MEDICATED AIR-BATHS against DISEASES of the BRONCHIA and the LUNGS.—These Air-Baths, which by means of a chemical process, are an imitation of the atmospheric state of air of those countries, where, by my own and others' experience, many afflicted with consumption, found recovery solely by residing there, even without the use of any medicine.

I made use of this Medicated Air for many years partly in Europe, and partly here in America, Lancaster Pennsylvania, with the greatest success, and have now selected this city as my future residence, where, with the great number of those suffering with this disease, I expect to acquire soon general acknowledgment.

Patients are not compelled to leave the general course of their business, as I have found this method applied during sleep, at night, often the most conducive.
