BALM OF THOUSAND FLOWERS AGAIN—JUDGES DUER AND HOFFMAN AT VARIANCE.

Wm. P. Ferridge ast. Marvin J. Merchant, et al.

This was a motion to dissolve an injunction heretofore granted, restraining the defendants from the use of the Balm of Thousand Flowers, and other alleged trade-marks of the plaintiff. The case was presented by both sides with a good deal of care, and elaborately discussed, both as to matters of fact and of law, at such length as to occupy the attention of the Court at different sittings for several days.

Messrs. Brown, Hall & Vanderpoel and E. W. Stoughton appeared for the plaintiff, and Messrs. Hall & Stocker for the defendants.

Judge Hoffman rendered his decision to-day. He dissolves the injunction, "upon the defendants entering into an undertaking, in the penalty of $2,500, to "keep an account of their sales, and render the same "when required by the order of a competent court. The "plaintiff to establish in this action his legal right, if "he can, as well as any other grounds of relief. The "undertaking to be deemed only a security for keeping "and rendering such accounts."

We present the points of Judge Hoffman's opinion:

1. He declines to rest his decision upon the ground that the plaintiff has deceived the public. He intimates that he agrees with those Judges who hold that "when the article in question is innocuous or useful, no "absurd panegyric or extravagant price is a reason for "denying the interference; that if a man should compound tallow with a high scent and beautiful coloring "matter, and term it 'The Ointment of Immortality,' "he would have a right to appropriate so much of "public credulity as he could to this designation." Judge Hoffman regards this view as the more forcible, in a case like that before him, "where the defendants "have designedly used the name and adopted these "symbols of the plaintiff to interfere with his trade "and participate in his gains." On this point Judge Hoffman is directly at issue with Judge Duer, whose decision in the case of Fetridge agt. Wells, the points of which we presented in Monday's TRIBUNE, turns on this precise question.

2. The name of the article in question is extrinsic and not indicative of its nature—in a similar case in Boston (Fetridge agt. Rice) the Court held otherwise—but on that account the right to it may perhaps be more exclusive and decided.

3. The resemblance between the emblems, colors and devices of the two compounds is so strong as to make the case wholly turn upon the question as to the plaintiff's right to the appropriation, by first use or otherwise, of the term in question.

5. On a careful examination of the evidence, the Court concludes that the title of the plaintiffs to the name, "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," is not made out; that considerable doubt exists respecting it, and that hence the rule of Lord Coltenham in Spottiswood vs. Clark, and of the Superior Court in The Amoskeag Manufacturing Company vs. Spear, 2 Sandf. S. C. 604, should prevail, and the injunction be dissolved.

SUPERIOR COURT—TRIAL TERM—JAN. 30.—Before Judge ROSSOUTH.

George D. Carroll ast. S. and A. Bachman.

The plaintiff claimed $1,000, and recovered $100, by way of damages under the following state of facts: He leased part of a room in Appleton's Buildings, and employed the defendants to put up a partition there, but neglected to pay them. Thereupon they entered his premises tore down the partition, and carried off the fragments, threatening violence if he resisted.

SURROGATE'S COURT—JAN. 30.—Before A. W. BRADFORD.

MARCUS CONE'S WILL—HOPE FOR GERMAN JEWS.

In the name of God, Amen. I, Marcus Cone, of the City of New-York, of the age of 31 years, being of sound mind and memory, do make, publish and declare this my last will and testament in manner following, that is to say:

1. I direct my Executors hereinafter named, to pay out of the assets of my estate, all my just debts and funeral expenses, and for the erection of a monument over my grave of the cost and value of not less than $2,000.

2. I give and bequeath to my mother, Tilleka Kahn of Aberswetter, near Landau, in Bavaria, Germany, the sum of $2,000, and it is my desire that she invest the same in real estate and undoubted securities, and not in any trading or mercantile enterprises; to my brother, Jacob Kahn, of the same place, $5,000, or in case of his death, then to his widow and surviving children in equal proportions, $2,000, which I desire him to invest in real estate; to the children of my sister, Esther Dryfuss, wife of Simeon Dryfuss, of the same place, $1,000, to be divided equally between them, and to be paid them on arriving at the age of twenty-one years, but in the mean time the proceeds or annuities thereof to be paid to them annually toward their support and education; to my sister, Sarah Levy, wife of David Levy of Meixheim, near Landau aforesaid, or to his heirs, the sum of $2,000; to my sister, Rosa Strauss of Goldheim near Germstadt, or to her heirs, the sum of $2,000; to my sister, Caroline Lederer of Syracuse, in New-York, $1,000; to my sister, Clara Steenfield of Syracuse, $1,000; to the children of my said sister Clara, $4,000, to be divided equally between them, share and share alike, the share of each to be paid when he or she arrives at the age of 21 years; to my brother, John Cone of Adrian, Michigan, $1,500; to Jacob Levy, brother of David Levy of Heixheim aforesaid, $100; to my uncle, Mordecai Levy, $100; to the Rev. Heir Ashaffenburg, formerly rabbi and teacher in the Synagogue of Aibrawetter, $200; to Isaac Levy of Buffalo, in New York, son of David Levy aforesaid, $100.

3. And whereas I am desirous of rendering aid as much as is in my power to the indigent German Hebrew population of the City of New York, and there is no society now in existence organized for such purpose, which meets my approbation now, therefore, when a society called "Cone's German Hebrew "Benevolent Society of New York" shall be organized or incorporated in said city, in the manner hereinafter described, and within one year after my death, and satisfactory proof thereof is furnished to my said executors, then I direct my said executors to pay to the trustees thereof the sum of $6,000. The several synagogues of said city, in proportion to the number of members belonging thereto, shall elect at least ten members and in case I have a brother in the United States at the time of said election, I desire him to be chosen a member, who shall constitute said Society. They and their successors shall have power to elect other members. The said Society shall hold annual meetings, and at its first meeting shall elect proper officers, who shall hold their office for the term of one year, or until their successors are chosen; the officers—two for the term of one year, two for two years, and two for three years; and at each annual meeting thereafter two trustees for the term of three years shall be elected. The said fund shall be invested by said trustees in their name of office, and shall be managed by them, the principal of which shall never be reduced, and the avails and proceeds thereof shall be distributed among the indigent German Hebrews of the said city by said trustees, as in their judgment shall be meet and proper and best calculated to carry out my intentions, subject to the direction of the Society, and shall also, out of said avails and proceeds, annually pay to the German Hebrew Benevolent Association of the City of New-York $25.

4. And for a like purpose, when a benevolent society, called "Cone's German Benevolent Society of Syracuse," shall be organized or incorporated in said city, and within one year after my death, and satisfactory proof thereof is furnished to my said executors, then I direct my executors to pay to the Trustees thereof $2,000. The members of said Society shall be chosen by the Synagogue of said city, and its objects and duties of its officers shall be the same as directed in reference to the before-mentioned society, save that the avails and proceeds of its funds shall be distributed among the German Hebrews of Syracuse.

5. And for a like purpose, when a similar society, called "Cone's German Hebrew Benevolent Society of Aberswetter, Bavaria," shall be organized in Aberswetter, Bavaria, within one year, &c., as in clause 4, supra, I direct my executors to pay the Trustees of said Society $2,000. The residue of this disposition similar to that in clause 4.

It is my desire that each of said Societies shall be permanent and perpetual, that their names shall never be changed, and that the avails of said funds for all time to come shall be sacredly devoted to the purposes, objects, ends and designs before mentioned.

6. I further direct that in case my estate is more than sufficient to pay all the above mentioned legacies, the surplus be distributed ratably among the several legatees in proportion to the amounts above specified.

Lastly, E. S. Ballin of New-York, of the firm of Ballin & Sanders, Aaron P. Thayer of Syracuse, Henry Cone of Buffalo, Solomon Lederer of Syracuse, Israel D. Waiter of New-York, Jacob Hahn of Abberswetter, and M. Nodel, banker, of Landau, Bavaria are appointed executors.

Dated 9th of May, 1856.

In the matter of the estate of Thomas Lockhart.

Mr. Lockhart, who died intestate in July, 1855, leaves a wife and two children, who inherit his estate of $10,000. The claim at present in suit is brought by William Wilkinson, who alleges that the deceased owed him for board for the 5½ years previous to his death. The claim is opposed by the guardians of the children and other friends of the family. The case is still on.

FRIDAY, Jan. 30—P. M.

The Stock market was active at the morning Board, but without important change, the tendency of the market, however, being upward. At the Second Board there was a much stronger feeling, especially manifested in Erie and Reading. The latter sold as high as 81½, an improvement of ¼ ct from the lowest point. The bears have sold freely of this Stock for several days past. Erie closed at 61¼@62, an advance of ⅛ ct. Central was strong at 94@94½. Panama was 95½@96. In Western shares the market was heavy until the close, when they exhibited considerable firmness. Illinois Central was 127½. Toledo improved ¼ ct. Rock Island closed at previous prices, 99; Michigan Southern, 81½@81¾. Galena was heavy, and sold at 104. La Crosse fell off to 71, but was in demand at the second Board at that figure. There were sales of 400 Nicaragua at 4⅞@5, and Pacific Steamship at 66. There was a good demand for Illinois Central bonds, of which $6,000 sold, closing at 99. Erie, 1875, brought 97; 1871s, 87½, &c. In Missouri 6s the movement continues to be large, but at the second Board time contracts were made at ¼ ct better rates than in the morning. The sales were $96,000, closing at 85½, b60, having sold as low as 83½, s30. Californias, 1875, sold at 67; Virginias, 91½; Indiana 5s, 86, &c.

The nine or ten back New-Orleans mails received to-day brought a large amount of Exchange, but the largest portion was received by bankers, and will not come on the market. The asking prices for sterling are unchanged, but the business is small at these rates. The mail of to-morrow will not be very large. The bulk of the transactions was at 8⅛@8¼, with some sales at 8⅛ ⅌ cent. Some of the bankers ask 8¼ ⅌ cent. Francs are 5.25@5.20.

Freights are dull and heavy. The engagements to Liverpool include 1,800 bbls. Flour at 2s. 3d.; Grain at 7@7½d.; 25 bales Rags at ¼d.; Cotton at same rate; 500 bxs. Bacon at 25s.; 150 pkgs. Lard at 25s. To London 100 tuns Oil Cake at 30s., and 200 tuns Cheese at 2s. 10½d.

The Clinton Company have already brought directly from their mines to this city a cargo of their bituminous coal. It has been thoroughly tested for the manufacture of gas and iron, for generating steam and for family use, and is considered by those who have used it equal to the best in the market for fuel purposes. From the position of the mines, their direct communication with our city, and the quality of the coal, we look forward to this enterprise as calculated to be of great service in cheapening that most valuable of necessities.

The amount of a large number of back mails caused a large activity in money to-day, but the inquiry was freely met, and after 2 o'clock the market exhibited much the same features as yesterday. Rates for paper are easy. The quantity of first-class names offering at the discount houses is quite small. It passes easily at 8@9 ⅌ cent. Paper of less desirable quality is abundant. The city pays off about $1,100,000 of indebtedness on the 1st of February, which has caused some calling in of loans by the deposit bank. Of the above amount some $900,000 is a portion of the water loan maturing on that day.

In Breadstuffs there is not much movement. Flour is down 5c. per bbl., but Wheat is steady. Pork is quiet and irregular. New-Orleans Molasses was held at 80c.; after sales at 75c. Some parcels of New Teas have been sold at a considerable advance on last year's opening prices. The firmness of holders checks business. Coffee is dull and Sugars firm, but quiet. There has been great activity in Cotton, with sales of 7,000 bales at an improvement of ⅛ c. per lb., mostly in transitu. The advices from the South are favorable.

From Messrs. Neill, Bros. & Co.'s Cotton Circular per Atlantic.

The Arago's news brought this market to a stand, and for two days we could hardly hear of a transaction, holders remaining firm in the almost total absence of buyers. Yesterday, however, the advices per Arabia, united to rumors of decreased receipts, caused a revival of confidence, and several thousand bales changed hands at the full prices of our last circular. Thus, although this market declined upon news of the previous advance at Liverpool, it has yielded nothing to the advices of a decline there. We quote middling Uplands at 12½c.

By the arrival of a large portion of the missing Southern mails we are enabled to furnish the following table, giving the movements of Cotton at all ports for a week later than the tables furnished in our table of Tuesday.

The week's receipts at all ports amount to 97,000 bales, against 84,000 last year. The week's exports amount to 51,000 bales, against 64,000 bales same week last year.

	Week's receipts.	Since Sept. 1.	Stock.
New-Orleans	[illegible]	940,000	[illegible]
Mobile	20,000	352,000	267,000
Other Ports	20,000	560,000	256,000
Total	97,000	1,852,000	513,000
1855-56	84,000	1,317,000	647,000
1854-55	76,000	1,124,000	314,000
1853-54	97,000	1,204,000	511,000
1852-53	118,000	1,526,000	621,000

EXPORTS SINCE SEPT. 1.	To Great Britain.	To France.	To other F. P.
New-Orleans	305,000	124,000	95,000
Mobile	31,000	20,000	4,000
Other Ports	151,000	24,000	23,000
Total	487,000	172,000	122,000
1855-56	607,000	224,000	163,000
1854-55	371,000	121,000	90,000
1853-54	376,000	121,000	81,000
1852-53	750,000	145,000	118,000

It is thus apparent that, as compared with last year, there is an increase of receipts of 15,000 bales, a decrease of exports to Foreign Ports of 242,000 bales, of which 250,000 to Great Britain, and an increase of stock of 199,000 bales. The comparison which the table presents with former years is also worthy of notice.

By the above table it will be noticed that the receipts at all ports which were 135,000 bales the week before, amount this week only to 97,000 bales. This is a large reduction to occur in one week, and though partly owing to bad weather interrupting transit the telegraph advises us to improvement in the succeeding week, and after this late period of the season it is questionable if any recovery will take place. As explained in our last, however, the receipts are now comparing against a period last year when they were for a few weeks unusually small. Hence, comparatively to those figures, there is still a small increase, which will no doubt be reported for two weeks longer after which the comparison decrease will be as rapid as the actual decrease is already shown to be.

Meantime the exports continue small, only amounting to 51,000 bales against 84,000 in the corresponding week last year, of which 26,000 to Great Britain against 50,000 last year, 16,000 in 1855, 44,000 in 1854, and 30,000 in 1853. It is somewhat remarkable that Great Britain has in former seasons generally taken 35 to 54 ⅌ cent of the crop, she has for so far this season taken only 21 ⅌ cent of the receipts, that is 527,000 bales out of total receipts of 1,852,000. At the same time the Continent of Europe has taken 30 ⅌ cent, and American shippers 275,000 bales, or very nearly their full average percentage.

Owing to the recent heavy purchases by the home trade (50,000 bales in the past week), there is only an addition of 5,000 bales to the stock, and it now stands at 513,000 bales.

Under the weight of stock, there have been some cheap purchases of cotton made in the southern markets during the week—purchases which may not be repeated for many months to come if the receipts take the course expected.

Messrs. Smalley, Weed & Bartlett have taken offices at No. 54 Wall street, as brokers, for the purchase and sale of stocks, negotiating loans, &c.

Trade with the Dry Goods commission men and jobbers still lacks activity. Several buyers from distant markets are here, but they have not purchased to any extent, from the fact that they cannot at present insure the speedy transit of merchandise, in consequence of the interruption to navigation by ice. This consequently has crowded the railways with more freight than they can transport for several weeks, hence the present inactivity. The same causes above alluded to has kept back goods from the factories at the Eastward, so that but little additions have been made to stocks, and assortments are therefore still incomplete. Prices for all kinds of goods are very firm, but not more so than the raw materials used in the manufacture. Heavy Brown Sheetings are steady and in fair request at 9c. Bleached Sheetings and Shirtings are rather quiet, but firmly held at previous rates. Brown Drills are in moderate request at 8½c., Bleached and Corset at 9c., and Blue at 10½c. Denims Stripes and Ticks are steady and in moderate demand. Printing Cloths are in light stock, and prices are very firm. Prints have sold to a fair extent at 9½@10½c. for medium to first-class Madders. Lawns are in good display, but the trade have not yet taken hold with any degree of animation; 12-00 and 14-00 fabrics may be quoted at 12½@14c. Ginghams are beginning to come forward in larger assortment; the Clinton and Lancaster Company have each a handsome display at 11½@12c. Mousseline de Laines are not yet in large assortment, but a few choice styles have been selling at 19@20c. Woolen Goods are in moderate request, but prices are very low compared with the high cost of the raw material. Light Cassimeres adapted for the Spring trade are in good demand at $1@$1 12½. Fancy Cassimeres are selling at $1@$1 37½, as to style and quality, and Mixed Doeskins of desirable makes at $1 37½@$1 40. Satinets range from 33@70c., according to quality. Tweeds, Jeans and Linseys are inactive, and prices are very low. Cotton Pantaloonery are in fair request at last week's prices.

The Foreign Dry Goods market is also inactive as yet (if we except the offering of some goods through the auctions), and not much animation is expected till a more genial temperature sets in, as it is almost impossible to forward goods to the interior at present. The stock of goods, especially desirable fabrics of Silks, are not abundant; and as soon as trade opens in earnest holders anticipate an advance of 2½@5 ⅌ cent on the opening prices of last season.

The Imports of Dry Goods for the past week were $2,801,779, against $2,200,603 same week last year. The details are:
