THE HYDROPULT
SAVED THE
MEDDEFIELD DYE-HOUSE
FROM BEING DESTROYED.
Read the following letter from S. M. CHURCH & BROS., sent voluntarily to THE HYDROPULT COMPANY:
MIDDLEFIELD, Mass., Oct. 27, 1860.
AMERICAN HYDROPULT Co.—Gentlemen: Our Dye House took fire on the night of the 24th inst. and when discovered the flames had burst through the roof. With the aid of two Hydropults one half of the building, together with valuable apparatus, were saved, which must inevitably have been destroyed without their assistance. We think every family should have one or more on their premises. Yours, truly,
S. M. CHURCH & BROS.,
It will be remembered that the American Institute was saved from destruction by the HYDROPULT. All who wish to buy or see the machine, call at No. 151 Nassau-st., New-York.

LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY RELIGIOUS NEWSPAPER IN THE WORLD.
THE INDEPENDENT
Is now acknowledged to be not only one of the most successful, but one of the most invaluable Family Newspapers in the country. It circulates throughout the entire North from Maine to Oregon, and is also gradually making its way into the Border Slave States. Its corps of Special Contributors numbers more of the distinguished writers known in American Literature than can be boasted by any other similar publication. Among these contributors are Mrs. HARRIET BRECHER STOWE, author of "Uncle Tom's Cabin;" JOHN G. WHITTIER, the Quaker Poet; the Rev. HENRY WARD BEECHER (one of whose sermons, revised by himself, appears in THE INDEPENDENT every week); the Rev. STEPHEN H. TYNG, Rector of St. George's Chapel in this city, whose writings are instructive to all readers; HORACE GREELEY, who furnishes a regular weekly article on public affairs; JAMES RUSSELL LOWELL, the well-known Poet and Professor; WILLIAM PAGE, one of the first of American artists, whose contributions on art are of equal weight with Ruskin's; BAYARD TAYLOR, whose interesting sketches and personal reminiscences of distinguished men and women are now appearing every week; the Rev. THEODORE CUYLER, of Brooklyn; WM. M. EVARTS, esq., of the New-York Bar; Miss EDNA DEAN PROCTOR, editor of "Beecher's Life Thoughts;" John Bigelow, of The New-York Evening Post; the Rev. ROBERT M. HATFIELD, of the Methodist Episcopal Church; the Rev. Dr. GEORGE B. CHEEVER, now traveling in Europe, and writing letters of his travels; with many other writers, whose weekly contributions make the pages of THE INDEPENDENT so rich that ten times the money which it costs would be a cheap price for it.
Mrs. ELIZABETH BARRETT BROWNING, of Florence, Italy, contributes to THE INDEPENDENT her freshest and finest Poems.
Foreign correspondents in every quarter of the civilized world contribute letters to its columns, informing its readers of the steady progress of events in all nations.
The Commercial Department is a recognized standard authority, quoted by the country Press far and wide.
Its Editorial Staff consists of the following persons, aided by other writers: The Rev. LEONARD BACON, D. D., of New-Haven; the Rev. RICHARD S. STORRS, Jr., D. D., of Brooklyn; the Rev. JOSEPH P. THOMPSON, D. D., of New-York; the Rev. JOSHUA LEAVITT, D. D., of Brooklyn, and THEODORE TILTON, esq.
THE INDEPENDENT is now rapidly increasing in circulation every day, and its conductors stand pledged to give it increasing excellence in proportion to increasing patronage.
The price of subscription is Two Dollars a year when sent by mail out of the city. To subscribers who receive it by carriers in New-York and Brooklyn, the price is $2 50. But the publisher makes the following
EXTRAORDINARY INDUCEMENT TO SUBSCRIBE:
If any person will send to him the names of three new subscribers to THE INDEPENDENT, accompanied with the money (that is, Six Dollars for the three subscribers), he will be presented for his trouble with a handsome copy of
WEBSTER'S UNABRIDGED
DICTIONARY.
Pictorial Edition, containing 1,500 engraved illustrations. To persons living in the country the Dictionary will be promptly forwarded by Express. When it is considered that the price of the Dictionary is of itself $6 50 at the Bookstores, it will be seen that Three Copies of THE INDEPENDENT for one year, and a Dictionary besides, and all for only Six Dollars, make about as good an investment, for so small a sum of money, as the market anywhere affords.
THE INDEPENDENT of this week, out this morning, is a splendid number, which will amply repay anybody's perusal.
Please order specimen copy, which will be sent gratuitously to any address. All letters should be addressed to

MISS GILBERT'S CAREER.
By
Dr. J. G. HOLLAND,
Author of "Titcomb's Letters," "Gold Foil," "Bitter-Sweet," &c.
1 vol. 12mo. $1 25. Copies sent, post-paid, on receipt of price.
CHAS. SCRIBNER, No. 124 Grand st.
Dr. Holland has exhibited great ability in introducing into his work, and managing with unusual skill, numerous characters, essentially different, and yet each an admirable specimen of its kind—every one acting his part naturally, and all contributing to the interest of the novel and to its value as a work of art. Wit, pathos, satire, exquisite descriptions of nature and delineations of character, sterling common sense, an elevated tone of morals, beautiful imagery, a polished style, keen observation, creative power, a mastery of the passions, and fertility in suggesting thoughts to the reader, all combine to make the work one of marked power and interest.

ONE of the most interesting and instructive Books of the day is BRIEF BIOGRAPHIES.
By Samuel Smiles, author of "Self-Help."
One handsome volume, with six fine steel portraits. Price $1 25.
The Boston Journal says:
"This handsome volume contains thirty-five brief biographies of men and women conspicuous by their position, inventive power or literary success. Among them are James Watt the monarch of steam; Dr. Arnold, the noble Master of Rugby; Audubon, the naturalist; the imaginative and artistic Hawthorne; the lamented Hugh Miller, and the Brownings, husband and wife. The sketches are interesting and instructive, and the pleasure of their perusal is lightened by the fine portraits which embellish the work."
TICKNOR & FIELDS, Publishers.

COTTAGES OF THE ALPS.
By Miss ANNA C. JOHNSON, author of "Peasant Life in Germany," &c., &c. 1 vol., 12mo., $1 25,
Copies sent by mail, post-paid, on receipt of price.
CHARLES SCRIBNER,
No 124 Grand st.
"It is the writer's humor to do what Jefferson said every traveler should attempt—look into the cottages and homes of the people, inspect the grinding in the fireplace, &c., &c."—[Bookseller's Medium.
"The author herself at home among the people where she goes or rests, becomes acquainted with them in their ways at and around the house, and she feels us in an easy, lively, readable way, what she saw, heard, and did while she was among them."—[N Y Observer.
"It abounds in social and domestic details, and does more than dozens of ordinary books of travel to familiarize the reader with the home-life of this oppressed people."—[Boston Journal.
"It has all the interest of a book of travels without any of the machinery of travel."—[N Y. Examiner.
"This is one of the most delightful books of the present year, and will give the reader a most complete and faithful idea of that most charming and sublime of all the countries, Switzerland."—[Pittsburgh Gazette.
"Society is carefully limned and the peculiarities of the people of different sections are discussed and described. The book is exceedingly interesting."—[N
