183 West Twenty-third street, engaged in the ice business—Had formed no decided opinion; had talked about the subject only with his family. The impression now on his mind would not, in his view, prevent him forming an opinion solely on the evidence that might be adduced at the trial. Challenged by defendant's counsel. Set aside.

Samuel R. Mount had both entertained and expressed a fixed opinion. Set aside.

Robert Beatty, jr., book binder, No. 418 Pearl street, had formed and expressed an opinion. Set aside.

Levi M. Bates, dry goods merchant, Warren street, had formed and expressed an opinion. Set aside.

Luman B. Wing, grocer, resides at No. 205 Monroe street, had read the account of the Poole murder in the papers, but had formed no opinion on the subject, nor expressed any. Accepted.

Richard P. Brough, hardware merchant, Pearl street, entertained scruples on the subject of capital punishment; was a member of the Society of Friends. Set aside.

Edward Greene—Lumber merchant; resides at No. 80 Sixth street; held a fixed opinion on the subject. Set aside.

Michael Edy—Resides at No. 132 Hammersley street; does business in Washington Market; had seen Poole about the market; had no particular acquaintance with him; felt no prejudice against Baker; had neither formed nor expressed an opinion about the matter. Accepted.

Samuel J. Tobias—Had read of the transaction and expressed an opinion on several occasions. Set aside.

Chas. C. Mooney, builder—Resides at No. 15 Vandam street; had formed a decided opinion on this subject. Set aside.

Matthew Burns, builder—Resides at No. 83 East Thirty second street; might have received an impression on the subject at the time of the death of Poole, but had no recollection of it at present; was entirely free from prejudice, and had no bias whatever, either way. The juror stated that he had a number of men at work, who must remain idle if he were detained here, and therefore requested to be excused. Not excused, and sworn.

William Hubbard—Had both formed and avowed a fixed opinion. Set aside.

Elish B. Cronk—Resides in West Thirteenth street; has formed a decide opinion.

Alvah Hall, merchant, No. 12 Nassau street—Had not made up his mind from anything he had read or heard; felt no prejudice toward either party; had scruples about capital punishment, but would render a decision according to the evidence. Accepted.

Alexander Johnson, tailor, No. 131 West Broadway—Was excused on account of deafness.

George Kingman, dry goods, Montgomery street—Had formed an opinion. Set aside.

George Burling—Had both formed and expressed an opinion. Set aside.

Edward W. Baller—Had formed an opinion in this case. Set aside.

John Erdman—Was in California at the time the death of Poole occurred; had not read about the affair or formed any opinion. Accepted.

John Davenport—Place of business, No. 10 Platt street; may have received an impression at the time, but has no decided opinion at present. He stated that he thought the quarrel was sought by one of the parties. Peremptorily challenged and set aside.

Job Long had formed and expressed an opinion. Set aside.

Edward D. Jones had formed an opinion. Set aside.

Joseph Logan, metal-roofer, knew none of the parties, and felt no sympathy either way. Had probably read of the transaction in the papers, but had no opinion on the subject. Peremptorily challenged and set aside.

A. F. Marshall—Excused on account of being unwell.

Gordon W. Burnham thought he was incompetent to sit as a juror from the opinion he had formed. Set aside.

Henry W. Taylor—Formed and expressed an opinion. Set aside.

Wright Pomery, Metropolitan Hotel; place of business, No. 372 Broadway—Formed an opinion. Set aside.

Joon L. Duryea—Resides at No. 92 East Broadway; formed and expressed an opinion. Set aside.

Garret W. Ryckman jr.—Read about the case and formed opinion. Set aside.

John Fritz—Opinion formed. Set aside.

Jacob L. Seixas—Opinion formed and expressed. Set aside.

James Boyd—Formed an opinion. Set aside.

George F. Peterson, carpet dealer, had formed an opinion. Set aside.

Thomas Greenleaf, had formed an opinion. Set aside.

Mr. Brady here inquired at what hour the Court proposed to adjourn.

The Court stated in reply that as the hour grew later he more jurymen seemed to have all formed an opinion, and inasmuch as there was no prospect of securing a full Jury to-night, the Court would adjourn until Tuesday at 10 o'clock. After giving the usual caution to the jurymen impanneled the Court adjourned.

The panel thus far is composed as follows: John P. Crane, clothier, corner Second avenue and Fifty-seventh street; James M. Crocheron, dry goods merchant, No. 27 Vestry street; James B. Kirker, bookseller, Seventh Ward; David Teets, tinsmith, No. 171 Fortieth street; Lurman B. Wing, grocer, No. 215 Monroe street; Michael Edy, marketman at Washington Market; Matthew Burns, builder, No. 83 East Thirty second street; Alvah Hall, merchant, No. 12 Warren street; John Erdman, dry goods, Seventeenth Ward.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT—Nov. 26.—Before Judge NELSON.

THE EIGHTH WHEELED CAR CASE.

Ross Winans agt. Harlem Railroad Company.

To recover damages for alleged infringement of patent, already referred to. The Jury, in this case, had been out all Saturday night and on Sunday and Sunday night. They were called in this forenoon but not having agreed, sent again to their room. Subsequently they were again sent for, and declaring their inability to agree, were discharged.

The Jury it is said, stood nine for defendant, (the Harlem Railroad Co.) and three for plaintiff. On the former trial, in which, also, the Jury failed to agree, the Jury stood, it is said, the reverse of the present, being at that time ten for plaintiff and two for defendant.

Her friends and acquaintances are respectfully invited to attend her funeral this (Tuesday) afternoon, the 27th inst. from her late residence, No. 26, Desbrosses street, to Greenwood Cemetery.

She was sustained by the consolation of a good hope through grace. Ever martyr-like, amid all the sorrows and suffering of life, she same resigned and peaceful spirit. Her desire was to depart and be with Christ.

So fades a Summer cloud away,
So sinks the gale when storms are o'er;
So gently sinks the eye of day,
So dies a wave along the shore.

MONDAY, Nov. 26—p. m.

In the leading fancies, Erie and Reading, there was an unexpected fall to-day, with which the market generally sympathized. There was some movement in loans which threw some stocks on the market, and there was also some unfavorable criticism of the Erie report by the bears which had its effect. Their report generally, however, is looked upon as a very favorable one, and the decline to day has created considerable surprise. Erie was 53½ before the Board, and after the Second Board sold as low as 51½—a decline of 2 ⅌ cent. Reading sold down to 90½—a fall of 1½ ⅌ cent, and Cumberland to 24. The Cumberland company we understand have orders for all the coal they can supply, and are making arrangements to largely increase their working next season. There was quite an active business in Western shares at full prices. Galena and Chicago improved ½ ⅌ cent; Michigan Southern 1½ ⅌ cent. The receipts for October were about $340,000, an increase of $45,000. Michigan Central sold at at 99½; Cleveland and Toledo was steady at 76@76½; Chicago and Rock Island, 92½; Illinois Central, 95. The sales of land by the Illinois Central continue very large, having been $400,000 in the first fourteen days of November. The traffic is about the same as in October. Panama is being picked up for investment, and sold to-day at 106½. Nicaragua is among the buoyant stocks, and closed at 16½, a further advance of ½ ⅌ cent. It is understood that the new party connected with the Pacific Steamship Company have bought about 25,000 shares of this stock, and propose to buy a majority of the whole, so as to control the Company. New-York Central sold at 93 in the morning, but fell off to 92 at the Second Board. Railroad Bonds were quiet and rather heavy. State Stocks were not pressed on the market and are firm. There is still considerable absorption going on for banking purposes at the West.

There is not much activity in Exchange, and rates are firm. The supply of outside bills is moderate. The range for Sterling is 7@8½ ⅌ cent, with some of the bankers asking 8½ ⅌ cent. Francs 5.25@5.20.

In Freights we hear of to Liverpool 30,000 bush. Grain at 6@6½d.; 400 bbls. Flour, 2s. 6d.; 100 bales Cotton ⅛@3-32d. To Glasgow, 50 bbls. Spirits Turpentine 5s., and some Lard at 40s.

The business of the Sub-Treasury was: Paid, $191,546 03; received, $150,716; balance, $6,316,167 66; paid for Assay Office, $25,393 66; paid on disbursing checks, $88,993 65. The receipts include $100,000 for transfer draft on Boston.

The proposals for $400,000 of the Bonds of the Cincinnati, Peru and Chicago Railroad are to be opened to-morrow (Tuesday). The proceeds of these Bonds are to provide the means of the completion of the division of the Road between La Porte, on the Michigan Southern Railroad, and Plymouth on the Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad—a distance of twenty-eight and a half miles.

The business of the Clearing-House was $26,019,000.

The Bank statement shows a very uniform movement of the line of loans and discounts, the variation in two weeks having been less than $150,000. The increase of specie has been rather smaller than was anticipated, in consequence of the drain to the Interior. Boston and the West have been drawing gold, and are still, and we are also sending some abroad to the South. Another California arrival is close at hand, and no inquiry for foreign shipment. The deposits, although showing an apparent decrease, have in fact increased about a million of dollars, the variation being produced by the reduced amount of Clearing-House transactions. The comparison with last week is:

	Loans & Disc.	Specie.	Circulation.	Deposits.
Nov. 17	$97,320,92	$11,562,917	$7,794,579	$75,203,341
Nov. 24	92,512,403	11,715,239	7,779,567	74,675,154
Decrease	$17,512		$162,012	$647,187
Increase	$419,322

The specie shows a gain of $850,000 in two weeks, and is higher than it has been since Oct. 20, and with that exception since Sept. 15. On the whole, the statement is a favorable one, and indicates that steadiness in the movement of the Banks which is so desirable.

TABLE of the Loans, Specie, Circulation and Deposits of the Banks of the City of New-York, for the week ending on Saturday, Nov. 24, 1855; to which is added the Capital of each Bank.
