THE BOOK FOR THE HOUR.—The RESULTS of EMANCIPATION.—By M. AUGUSTIN COCHIN. Translated by Miss MARY L. BOOTH, translator of M. Gasparin's Works on America.
At this moment, when public attention is directed to the important question of EMANCIPATION, and equal inquiries are made for FACTS as to the RESULTS, industrial, pecuniary, and social, of the system in those countries where it has been tried, the book of M. Cochin is PECULIARLY OPPORTUNE. Based entirely on official reports, its statistics, which comprehend every form of the question, are fully reliable. M. Cochin is an ex-Maire and Municipal Councillor of the City of Paris. He has had great advantages for research among both public and private documents, and has devoted his life to the subject on which his forthcoming volume treats. He recently received the order of knighthood from the Pope, in acknowledgment of the ability displayed in this book, to which also was awarded the first prize of three thousand francs by the French Academy.
12 mo. $1 25. Copies will be sent free by mail, on receipt of the price. Orders should be sent in immediately, as the First edition is already nearly absorbed.

AMONG THE PINES.

THE GREAT BOOK OF SOUTHERN LIFE.

NEW EDITION JUST READY.

OVER 30,000 COPIES
Have been already sold, and the demand continues unabated.

AMONG THE PINES;
OR, SOUTH IN SECESSION TIME.

BY EDMUND KIRKE.

One handsome duodecimo volume, over 300 pages, cloth bound, price $1; or Paper Covers, price 75 cents.

An extraordinary but truthful picture of the entire social system of the South, describing the domestic life of the rich planters, the small planters, and the "white trash," and depicting actual scenes on the large and small plantations.

AMONG THE PINES

The success of this admirable work has been of the most extraordinary character. Edition after edition has been exhausted, until over 30,000 copies have been sold, and the Thirty-fifth Thousand already printed. Every one is reading and praising it.

AMONG THE PINES.

The N. Y. Tribune calls it "a volume of rare interest, not only as an illustration of Southern society, but as a graphic, admonitory, and often thrilling story."

AMONG THE PINES.

The Providence Journal says "it is one of the most readable books on Southern life we have ever seen. The pictures which the author gives of the workings of the peculiar institution are not surpassed by the most tragic scenes so vividly portrayed by Mrs. Stowe."

AMONG THE PINES.

The N. Y. Christian Inquirer says "it is one of the most graphic and truth-telling books which has ever been written of the South and Southern society. * * * 'Among the Pines' is a good manual on the war, and on the cause of the war."

AMONG THE PINES.

The N. Y. Examiner remarks that "no more interesting or suggestive volume has ever been published about the South and its peculiar institutions. * * This fascinating volume needs no other commendation than the fact that its sale, within a few weeks, has reached Nineteen Thousand copies."

AMONG THE PINES.

The Boston Banner of Light says "'Among the Pines' is certainly a most remarkable book; the writer of it is a real hero, without ever appearing to be aware of it. He sketches and colors with the firm and rapid hand of an artist, and throws together incidents and develops scenes that stir the blood in every vein in the body."

AMONG THE PINES.

The Pittsburg Gazette says "no work on Southern social life since 'Uncle Tom' has been given to the world which can at all be compared to Mr. Kirke's 'Among the Pines.' It is one of the books of the season which is sure to be universally read, and which will live when much contemporary writing will be forgotten."

AMONG THE PINES.

The Salem Observer says "the best critics have pronounced this book the most vivid and life-like representation of the peculiar phase of Southern life and character which it describes that has ever been written. Indeed, so truthful do its descriptions seem, that it has been matter of dispute with not a few whether they are fiction or fact."

AMONG THE PINES.

The Boston Daily Advertiser says "as a vivid picture of life in the Carolinas, we are disposed to give this book the palm over all others. The conversations and delineations of character are given with great skill, and present the various phases of Southern life with great accuracy."

AMONG THE PINES.

The Boston Recorder says "it is a book which will be read with deep interest at the present time. The style is vivid, and the pictures sketched we suppose to be true."

AMONG THE PINES.

The N. Y. Independent calls it "a book of striking and truthful portraiture of slave society; a powerful and even painful story, and worth reading far more for instruction than for pleasure. The story is clear and terrible with the lurid light of the passions, miseries, and violences that grew out of Slavery."

READY TO-DAY, DEC. 11:
THE LIFE OF ANDREW JACKSON,
BY JAMES PARTON.
Complete in one Crown Octavo Volume, with Steel Portrait, Price, $1 75.
"This volume is a condensation of the Life of Andrew Jackson, in three volumes, octavo, which was published by the author in 1860. Nearly everything in the way of document, letter, episode, disquisition, note or appendix has been omitted; but the story of the life has been retained, and the more interesting narratives, scenes and anecdotes are preserved entire."
"The events of the last two years have invested with new interest the character of the man to whom we owed the postponement of civil war for thirty years. Mr. Webster thought the issue should have been met then, the strength of the Government tested then, not postponed till the mighty spell of the Union had lost its potency over a third of the country; and Jackson himself constantly regretted, to his dying hour, that he had not dealt to Calhoun the penalty due to one whom baffled ambition alone made a disturber of his country's peace."
The publishers believe they are doing an acceptable service, in presenting at this time a condensed edition of Mr. Parton's great work; a work which, on its appearance two years since, excited the liveliest interest, and has since reached a sale rarely attained by any biography of similar size and cost. At home and abroad the critics have agreed in awarding to "Parton's Life of Jackson" the highest praise, for all those qualities which render a biography attractive and valuable, and it has taken a high place among the standard works in the language.
The complete work is in three volumes, octavo, price $6. The abridgement now ready is in one crown 8vo. volume, price $1 75. Published by
MASON BROTHERS,
Nos. 5 and 7 Mercer-st., New-York.

UNABRIDGED.—VICTOR HUGO'S
LES MISERABLES.
THE ONLY COMPLETE TRANSLATION.
CARLETON'S COPYRIGHT EDITION.
A splendid man with a splendid purpose has written a book. It is a romance. For fiery brilliance it is the solar sun of the romances. It is a history. Hume, Thiers, or Macaulay have written none more graphic or imperishable. It is a drama. Shakespeare's best does not exceed it. It is a metaphysical and philosophical novel. Sir Edward Bulwer Lytton is eclipsed by it. * * * * * * *
The book is preaching and will ever preach, powerfully, resoundingly preach the great, deep, sweet religion that the Only Man went about doing and being. * * * What Hugo compresses into a page, a printer would require an acre for. * * * The first fifty pages of Cosette—there are no fifty pages in uninspired literature to compete with them.

POOLEY & Co.
AUTHORIZED ENGLISH TRANSLATION
OF VICTOR HUGO'S
LES MISERABLES.
TO THE TRADE.
In consequence of the appearance of a catch-penny edition of "LES MISERABLES," translated from a pirated French copy, the publisher of the authorized English translation is compelled himself to issue a LOW-PRICED EDITION, which is just ready, the five parts complete in one volume.
By ordering POOLEY & Co.'s authorized English translation, the public will obtain a superior translation, and booksellers will discourage and condemn the most horrible and disgraceful translation that has ever disgraced the annals of the American book trade.
Buyers are cautioned to notice that W. I. POOLEY & Co.'s imprint is on the title page, and they will be sure to get the only true translation yet published.
THE AUTHORIZED EDITION,
Complete in One Volume, with Portraits and Biographical Sketch, is published for ONE DOLLAR, in Paper; or, ONE DOLLAR AND A HALF, in Muslin.

Will be published on Wednesday, Dec. 17:
THE ROMANCE OF THE MUMMY.
By THEOPHILE GAUTIER.
With an Introduction
By WILLIAM C. PRIME,
Author of Boat Life in Egypt, Nubia, &c.
Paper, 50 cents. Cloth, $1.
Mr. Prime says, in his introduction to this charming ROMANCE OF EASTERN LIFE:
"In the background of a story, which is the work of the imagination, he has presented a series of pictures drawn with a master-hand from the very life; or, if I err in saying from the life, then from that marvelous death which in Egypt preserves all the outlines and all the peculiarities of ancient life. * * * I commend this work to every one who desires to know how men and women lived in the old Egyptian days. Enough lost in the book is the best picture of the Egypt of the Pharaohs that has hitherto been attempted by any one but the learned copyists of the monuments. As such, romance though it be, I bespeak for it a thoughtful perusal."

A NEW JUVENILE BOOK,
BOYS AT CHEQUASSET;
Or,
"A LITTLE LEAVEN."
It is written by a successful authoress, a lady of rare culture and exquisite taste, and chronicles this summer's Adventures of JOHNNIE OSBORN, a bright-eyed lad of ten years, who, with his father, mother and sister, moved into the country in May.
"Egg Collecting" has had a great run with country boys at the "Foreign Island" in boating music with the city boys, Johnnie and two other lads meet collections, and through them wrought out the striking scene of the book, now "A LITTLE LEAVEN LEAVENETH THE WHOLE LUMP."
It is the best boy's book I ever read, so natural, so real, so instructive and entertaining.
Over and over again it will be read, and the lesson taught never will be forgotten.
Parents be sure and secure a copy for the Christmas and read it yourselves. There has not been a novel published this season more fascinating.

3. The printing and press-work have been done in the best manner at the justly-famed Riverside Press of Cambridge, Mass., by H. O. Houghton, who has no superior in the beauty and skill of his work.
4. The book is illustrated with the unusual number of 42 finely-engraved Steel Plates, by John Sartain and George E. Perine. This imparts a rich, artistic value to the work.
5. Some of the plate-engravings depict historical scenes and events, which give freshness to the reality of past times.
6. The number and character of the Portraits, with accompanying Biographical Sketches of many illustrious personages, with the leading events of their life and times, impart unusual attractiveness to the volume.
7. This book is richly bound in Turkey Morocco, full gilt, and Turkey Antique, and put up in a neat box or case.
Price, $12 50.
It will be sent by mail or express to any part of the country, expenses paid, on receipt of the amount by the publisher.

AN ELEGANT BOOK FOR THE COMING CHRISTMAS!
IN THE WOODS
WITH
BRYANT, LONGFELLOW AND HALLECK.
Superbly illustrated on Wood,
FROM DRAWINGS BY JOHN A. HOWE.
Printed on highly-finished tinted paper, and bound in elegant style of cloth and morocco.
From The New-York Evening Post.
"IN THE WOODS."
"The pen and the pencil are so charmingly blended in the daintily-printed volume, 'In the Woods,' just issued by James G. Gregory, that it is difficult to say whether the production should be classed as a work of literature or a work of art. Mr. John A. Howe, whose 'Illustrations' have given him a wide reputation, has selected Mr. Bryant's 'Death of the Flowers,' Mr. Longfellow's sylvan stanzas, 'When Woods were Green,' and Fitz-Greene Halleck's fragment, 'Wyoming,' and giving them the title 'In the Woods,' has set his facile pencil to work to provide for the poems a series of illustrations. Most happily has he succeeded. The charms of sylvan life were never more felicitously delineated. Foliage of all kinds, from the scarred mountain pines and cedars to the delicate leaf-hidden ferns, are represented in some of the most exquisite specimens of wood engravings yet laid before the public, while a few pictures of a different character prevent monotony. Mr. Gregory has done his part well, and the book, in printing, paper and binding, is all that could be desired."

INTUITIONS
AND
SUMMARIES OF THOUGHT.
BY C. N. BOVEE.
In two vols. Scholar's style. Printed at the Riverside press. 12mo. $2.
"Replete with original and beautiful thoughts. * * * An eminently suggestive work. * * * Its perusal will afford much real pleasure as can rarely be derived from literary sources."—[Boston Bulletin.
"The title of these volumes is no misnomer. They are full of thoughts. * * * They teem with strong, clear, manly comments, tersely expressed."—[N. Y. Commercial.
"The author thinks profoundly, and expresses himself with precision, force and point. He reminds his readers of such writers as Feltham, Jean Paul, Paul Courier and Helps, and these clever Frenchmen of former times, who might, in a certain sense, be called masters of the sentences. An independent thinker, he dares to say things that are not popular. * * * The volumes are most precious and pleasing."—[Boston Traveller.
"A combination of sense and genius truly surprising."—[Boston Post.
"Some of the most striking thoughts ever printed. Their tone is manly, genial, independent, and original."—[Hartford Courant.
"Their contents might be filtered into a library of average popular reading."—[Springfield Republican.
"The work of a pleasant, scholarly, and occasionally profound thinker. The style is admirable, and the author has given us great pleasure by his books."—[Philadelphia Inquirer.
"They are lively, entertaining, wise and witty and from first to last, enjoyable. * * * The work will furnish an almost inexhaustible mine for all in search of ideas."—[Worcester Palladium.
"They contained the impressions of a thoughtful and keen-sighted observer, and exhibit a rare suggestive faculty, and the workings of a mind at once original and finely cultured. The criticisms on 'Art,' 'Authors,' 'Characters,' &c., are especially admirable."—[Albany Evening Journal.
"The results of years of thought, noted as they occurred, and subsequently revised, make up these delightful volumes. They are widely diverse in subject, but all show maturity of thought. The publisher has done all that the typographic art could do to enhance the charms of a work which cannot but become a favorite."—[Boston Journal.

I. RICHTER'S GREAT ROMANCE.
TITAN: A Romance. From the German of Jean Paul Friedrich Richter, author of "Flower, Fruit and Thorn Pieces," etc. Translated by Charles T. Brooks. With a fine Steel Portrait of Richter. 2 vols., 12mo., beveled boards, gilt top. $3.
The present is the first English translation ever made of Titan, long recognized as Richter's greatest and best romance. The author was ten years engaged in its composition, and all his other works were preparatory and tributary to this. It is his crowning life-work, and the master-piece of his striking genius. The Titan has elicited the strongest testimonials from eminent literary authorities.
"Jean Paul's works are the galaxy of the German literary firmament. I defy a man to lay his hand on that sentence which is not vital and endued with will."—[De Quincy.
"Over all he sees, over all his writers, are spread the tenderness of a cheerful spirit, the light of inexhaustible human love, the avowed object of all his literary labors was to raise up again the downcast faith in God, Virtue and Immortality."—[Lempriere.
"We defy the most careless or prejudiced reader to peruse his works without an impression of something splendid, wonderful and daring. * * * His faculties are all of gigantic mold."—[Carlyle.
"The more 'Titan' is read, the more it will be acknowledged a work of exalted genius, pure morality and perennial beauty."—[Mrs. Lee.
II. MISS PROCTOR'S POEMS.
POEMS. By ADELAIDE ANNE PROCTOR. Complete in one volume, blue and gold. Price, $1.
This latest addition to the blue and Gold Library comprises all the published poems of Miss Proctor, who has become so great a favorite in England and this country. In it may be found both series of "Legends and Lyrics," but one of which has been reprinted in this country, and Miss Proctor's later volume, "A Chaplet of Verses," recently issued in London.
The London Athenæum says "now that Mrs. Browning is dead there is no English living poetess to take her place, comparable with Adelaide Pro
