The Soldiers' Voting Law,

The Judges of the Superior Court met in this city on Monday, by invitation of the Legislature, and chewed over the Soldiers' Voting Law till 10 p. m. They at last came to the unanimous opinion that the law is unconstitutional. We do not wonder at the complaints of our lawyers that the opinions of our Supreme Court have not, for years, been quoted as good authority in other States. Our soldiers in the field, though they lose their votes, will see that the Republican party has done all in its power to secure them the privilege, while they have been persevertingly opposed by the so-called "Democrats."

The Breckinridgites succeeded by a technical construction in preventing twenty thousand freemen taking part in the next election, and they hope to elevate to office in their absence some of the Eatonian "Peace Flag" Patriots.
