Catarrh!—Can it be cured? Yes. The only man who has ever devised a positive and radical cure for this loathsome disease is Dr. R. GOODALE, late of Boston. He is now in the city, and will remain long enough to demonstrate the truth of his averment, if opportunities are afforded him. He invites the most formidable, difficult and long standing cases to the test. He may be consulted (free) at Earle's Hotel Park row, room No 24 where the remedy may be had; and also of CHAS. H.
