section, but their testimony was mainly corroborative of the above.

Patrick Ames was the first witness for the defence. He was with Gibson most of the evening of the 16th of January and took him home at 9 o'clock; his memory was very bad concerning the incidents of the evening, but he remembered taking Gibson home.

Susanna Backnot was examined, but her testimony was of no importance.

The Court then took a recess of twenty minutes to allow the Jury to get their supper, it then being 8 o'clock.

Mr. P. G. Clark commenced summing up the case on the part of the defense shortly after 9 o'clock. He raised the point that concert of action between the prisoner and the other persons in committing the act must be shown to hold the prisoner responsible. He then reviewed the evidence at length, arguing that from the positions of the prisoner and the deceased there could have been no possibility of the shot coming from the prisoner. There was too much mystery and doubt in the case, and the testimony was too slight to send a man to the gallows upon.

The District-Attorney pressed a conviction on the evidence, which he considered fully sufficient. The testimony was conclusive that the prisoner was the principal in this matter.

The Judge charged the Jury, first defining under the statute the term murder, and then considered the principles of law applicable to the facts in this case. The first question was whether the prisoner at the bar was the person who caused the death of the deceased. It was for the Jury to judge whether the shots that were fired through the door caused the death of the deceased, and whether the prisoner was the person who fired the shot which caused the death. If the Jury had a reasonable doubt as to the guilt or innocence of the prisoner, he was entitled to the benefit of it. The Judge then stated under what circumstances a verdict of manslaughter could be found, and the Jury retired, it being then about 11 o'clock.

After an absence of half an hour, the Jury returned with a verdict of GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER IN THE FIRST DEGREE.

The Jury was polled without altering the result, and the prisoner was remanded for sentence. The Court adjourned to next Monday at 10 o'clock.

TUESDAY, April 19—P. M.

The Stock market is heavy and lower again for railway shares, with but two or three exceptions, and the tone seemed to grow weaker as business progressed during the day, bringing up at the close with a very heavy feeling. The exceptions to the decline in the morning were Pacific Mail, Reading, and Rock Island, but the latter gave way in the afternoon, and finally became heavy with the rest. The turning point of operations for the day was on New-York Central, which, opening at 76, was sold down to 75¾, and at the Second Board closed rather dull at 75½. The largest sales, however, were after the adjournment, when several leading operators suddenly supplied the market with very large lots, and the consequence of these heavy operations was a further decline to 74. The dragging character of the movements in this stock has had an adverse influence upon the rest of the Railway share list, and, in the face of its continued decline, it has been very difficult to sustain other stocks, which participate to some extent in the same troubles of competition and diminished profits. The sales of Central after the adjournment of the Second Board are estimated as high as 8,000 shares. Harlem Preferred declined to 41¾ at the First Board, and was ½ lower in the afternoon, at which point the stock closed firm, but had not much animation. Reading was well maintained at both sessions, and the cash stock continues in good demand, aided by the support of the Philadelphia operators. Panama was pressed for sale on sellers' options with considerable vigor, but was very steady for regular stock at a decline of ½ ⅌ cent. Pacific Mail also was strong at both sessions, and closed at 88½, although a fraction lower during the first call in the morning. Of the Western shares, Rock Island, though not very active, was quite firm at a slight concession at the First Board, but followed the rest of the rest of the market later in the day, and was finally done at 57. Galena was less firm, but yielded slowly until the afternoon, when it was sold down to 66½ in registered transactions, and was quoted afterward as low as 66¼. Michigan Central opened at 52½, but declined to 52¼ on the call, and was a fraction lower in the afternoon. Michigan Southern Guaranteed was very heavy, and went down to 38, finally touching 37¼ at the Second Board. Illinois Central was sold down to 65½ in registered transactions, and sales after the Board were reported as low as 65. State stocks were firm during the day, and there is a steady though not active market for the best descriptions of Railway bonds. Eries of '75 declined to 28¼. Illinois Central Construction and Freelands were firm at quotations. The disposition to sell at the Second Board was quite general, and the shares were supplied freely in almost any way to suit buyers; but the most important transactions and the most serious decline took place after the adjournment, when large lots of New-York Central, Galena and Rock Island were let loose, and quite a young panic seemed for the time to take possession of the market. The suddenness of the decline and the low prices touched will be quite likely to stimulate a reaction in the morning, but the outside support is so feeble, and the immediate prospects of our railways are so much clouded, that a sanguine temperament is required to take a hopeful view of the future market. The closing prices were: for Missouri 6s, 88¼@88½; Canton Company, 19@19¼; Cumberland Coal Company, 20@22; New-York Central, 74@74½; Harlem, 12½@12¾; Hudson River 32¾@33; Reading, 51¼@51½; Michigan Central, 51½@52; Michigan Southern and Northern Indiana 13¼@13½; Michigan Southern and Northern Indiana Preferred, 37¼@37½; Panama, 121½@122; Illinois Central 65@65¼; Galena and Chicago, 66@66½; Cleveland and Toledo, 25½@25¾; Chicago and Rock Island, 57@57½; Pacific Mail, 88¼@88½.

The market for foreign bills closed dull. The demand has been smaller than was anticipated, and at the close there was a rather better supply of bills. Sterling is 109¼@110; Francs 5 15@5.11¼.

Freights to Liverpool, 1,000 bales Cotton at 5-32d. @ 3-16d.; 100 boxes Cheese, at 27s. 6d.; 100 tierces Beef, at 3s.; 1,700 bbls. Rosin, at 1s. 3d.; 60 tuns Logwood, at 12s. 6d. To London, 400 bbls. Rosin, at 2s. 3d. To Glasgow, 300 bbls. Rosin, at 2s. 3d.; 20 tuns Grease Butter at 20s. To Antwerp, 10 000 light Pipe Staves, at $15. A ship from Norfolk to Havana on private terms. The business of the Sub-Treasury was: Receipts, $150 833 60—for Customs, $118,000; Payments, $169,940 48: Balance, $6 962.795 60.

We annex a comparative statement of the Exports (exclusive of specie) from New-York to foreign ports for the week and since Jan. 1:

	1857.	1858.	1859.
Total for Week	$1,249 882	$1,486,559	$1,460,037
Previously reported	20,029,721	16,968,945	16,304,055
Since January 1	$21,889,469	$17,655,504	$17,764,112

The following is a statement of the earnings of the New-York Central Railroad for the month of March, 1859, compared with its earnings for the corresponding month of the previous year:

1859	$512,689 35
1858	827,857 37
Decrease	$315,168 02

This decrease, as well as that on the Erie Road, comes entirely from the falling off in Eastward-bound freights. The passenger and Westward freights show a moderate increase on last year. Thus far in April the business on both these roads has been quite as unfavorable as in March.

The following statement shows the business of the Reading Railroad during the month of March:

	1859.	1858.
Received from Coal	$169 972 74	$165,186 79
Received from Merchandise	47,973 96	29,671 66
Received from Travel, &c.	20,037 79	23,216 54
Total	$237,984 81	$218,074 99
Transportation, roadway, dumpage, renewal fuel, and all charges	109 023 49	96,827 92
Net profits for the month	$79 5 7 32	$121,274 37
Net profits for previous three months	216 312 65	177,228 17
Total net profit for four months	$295,959 97	$298,502 54

The following is a statement of the earnings and expenses of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad in March, 1859:

Net earnings in March, 1859			$7,791 45
Net earnings in March, 1858			81,063 64
Decrease			$3,272 19

The earnings of the New-Albany and Salem Road have been:

January	$38 313 18
February	37,287 30
Total	$75,600 48
Expenses same time	80,710 43

These expenses include $28,000 which are called extraordinary. The February receipts in 1858 were only $29,921 68.

The business of the Clearing-House to-day was $24,713,030, which is large. In the Money market we notice no change of importance. The supply on call is abundant at 4@5 ⅌ cent—the former on Government and State Securities. The discount houses are quiet, and the demand for fire-proof paper takes all that is offered at 5@6 ⅌ cent for short and 6@7 ⅌ cent for long dates. Some of the banks are getting paper enough to keep up their lines, and are not disposed to go beyond this: but there is an abundance of private capital to supply any amount of facilities needed. We think the impression is growing that we shall have an active Money market toward the close of the year at 7 ⅌ cent and upward. In Government stocks there is not much doing privately, but registered is in some demand at about ¼ ⅌ cent higher than the Coupon bonds. Some transactions have been made in Treasury notes at par to 1-5 ⅌ cent discount. The supply on the market is small. The first of the new Post-Office scrip has appeared in Wall street. The market price is about 80 ⅌ cent. The form of the certificate does not satisfy capitalists, and if amended the scrip would probably sell at about 90.

The Boston steamer will take some gold on New-York account, the amount yet uncertain. The balance of trade since Eastern purchases of Cotton have been paid for, is now in favor of Boston, and moderate amounts of gold are being taken there daily. It is supposed New-York owes Boston about a million of dollars. With Philadelphia we are about even.

The following circular in reference to the affairs of the Delaware and Hudson Canal Company has been sent to the stockholders:

OFFICE OF THE DELAWARE AND HUDSON CANAL CO., NEW-YORK, April 5, 1859.

It having been stated in certain quarters that this Company has been able to pay its large dividend only by adding to its debt, the following facts and figures are submitted for the information of those interested:

GEO. TALBOT OLYPHANT, President.

The Belleville and Illinoistown Road has leased its Coal lands for a sum equal to the interest upon its Mortgage Bonds ($1,000,000). The Company is now merged in the Terre Haute, Alton and St. Louis Road, and the bonds in question have been selling as low as 40 for the 2d and 67 for 1st Mortgage.

We extract the following in regard to the movement in Cotton from the Circular of W. P. Wright & Co.:

Receipts for the week 80,000 bales, against 66,000 bales same week last year. Total excess as compared with last year is reduced, and new stocks at 708,000. Next week a larger reduction will be shown, as the falling off at New Orleans, reported by telegraph, is considerable, and a gradual reduction of receipts at that point is now looked for as tolerably certain. The process of depleting the interior stocks continues; hence the larger receipts, comparatively, in Charleston and Savannah.

Exports for the week 104,000 bales, of which 39,000 are for Great Britain, 2 000 for France, and 3,000 for other foreign ports. Next week they promise to be more moderate, as we learn by telegraph that 27,000 bales were shipped for Great Britain from New-Orleans, and 7,400 bales from Mobile. There is more buying for France in the Southern market than for some time past, and the business for the Continent of Europe continues.
