NEW SACRED MUSIC FOR 1856-7. READY OCTOBER 1ST.
THE CELESTINA,
OR
TAYLOR'S NEW SACRED MINSTREL.
A REPOSITORY OF CHURCH MUSIC, adapted to every variety of taste and grade of capacity; by VIRGIL CORYDON TAYLOR, author of "The Golden Lyre," "The Chime," "Choral Anthems," "The Concordia," etc., etc.
The use of Mr. TAYLOR'S works for ten years while it has given him rank among the first writers of sacred music in this country, has also shown what features of his books were most relished and deservedly praised, and in "THE CELESTINA" all such that were embraced in "The Sacred Minstrel" have been retained.
MORE THAN ONE HUNDRED NEW TUNES have been written for this Work, besides selections combining melodies flowing, graceful and pleasing, but not difficult of execution, with harmony full and rich, but not too complicated for ordinary choir singers.
SINGING CLASSES will find a very large number of pieces simple and easy of performance besides several fine pieces of SECULAR MUSIC, introduced under the head of "Elements of Music," intended for class practice.
FOR MUSICAL CONVENTIONS this book contains a good selection of anthems, Choruses, &c., among which will be found the magnificent Chorus by Verdi, "O! hail us, ye free," admirably adapted to the sacred words.
EPISCOPAL CHOIRS will find a complete set of chants for the church service, embracing the old "Te Deum" of Wm. Jackson, and many new chants very simple and natural in their construction, which experience has shown to be best adapted to the portion of the service.
These features, together with those retained from the "Sacred Minstrel," combine to form one of the most desirable collections of music ever offered to the public.
The Publishers will send the Celestina to any one wishing it for examination, prepaid, upon the receipt, in cash or stamps, of 50 cents. IVISON & PHINNEY, Publishers, No. 321 Broadway.

FRENCH LANGUAGE.
FASQUELLE'S NEW METHOD
Of learning to read, write and speak the French language, on the plan of Woodbury's method with German, by Louis Fasquelle, L. L. D., Professor of modern languages in the University of Michigan. 500 pages. Thirty-third edition. Price $1.25. Many successful teachers who have used this book testify to its great excellence and superiority as a book of instruction, over the systems of OLLENDORF, ROBERTSON, MANESCA, etc., because it combines in itself the merits of the old and new,—the theory with the practice. FASQUELLE'S FRENCH COURSE is used in the best schools throughout the Union—see testimonials in Ivison & Phinney's DESCRIPTIVE CATALOGUE, sent pre-paid, on request. The series includes also KEY TO FRENCH COURSE, 75 cents, COLLOQUIAL READER, 75 cents; TELEMAQUE, 62 cents; DUMAS'S NAPOLEON, 75 cents; RACINE, 75 cents; all with notes and references to the "French Course."
