KEROSENE or COAL OIL.—Secured by Patents.
The undersigned beg leave to call the attention of the Public to the annexed Certificate of E. N. Kent, esq., Chemist, as a perfect answer to the now universal question, "What shall we use for Light?"
AUSTENS, Agents of the
NORTH AMERICAN KEROSENE COMPANY,
No. 57 Beaver-st., New-York.

LABORATORY, No. 116 John-st.,
NEW-YORK, Feb. 6, 1856.

THE NORTH AMERICAN KEROSENE COMPANY—
GENTLEMEN: I have made a careful photometrical examination of your Kerosene Oil, in comparison with the various kinds of Oil, Burning Fluids and Coal Gas in use in this country, with the following results:

MATERIAL.	LAMP.	Intensity of Light.	Consumption by Weight.	Consumption by Measure.	Specific Gravity.	Quantity of Light from an equal measure of Oil.	Quantity of Light from an equal weight.	Retail Price of the Oil per gallon.	Cost of an equal amount of light.
Kerosene.	Kerosene.	13.699	475	848	802	2 436	$1 00		$4 10
Camphene.	Camphene.	5.646	357	870	435	1.269	63		4 85
Spirit Oil.	Rosin Oil.	1.196	140	920	144	826	50		6 05
Rapeseed Oil.	Mechanical.	5.929	349	920	307	1.660	1 50		9 03
Whale Oil.	Solar.	1.842	211	915	271	858	90		10 03
Lard Oil.	Solar.	1.640	213	915	292	706	1 25		17 70
Sperm Oil.	Solar.	2.025	210	880	238	850	2 25		26 47
Burning Fluid	Lamp Wick	553	154	925	184	300	87		29 00

MATERIAL.	Intensity of Light.	Consumption per hour.	Consump'n Gas, equal intensity of Oil.	Retail Price of Materials.	Cost of light of equal intensity per hour.
Kerosene Oil	13.699	1.200 grs.		$1 per gal.	2 44.00 of 1 ct.
Coal Gas	4 920	5 C. ft	13.75 C. ft	3 per M.	4 13.100 of 1 ct.

From the above statement it will be seen that Kerosene produces the most light at the least cost, and that Burning Fluid produces the least light at the greatest cost.

I have also made a careful analysis of your Kerosene Oil, and find it to be remarkably pure and free from all substances which would otherwise render it unfit for burning in lamps. When thus purified by the process now in use, it is not explosive, even when heated to 212 deg. F., and being much less volatile than camphene, it is not liable to smoke.

In view of the above facts, I am sanguine that your "Purified Kerosene" is destined to supersede all other oils or burning fluids, as a source of light for artificial illumination, and would recommend it as the most valuable material for that purpose with which I am acquainted. Very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
EDWARD N. KENT, Chemist.

EXTRA QUALITY REFINED LARD OIL.—Warranted very pure, and to burn as long as Sperm, and very brightly; being unusually free from impurity, it will never grust the wick—is entirely free from gum, and very superior for machinery. In barrels 30 to 40 gallons each. The only agent for the maker is JOHN W. QUINCY No. 98 William-st.

OIL.—Boiled Oil, 75 cents a gallon.
Building-roof and Fence Oil, 50 cents a gallon.
Bleached Boiled Oil, for purely white, $1 per gallon.
Oil-Varnish, for China gloss, $1 25 per gallon.
PAINTS, for buildings, fences, roofs, &c., 14c. per pound.
