THE BEST READERS for HIGH-SCHOOL CLASSES.
By Professor CHARLES D. CLEVELAND.
1. A COMPENDIUM OF ENGLISH LITERATURE, from the Fourteenth to the close of the Eighteenth Century. Twenty-fifth thousand.
2. ENGLISH LITERATURE OF THE NINETEENTH CENTURY. Ninth thousand.
3. A COMPENDIUM OF AMERICAN LITERATURE. Fourth thousand.
These volumes contain Biographical Sketches of the Authors, and Selections from their works, together with explanatory and illustrative Notes. They are in use in a large number of the Normal and High Schools and Female Institutes of the highest standing throughout the country.
Right Rev. ALONZO POTTER, D. D., says of the "Compendium of English Literature":
"The selections seem to me to be made with much taste and judgment, and I cannot but regard this volume as a very valuable addition to our School Literature."
The late Professor GOODRICH, of Yale College:
"The selections are made with uncommon taste and judgment."
GEORGE P. EMERSON, esq.:
"I have adopted it in my school, and have found it so useful and interesting that I hope it will obtain the circulation which it so richly deserves."
W. H. WELLS, esq., Superintendent of Public Schools of Chicago:
"I have examined Cleveland's Compendium of American Literature and find it peculiarly adapted to the use for which it is intended, as a class book in the higher grades of schools. During my connection with the State Normal School at Westfield, Mass., I made constant use of Cleveland's Compendiums of English Literature, in that institution. The classes were always greatly interested in these volumes, and most of the members provided themselves with copies on leaving the school."
☞ Either volume will be mailed to any address, on receipt of $1 25, and to Teachers for EXAMINATION on receipt of 87 cts. TEACHERS wishing to introduce these works will do well to apply directly to

LOUIE'S LAST TERM AT ST. MARY'S.
Inscribed to the Memory of the late BISHOP DOANE.
A neat 12mo. Price $1.
[From Mrs. Lincoln Phelps.]
"This anonymous volume, descriptive of school life, seems not to be the work of any novice in literature or the production of any ordinary mind. It is bold and original in design daring to show that a well-meaning teacher may, through prejudice, greatly sin against a pupil too proud to come under an iron rule. The inner life at St. Mary's, thus depicted by a master-hand, will be read with deep interest by all who are interested in educating the young. The author well understood school life and the secret springs in young hearts can only be touched by love and kindness. Parents may well be pleased to put such a book into the hands of their daughters; and pupils may like to present it to teachers, who are not always themselves too wise or too good to learn."

By J. J. S. Wharton, esq. 1 vol. 8vo., 750 pp. Printed on beautifully tinted paper. Price only $5 50.
FROM THE PREFACE.—"The aims attempted, throughout this arrangement, have been compression, avoiding obscurity, and yielding information easily and effectually. A word-book, when it obviates tediousness of search by giving a concise answer to one consulting it, possesses a peculiar virtue; for tiresome is the process of turning out a word, where, instead of finding its explanation, there is a reference to another part of the book, but should the place referred to again direct the inquirer elsewhere, or, perchance, disclose neither notice or interpretation, nor, in fact, anything concerning it, then patience becomes exhausted, and perseverance indeed hopeless."

ROBERTSONIAN SYSTEM OF TEACHING MODERN LANGUAGES.
THE WHOLE FRENCH LANGUAGE.....$1 25
INTERMEDIATE FRENCH COURSE.....1 00
INTRODUCTORY FRENCH COURSE (in press).....1 00
SPANISH COURSE (in press).....1 00
From the numerous favorable notices of this system, we select only the following:
"The author of this system is Professor ROBERTSON, a celebrated teacher in Paris, who has obtained a European reputation by the excellence of his method and the success of his instructions. It claims to combine the most valuable features in the system of Manesca, Ollendorff, Hamilton, and the old grammatical authorities, while it is free from the defects which diminish the practical utility of those methods. The text on which the volume is founded is an original and attractive narrative, presenting all the peculiar idioms of the French language, together with a complete vocabulary of the words most commonly occurring in familiar discourse. The principles illustrated in this portion of the work are impressed on the mind of the pupil by constant repetition in a series of judicious exercises; and the second part is devoted to a more profound analysis of the language, establishing in a collection of clear and simple rules, all the difficulties of French grammar and syntax. Professor Robertson's method is strictly progressive. The pupil is led on, by easy and almost unconscious steps, from the rudiments of the grammar to the most complicated forms of the language. The system combines great thoroughness with remarkable perspicuity. No one can master its details without making such proficiency in the French language as to enable him to enjoy the classical productions of its literature, and with the necessary practice to speak French with correctness and facility. The volume now issued is equally adapted for the purposes of self-instruction, and for the use of classes under the direction of a competent teacher. We do not hesitate to recommend it to the notice of all who are interested in the advancement of education, believing that its substantial merits will bear the test of a scrutinizing examination."—[Harper's Magazine.]

FRENCH, GERMAN, SPANISH, LATIN, and ITALIAN LANGUAGES WITHOUT A MASTER, whereby any one or all of these Languages can be learned by any one, without a Teacher, with the aid of this book. By A. H. Monteith, esq. The best, most and easiest method of learning the French, German, Spanish, Latin, and Italian Languages without the aid of a teacher has, for the last ten years been successfully tested throughout the whole European Continent; and is, without a single exception, used in teaching the modern languages in all the educational Institutions of England, France and Germany. In London, Mr. A. H. Monteith the most celebrated teacher of languages in the world, has arranged and perfected this system; and his works on the Study of French, German, Spanish, Latin, and Italian without a master, contained in this volume, immediately obtained a sudden and extraordinary popularity. Any person unacquainted with these languages can, with the aid of this volume, be enabled to read, write, and speak the language of either, without the aid of a teacher, or any oral instruction whatever, provided they pay strict attention to the instructions laid down in the work, and that nothing shall be passed over without a thorough investigation of the subject it involves; by doing which they will find themselves to be able to speak, read, or write either language at their will and pleasure. The whole is contained in Twenty-Seven Easy Lessons. The French is in Six Easy Lessons, Spanish is in Four, German is in Six, Latin is in Six, and the Italian is in Five Easy Lessons, or Twenty-Seven in all. This work is invaluable to any person wishing to learn either or all of these languages, and is worth to any one, one hundred times its cost. This work has already run through several large editions in England; for no persons have ever bought a copy of it without recommending it to their friends. Everybody should possess themselves of a copy of it at once. Complete in one large volume, bound. Price $1 25.
