VICTOR HUGO'S NOVEL.

HANS OF ICELAND.

A picture of life in Norway and the shores of the Baltic, equal to his

"LES MISERABLES."

Price 50 cents in paper; $1 in cloth.

JOHN BRADBURN,
Successor to
M. DOOLADY,
No. 49 Walker-st., New-York.

Of HANS OF ICELAND a distinguished American author says:

"No work that Victor Hugo has written exhibits his peculiar talent as a romancer in a more marked manner than 'Hans of Iceland.' It is as remarkable in its way as 'Les Miserables,' which it preceded some thirty years, showing the same familiarity with dark and terrible passions, the same power of handling strong motions and obscure situations, and the same inimitable force and intensity of sketching. In point of interest, indeed, it is even superior to his 'Les Miserables.' The hero, Hans of Iceland, is one of the most singular creatures in the whole range of fiction—wild and awful to the last degree, a demon of blood and vengeance. The rest of the characters—Peugenna Spiagnolly, the keeper of the desolate house, Schumacher, the State prisoner, and his daughter Ether, Ordener, the young and noble lover, and the villain and traitor Musdaemon—are clearly conceived and graphically delineated. The story is one of breathless interest, defying the reader to lay it down until he has finished it."

COOPER UNION for the ADVANCEMENT of SCIENCE and ART.—FOURTH ANNUAL SESSION.
FREE EVENING CLASSES in Mathematics, Chemistry, Natural Philosophy, Mechanical Science, Drawing and Music.
FREE SCHOOL of ART for Females by Day.
FREE READING-ROOM for both sexes, open daily from 8 a. m. to 10 p. m.
FREE PICTURE GALLERY, open daily from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.
The Trustees announce that applications for admission to the Free Night Classes and to the Female Day School of Art may be made daily to the Clerk, at the office of the Cooper Union Building. For the convenience of those who cannot apply in the day, the Clerk will attend at the office on the evenings of Sept. 26, 27, 29, 30 and Oct. 1, 2, and 3, from 7½ to 9 p. m.
Applicants for admission to the Night Classes must be able to read, write, and cipher with facility, present a written certificate of good moral character, and be not less than 15 years of age.
In case all the applicants cannot be admitted, the preference under the Trust Deed must be given to those who are engaged in manual labor.
The term will begin on the 1st day of October, when the pupils in the Female School of Art will attend at 9 a. m. To this school, which will remain under the direction of Mrs. Field, both free and pay pupils will be admitted, as heretofore. But as the School is now so large that the Trustees are not able to admit all who apply, it is expected that none will apply for admission to the Industrial or Free Class who are able to enter the Amateur Class. The Trustees, however, in order to carry out the design of the founder, will limit the number of paying pupils to one-half the number of free pupils.
The pupils in Mathematics will attend for organization on Tuesday evening, Oct. 7, at 7½ p. m.; in Drawing, on Wednesday evening, Oct. 8; in Chemistry, on Thursday evening, Oct. 9; in Natural Philosophy, on Friday evening, Oct. 10; in Music, on Saturday evening, Oct. 11; and in Mechanical Philosophy, on Monday evening, Oct. 13. For admission to the last class, a knowledge of Algebra, Geometry, and Trigonometry is indispensable.
The rooms will last from six to eight months, and will be closed with the usual exhibitions and public lectures.
The Trustees cordially invite the public to avail themselves of the great facilities afforded by the Reading Room, which is supplied with all the leading Foreign and Domestic papers and magazines, and offered freely to the public on the sole condition of good behavior—no ticket of admission even being required. By order of the Trustees,
ABRAM S. HEWITT, Secretary.
