"by and corruptly" doing an act expressly "prohibited by statute." (Laws of 1840,) and which the law declares shall be "deemed a misdemeanor, (2 R. S. 692, § 20,) punishable by fine "or imprisonment, or both."

Augustus Kalt agt. John Eignet.

Order of Special Term affirmed without costs of appeal. Where a counter claim is interposed by a defendant he becomes to that extent a quasi plaintiff. If both parties in such case establish their claims only in part, but make to an amount exceeding fifty dollars, leaving a balance, nevertheless, in favor of the party suing, although less than fifty dollars, neither is entitled to costs as against the other.

Thomas Dunham, &c., agt. Samuel Whitehead impleaded, &c.

New trial ordered; costs to abide the event. Where a chattel mortgage is impeached on the ground that the debt was not really due, the production of a promissory note is prima facie evidence in the first instance of a just debt, and needs no confirmatory proof, unless the plaintiff establishes a case of reasonable suspicion as to the bona fides of the transaction.

John Ely agt. Paul Spofford, &c.

New trial ordered—costs to abide the event. The plaintiff, under the peculiar circumstances of the case, and considering that he entered upon the agency, of recovering back the overcharged duties, subject to the express condition in writing that the arrangement with him was "not to interfere with "the arrangement previously made" with Douglas and Ogden, was not entitled absolutely to one-half of the recovery, but only to a just and equitable compensation, having regard to his services and the services of the agents already employed.

John Baumgartner agt. Solomon Fowler, and others.

Judgment affirmed with costs. A contract to supply a milkman for one year with milk, although to the extent of more than $50 in amount is not under the authorities, within the statute of frauds. Such a contract if sufficiently proved in other respects, especially where there has been a part delivery, may be enforced whether written or verbal.

Winchester P. Moody, &c., agt. Robert T. Townsend.

Order affirmed without costs on appeal. Where a judgment is entered by confession, it is necessary that the sworn statement of indebtedness accompanying it, should be sufficiently specific in sums, dates and considerations, to enable the other creditors of the debtor, with reasonable facility, to investigate its genuineness and protect themselves against fraud. A general allegation that the judgment was "for goods sold and delivered," or on a note "given for goods sold and delivered," is not a compliance with requirements of the statute.

John T. Wilson agt. The Same.—Like order.

United States Trust Co. agt. Sophia A. Dixon.

In the matter of the Knickerbocker Bank—Judgment of Special Term, confirming report of J. W. Edmonds, referee, affirmed, without costs. Mrs. Dixon, notwithstanding the transfer by her to her husband, was still the real owner of the stock, and liable, as such, in respect of her separate estate, to contribute to the debts of the Bank. The transfer was either a sham or a cover, and can in neither case operate to shift the liability from the solvent wife to the insolvent husband.

The Same agt. Robert Mathison.

Like judgment. A stockholder of an insolvent bank cannot, by offsetting a demand as creditor, in effect get payment in full, while other creditors are left to a partial dividend. He must contribute like any other stockholder, and receive like any other creditor.

United States Trust Company agt. M. Hopper Mott.

Like Judgment. Del Vechio was in judgment of law at one time, the owner of the stock. He could not hold in trust for the Bank. Such a trust was prohibited by law. The Bank, besides, never acknowledged that the stock was so held. In case of a rise, Del Vechio would have taken the profit; in case of a fall, he must bear the loss. Although hypothecated by Del Vechio to the Savings Institution, he still remained the equitable owner. Motte' looking up Del Vechio's note, and by agreement substituting his own in its stead, was a sufficient transfer of the equitable title from Del Vechio to Mott. Mott became thus, in the language of the statute, (laws of 1849) "the "equitable owner of the stock," although the stock still continued "on the books," in the name of the Savings Institution. Del Vechio's rights and liabilities consequently both passed to Mott, and he is equally precluded from setting up the alleged unlawful trust; especially as both were alike Directors and "prominent managers" of the Bank. Mott therefore is chargeable with his proportion of the deficiency in the same manner as any other stockholder.

Thomas W. Chrystie and wife agt. William Phyfe and others.

Judgment for defendants, with costs.—Where a testator, by his will, gives to an unmarried daughter a house and lot "to her and her heirs and assigns forever," he is presumed to intend (although he afterward in the same sentence qualifies the devise) that she shall in some event be entitled to a fee, and must in every event take a more life estate. A devise over in such a case, on her death, either before or after her father, to her children, if any, must be understood as giving to them the fee as devisees substituted in her place if she died before the testator, and as "heirs" deriving through her, if she died after the testator, and, of course, after she had become seized—and if as heirs, then subject, like other heirs, to the power of their ancestor to convey or "assign" by deed, or to devise or bequeath by will. Mrs. Chrystie, the plaintiff, having thus a mere hope of "succession," was barred by the act of her mother in conveying the fee to Mr. Phyfe.

John Copcut et al. agt. Samuel Fowler.

Judgment for plaintiffs affirmed with costs. The practice of Morford in purchasing goods of the plaintiffs, on Fowler's credit, was expressly sanctioned by Fowler in the first instance; and although limited then to $100, yet being continued afterward in numerous instances with the full knowledge of Fowler, he receiving the bills and the goods, and handing them, or permitting them to be handed, over to Morford, without dissent, expressed either to Morford or the plaintiffs, its continuance must be presumed to have been with his approval. When Fowler received the bills, and saw that they were made in his name, it was his duty, if he did not mean it to be liable, forthwith to repudiate the act, instead of, by his silence, encouraging its repetition. He is estopped by his acts and his silence.

BROOKLYN COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS.

The September Term of this Court commenced yesterday before Judge Morris and Justices Emmons and Schoonmacher, when the following gentlemen were impanneled as the Grand Jury: John A. Cross, foreman; Edward Ferry, Garret Bergen, Daniel H. Fecks, Daniel T. Schenck, John G. Bergen, Ezra Woodruff, Jeremiah Ryder, Robert Justison, James Piner, John Carroll, George G. Herman, Isaac Brinkerhoff, Hiram K. Haskins, James Mullen, Thomas J. Van Zandt, Wm. H. Harris, D. B. Hasbrouck, Wm. Hunt, Wm. M. McCutcheon, Wm. Cartwright, Joseph Osborn.

Judge Morris then charged, dwelling at length upon the nature of evidence required to find an indictment; in relation to ex parte proceedings; upon the subject of unwholesome food, and in regard to receivers of stolen goods. The duties of policemen are set forth, and compounding misdemeanors explained. Under the last head the Judge stated that "to compound offences punishable by imprisonment in the State Prison for "any other term than life is felony. I am satisfied that such an "offense has recently been perpetrated in this city, and I am "determined, if it be possible, that the persons connected with "the transaction shall be brought to justice."

[This is in allusion to the recent rape case where the two female witnesses have been abducted.]

The Judge also pays particular attention to the subject of intelligence offices, the practice of carrying deadly weapons; and, in regard to the jury system, after explaining its nature as contemplated by law, says:

"In practice, a jury is frequently composed of men whose highest ambition is a dollar per day. They are easily distinguishable by their manner and conduct; they have no visible occupation, but may be seen hanging around the City Hall, seeking a job; they are not particular, and occasionally make an extra shilling in sitting in grave deliberation upon a jury in a Justice's Court; they are professional jurors—exclusively a modern production, not known in the days of Blackstone or Kent; their integrity is considered questionable; the evidence in a cause with them is considered surplusage; they are governed by prejudice—the intimations of the Court or the lawyer who happens to be in their good graces. If a lawyer sees fit to lay aside his manhood, lendy to these men, be liberal of his praises and free of his hospitality, his chances of success are considered good. Whether other arguments have any potency with these men, I will not say; the Jury box seems to act as a loadstone upon these men; if they are set aside on the ground of irregularity or disqualification, like a swarm of flies brushed from a table they immediately reoccupy their seats in the jury-box, with threats profuse against all who dare question their prerogative. * * *

I wish to distinguish between those who are occasionally called upon to serve as talesmen and those who make it a business. My remarks apply to the latter—not to the former. If these men have got to be supported by the public, I have no doubt the tax-payers would much rather settle an annuity upon them than be compelled to submit their controversies to their decision. * * * The practice has got to be an intolerable nuisance and should be abated.",

The Judge also called attention to the Usury and Election Laws, Lotteries, &c., and the Jury retired to their labors.

MONDAY, Sept. 8—P. M.

There was a moderately active Stock market this morning, especially in Erie and Toledo, and prices were firmly sustained. At the Second Board the quotations were scarcely as strong, and after the Board the leading stocks were offered at a decline. Reading was the heaviest stock, being 8⅛@8¼, having been 8¾. Erie closed at 60⅞. The sales were about 7,000 shares, touching 60¾. We cannot learn that there is any clique taking hold of this stock. The buying is very general in the Board. Panama was firm, selling at 94@94¼, buyer sixty. New-York Central remains unchanged, the market being freely supplied at 86¼. About one half of the transactions of the day were in the shares of the Western Railroads. Of Toledo, over 5,000 shares sold, the market showing an improvement of ¼ ⅌ cent. Chicago and Rock Island was 95¼. Pittsburgh was more active than of late, and advanced to 57¾. Of Illinois Central, 600 shares sold at 110 regular, and 110½ buyer sixty. The land sales of the first three days of September were between $50,000 and $60,000, which is unusually large. Milwaukee and La Crosse sold at 67½, and Milwaukee and Mississippi, 77½ buyer int. Illinois Central Railroad Bonds were very buoyant, and advanced to 92½, with sales of $66,000. In State Stocks there was nothing done.

The market for exchange is quiet, with a good supply of bills, principally bankers. Rates are the same as by the previous steamer. Sterling, 9¼@9½ ⅌ cent, with few sales above 9½ ⅌ cent. France, 5,17½@5,15.

The freights to Liverpool are rather heavy. The engagements are 20,000 bush. Grain at 7½@8d.; 250 bbls. Flour at 1s. 6d.; 100 tons Logwood at 17s. 6d. To London: Grain at 8@8½d.; Flour at 2s. 3d. To Glasgow 20,000 bush. Grain was taken at 8½d.

The business of the Sub-Treasury was: Total receipts, $214,803 26; peyments, $227,356 41; balance, $13,681,889 54.

There is no new feature to notice in the Money market. The supply on call appears to be sufficient for all demands, at 7 ⅌ cent. Paper is 8½@10 for first-class names, with but little doing below 9 ⅌ cent.

Holders of Flour are firm in their demands, and this, with the unpleasant weather, has checked transactions. About 5,000 bbls. sold. State brands are $6 10@$6 40; extra Genesee, $7@$7 25. The same influences have checked business in Grain. The offerings of Wheat are light. Sales red Southern, $1 45; white, $1 62½; white Canadian, new, the first of the season, supposed, $1 70; good white Michigan, $1 66½, &c. Corn is a shade better, but not active. Pork is in moderate demand at $19 50 and $17 75. Lard is buoyant. Sugars are irregular, and transactions moderate. Coffee and Molasses are as before quoted, but without important transactions. The sales of Cotton are 1,200 bales, and the market is firm.

There is no very important feature in the Bank report to-day, excepting a suspension of the contraction which has been going on for the past few weeks. The loss of deposits continues, but the steadiness of the specie reserve appears to have given the banks confidence, and checked the disposition to restrict loans. This is, however, probably, but temporary, and the contraction will recommence. Precedent shows that a bank contraction always takes place in September and October, made necessary by the withdrawal of deposits for the purpose of moving the crops.

The deposits show an apparent loss of $125,000, but the real loss is much larger—over $4,000,000, allowing for the difference of Clearing-House transactions. The specie line shows a small increase—some $130,000—which is smaller than we had looked for. We understand the West and South have taken some considerable amounts of coin during the week. There have been no violent changes in the loans of individual Banks, excepting the Metropolitan, which has contracted about $275,000. The largest loss of deposits has been by the Commerce—$740,000. Some of the other large Banks have increased their deposits $100,000 to $300,000. The Republic and American Exchange, having many interior accounts, show but little change; but the Metropolitan loses $300,000. The comparison with last week is:

	Loans & Dis.	Specie.	Circulation.	Deposits.
Aug. 30	$108,373,931	$12,905,226	$8,599,748	$87,776,242
Sept. 6	109,568,694	13,036,305	8,596,915	87,348,904
Increase	$194,762	$131,049	296,270	.....

The earnings of the Michigan Central Railroad Company for the month of August, 1856, were:

	Passengers.	Freight.	Miscellaneous.	Total.
1856	$146,826 57	$112,021 45	$6,591 87	$265,649 89

The receipts of the Galena and Chicago Railroad for August were as follows:

August 1856.....$290,693 82
August 1855.....210,066 23
Increase.....$80,627 59

This is unexpectedly large. The Mineral Point Road, connecting the lead regions with the Galena Road, will be completed by the 1st of October, and will be the natural outlet of all the heavy traffic of that section of country to market. It is now necessary to cart the lead to the Mississippi River. This road will be a valuable feeder to the Galena and the Illinois Central, and these roads have guaranteed a sufficient drawback on the business brought to them by Mineral Point Road to give the latter road an income of $56,000 ⅌ annum—sufficient to pay the interest on all the bonds.

The earnings of the Macon and Western Road in August were.....$3,436 95
1855.....3,098 90
Increase.....$2,923 55

Thompson's Bank Note Reporter quotes Land Warrants as follows:

	Buying	Selling
160 acre warrants at	95	96
120 acre warrants at	90	92
80 acre warrants at	93	95
40 acre warrants at	$1 05	$1 10

The business of the Clearing-House was $25,656,000.

We hear of $300,000 going over to Boston for the steamer.

The annexed statement exhibits the cost ⅌ mile, the gross earnings ⅌ mile in the month of July, and the gross ⅌ cent earnings on cost for the month, of the most prominent Railroads in this market:

RAILROAD TRAFFIC IN JULY, 1856.

	Cost ⅌ mile.	Gross earnings ⅌ mile.	Gross earnings on cost.
Galena and Chicago	$35,100	$906	2 4-7 ⅌ ct.
La Crosse and Milwaukee	28,885	766	2 5-9 ⅌ ct.
Chicago and Rock Island	30,674	734	1 5-6 ⅌ ct.
Milwaukee and Mississippi	25,000	631	1 4-5 ⅌ ct.
Michigan Central	44,000	795	1 7-9 ⅌ ct.
Michigan Southern	50,000	628	1 1-5 ⅌ ct.
Cleveland and Toledo	30,000	395	1-8 ⅌ ct.
New-York and Erie	85,400	1,062	1 1-4 ⅌ ct.
New-York Central	72,000	1,125	1 5-9 ⅌ ct.

By deducting fifty ⅌ cent from the above ⅌ cent gross earnings, we have the net for the month.

The Wheat Crop of 1856 is estimated by The Cincinnati Price Current, at ten per cent increase upon any former year, and it makes the following estimate of the quantity raised in the several States, omitting those not worth counting. The editor says: We have carefully examined the advices in regard to the present Wheat crop from the different States, and feel justified in giving the following figures as the quantity of Wheat gathered in each State this year:

States.	Bushels.	States.	Bushels.
Maine	860,000	Mississippi	500,000
New-Hampshire	250,000	Texas	150,000
Vermont	840,000	Arkansas	200,000
Massachusetts	36,000	Tennessee	3,200,000
Connecticut	80,000	Kentucky	3,750,000
New-York	16,200,000	Missouri	5,850,000
New-Jersey	1,100,000	Illinois	14,900,000
Pennsylvania	18,250,000	Indiana	11,250,000
Delaware	700,000	Ohio	16,500,000
Maryland	5,100,000	Michigan	5,300,000
Virginia	12,500,000	Wisconsin	3,250,000
North Carolina	4,200,000	Iowa	4,100,000
South Carolina	2,100,000	California	1,600,000
Georgia	1,750,000
Alabama	1,200,000	Total	112,826,000

With a crop like this, and we see no reason to doubt the calculation, and with a large surplus of last years crop on hand, we may, we should think, defy famine for this year.
