VOL. XVIII.....No. 5,553. NEW-YORK, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1859. PRICE TWO CENTS.

Up to this time, Music has been the Privilege of a few persons endowed with organs of peculiar sweetness, or of an irrepressible patience: it has never been that of the masses, and, out of any one thousand pupils who commence its study, there are scarcely three, perhaps two, who, after several years of hard labor, succeed in reading, much less writing, it in a satisfactory manner.

The causes of this lamentable fact may be easily accounted for. First of all, we shall notice the "writing." No one would now contest the incomparable superiority of the Arabian to the Roman figures, or deny, for an instant, that the operation of arithmetic, so simple with the one, would become with the other extremely complicated. The complication of signs, which so long prevented the progress of science, and rendered it unintelligible to the many, exists this very day in music, and produces the same results. People could write and read music at least as well as their own language, and even more easily, were not the means of instruction actually resorted to, so difficult and discouraging. The usual methods are not within the reach of the masses, and although some few, naturally gifted, overcome the many difficulties, more soon give up, disgusted and exhausted.

But that state of things has been changed by the discovery of Guido, together with the admirable method of exercises of CHEVÉ, and his elementary treatise on harmony. Music now, with a few signs more simple than those of common handwriting, with rules as logical as those of arithmetic, is easier to read and to write than our own language. With the new theory and the new method, masses may be and are taught in a few months, not only to repeat one or two pieces learned by heart, as in the old method, but to read THE OLD as well as the new method at sight, to write from ear and to compose without the assistance of any instrument. Henceforth, musical science is free of access. Music will be no more a privilege of the few. Without trouble, without fatigue, nay even with facility and pleasure, everybody may learn to read and write it in a short time.

Mlle. SAUVAGEOT will deliver a free Lecture upon this interesting subject, at the Cooper Institute, room No. 21, on TUESDAY, Feb. 8, at 7½ p. m.

Particular Notice.—Whereas, some unprincipled persons persist in advertising Medicated Cigars for the Cure of Coughs, Colds, Lung and Liver Diseases, &c., now, therefore, notice is hereby given to all concerned, that by the right of discovery and invention, the right to manufacture MEDICATED CIGARS, TOBACCO, &c., for the cure of the above diseases is entirely and exclusively my own, and that letters patent will soon be granted by the U. S. Patent Office for the same, and all INFRINGEMENTS on the said right will be dealt with according to law; and the public are especially notified that, whereas, certain infamous unprincipled scoundrels, styling themselves a company, in Frankfort-st., have used my name and also the certificate I obtained of Dr. Chilton, for their own base purposes, I hereby certify that I have never, directly or indirectly, made any arrangements with any persons for the manufacturing and sale of my MEDICATED CIGARS, TOBACCO, &c., and that the said representations are base fabrications and falsehoods.

SECOND EDITION NOW READY.
FATHER AND DAUGHTER.
By FREDRIKA BREMER.
Author of "The Neighbors," "The Four Sisters," "Nina," "The H—Family," etc., etc.,
TRANSLATED BY MARY HOWITT.
Complete in one large volume, neatly bound in cloth, for One Dollar and Twenty-five Cents; or two volumes, paper cover, for One Dollar.
The Second Edition is published This Day by
T. B. PETERSON & BROTHERS,
NO. 306 CHESTNUT-ST., PHILADELPHIA,
And for sale by all Booksellers in New-York and elsewhere.
Read what Dr. Shelton Mackenzie, the Editor of Forney's Daily Press, says of it:
"In this volume, abandoning the hackneyed theme of mere lovers' courtship, Fredrika Bremer has chosen for her loftier subject the love of a father for his child.
"In fact, there is as much observation as invention in this romance of family life. In some of her later novels Miss Bremer has occasionally run into extravagance of thought or expression. Not so now. The narrative runs smoothly on, the interest deepens through each successive chapter, and the characters are drawn with certainty, ease and truth. Many bright eyes will be dewed with tears over these pages. Many a strong-hearted man will find himself affected in the same manner; for, indeed, it is a delightful volume, awakening all the finer emotions of the mind."
"The 'Father and Daughter' is worthy the pen of this charming author, whose domestic stories have won the popular heart, in America as well as in Europe."—[Germantown Telegraph.
"The Father and Daughter is an original and peculiar book; one full of temptations to the light and to make not a—a work suggesting, to readers who write, many creative efforts. In it the author leaves the old sentimental romantic ground of sensual affinity, and caste spirit and earnestness into paternal affection. We commend the work, in all seriousness, to those who love to see a home happy."—[Evening Bulletin.
For sale by all Booksellers, in New-York and elsewhere.
Copies of either edition of the above work will be sent to any person, to any part of the United States, free of postage, on their remitting the price of the edition they may wish to the publishers, in a letter. Address all orders, to receive immediate attention, to

Containing the
GREAT UNFINISHED PROBLEMS OF THE UNIVERSE,
With the Motions of the Sun and the Planets through Space, and the Determination of the Center of the Stellar Universe.
By Prof. O. M. MITCHEL,
Of the Cincinnati Observatory.
Being a Lecture delivered Saturday evening, Jan. 29, 1859, at the Academy of Music, N. Y., before an immense audience, and for the benefit of Prof. Mitchel.
This most thrilling and soul-inspiring theme was treated by our eminent American Astronomer in his usual graphic and masterly style, and held in almost breathless attention an audience of near 4,000 persons.
PULPIT AND ROSTRUM, No. 2 (just published) contains two able and practical Addresses—one by the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, the other by James T. Brady, esq.—on "Mental Culture for Women." These Lectures make a powerful appeal in behalf of the working women of our country, and present facts deserving of universal attention.
PULPIT AND ROSTRUM, No. 1, contains a verbatim report of a Sermon on "Christian Recreation and Unchristian Amusement" by the Rev. T. L. Cuyler, delivered at Cooper Institute. As this excellent Discourse has called forth responses from several advocates of the Drama, it possesses at this time special interest.
Price, per Number, 10 cents; 12 successive Numbers, $1.
For sale, and subscriptions received, by all Booksellers.

SAFETY!
COMFORT!! AND ELEGANCE
ARE INSURED BY WEARING
DOUGLAS & SHERWOOD'S
NEW
MATINEE SKIRT, WITH THE
PATENT DETACHABLE
HOOP FASTENING
AND
ADJUSTABLE BUSTLE.
SAFETY!! since it effectually obviates the danger arising from entangling the feet, or foreign substances in the hoops!
COMFORT!! because the muslin skirt can be instantaneously removed from the springs by PATENT DETACHABLE FASTENINGS, washed, with other garments, and at no greater expense, and replaced on the hoops in a minute!
ELEGANCE!! because the scientific cut of the muslin skirt, and the fine material of which it is composed, give a graceful fall to the robe worn over it; and will, in hot weather, enable the wearer to dispense with any intermediate skirt.
The MATINEE SKIRT has eleven hoops, weighs but ten ounces, is STAMPED WITH THE TRADE MARK of Messrs DOUGLAS & SHERWOOD, and is the best Skirt ever introduced to the Public, and quite indispensable to every lady who desires to combine in her apparel SAFETY, COMFORT and ELEGANCE! For sale at all the principal stores in the United States and Canada.
