To the Mechanics and Workingmen of the City and State of New-York.—At a meeting of the Printers of the City of New-York, held on Saturday, Oct. 4, 1856, the undersigned were appointed an Executive Committee to carry out the object for which the meeting was called, which object is stated in the following memorial:

To the Mechanics and Workingmen of the City and State of New-York:

NEW-YORK, Oct. 9, 1856.

One of the candidates for the Chief Magistracy of the Empire State, at the approaching election in November, is Erastus Brooks of the City of New-York. With his political principles we have nothing to do at this time. The Printers of New-York comprise all political creeds. But we, one and all, deny that he is a fit and proper man to receive the votes of those who labor for their daily bread. Mr. Brooks has rendered himself obnoxious to workingmen by his uniform hostility to the interests of labor and to labor organizations. One of the many evidences of this hostility will be found in the following statement of a difficulty between him and the Printers of this city, into the aggravating details of which we will not enter:

In 1853, owing to the enhanced prices of provisions, rent, &c., the Printers of this city advanced their scale of prices to a just and equitable standard, and nearly all the Proprietors in whose offices the Printers' scale had previously been reorganized, agreed to the advance. At this time, Erastus Brooks, the present candidate for Governor, was traveling abroad, and his brother and copartner, in reply to the demands of the Printers, then in their employ, stated that he could not consent to them in the absence of Erastus, but that he would be personally responsible for the advance until his return. He suggested that the weekly bills might be rendered, in the mean time, at the advanced price, but that the difference (five cents per 1,000 ems) between the old and new price, might remain on the books until the return of his brother. This was agreed to. On the return of Erastus he was consulted upon the matter by his brother, when, finding that the Printers still insisted upon the advance, they paid the money that had been retained, discharged the hands, and avowed their determination in future to employ no man who was associated with such an organization as that of the Printers.

Later in the same year, with the hope of having the scale of prices universally adopted, and in justice to those who paid the advanced rate and were obliged to compete unequally with those who did not, the prices were voluntarily reduced by the Printers. Mr. Brooks, however, declined to pay even the reduced rates, and throughout that entire controversy he exhibited a spirit of hostility to the interests and organization of the Journeymen Printers.

The Express establishment has ever since been denounced by the trade as a "Rat" office, in which but few Printers would condescend to be employed, and Mr. Brooks is known as THE "Rat" par excellence in the printing business.

We, therefore, brand Mr. Brooks as a man who declines to pay a fair compensation for work done in his employ—as one who, while he fixes the price of the paper he owns and edits, denies the right of the men whose labor he coins into gold, to fix the price of their daily work.

His conceded right to fix the price of his paper goes to prove the justice of the principle we contend for, and which he opposes—the right of the laborer to place a fair estimate upon his labor, and the right of labor combinations against combinations of capital for the attainment of a just remuneration.

It is, therefore, that the undersigned deem it their duty, as it is their privilege, to come before the public with a protest against the election of Erastus Brooks to the office of Governor of the State of New-York. We appeal to the workingmen of our fellow-citizens whether this man, so selfish, so unjust, and so illiberal, is a safe and fit man to whom to intrust the affairs of this mighty State. We appeal to the men, who, like ourselves, earn their livelihood by their manual labor to aid us in crushing out the aspirations he has built upon such a basis, and in teaching him the divine lesson that "The laborer is worthy of his hire;" and also the political lesson that the laboring man in this free country holds in his hands the political fortunes of the most wealthy and ambitious of his fellows.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

We, the undersigned, Printers of the City of New-York, fully indorse the above. Its object meets our entire approval, and will command our cooperation.

A Card having appeared in The Express of Saturday last, denying the charges stated above, the Committee of Printers now deem it a duty they owe to the Mechanics and Workingmen to publish the above names as indorsers to their statement, that workingmen throughout the city and State may know the true character of the man who asks for their suffrages at the coming election.

Political Headquarters—Republicans, Democrats and Americans, Attention.—The coming election is admitted by all to be the most momentous in the history of the Republic. The contest is daily becoming more intense and interesting. All parties fly to the Printer for assistance, and with plenty of "material aid" to inspire him, he does, the best he can for his friends. But such has been the press of printing for the past week that but few have been able to meet the urgency of demand for paper, type and ink ammunition.

In order to meet the most urgent orders of our political friends—"and their name is Legion"—we shall devote all the unsurpassed resources of our STEAM PRINTING ESTABLISHMENT to the filling of Political Orders of every description, and shall keep our office

OPEN EVERY NIGHT TILL AFTER THE ELECTION.

Committeemen and candidates requiring POSTERS, TICKETS, CIRCULARS, &c., may rely on having everything executed, AND AT THE TIME PROMISED. A large number of the most rapid STEAM PRESSES, EVERY VARIETY OF TYPE in great quantities, and a superior force of Compositors and Pressmen, enable us to meet the most extreme cases of urgency.

TICKET FOLDING.—We have an immense force engaged on this work, and consequently can contract to do everything in this line with the utmost dispatch.

BILL POSTERS, in any number, can be had at instant call, to post a District or the entire City, in a few hours.

Remember—our office is open Day and Night till after the election.

To be indorsed on the outside of the ballot when folded:
"CONGRESS—NUMBER THREE."
On the inside to read as follows:
"For Representative in Congress."
(One name.)

The above correction will be made in the subsequent issue of these directions. D. T. VALENTINE, Clerk C. C.
