From Central America.

We have Panama papers up to the 21st ult., by the Northern Light.

A correspondent of The Star and Herald, writing from San Salvador under date of February 10, states that the misunderstanding which has existed for some time between Carrera and Barrios is now about coming to a crisis.

Intelligence is received here that Carrera left his capital on the 5th of February with 4,000 troops, with the avowed intention of invading Salvador.

Gen. Barrios has not been idl , nor will he be unprepared for future important operations.

The bulk of the Salvadorian forces will be at Cojutepeque, a position fortified by a French officer, Col. Galtzier, and by art and nature made almost impregnable.

In a few days, 6,000 troops come in from the different departments, mostly armed, and in the incredibly short time of five days there were upwards of 6,000 troops organized in their battalions, armed and equipped. Each battalion has its company of riflemen, armed with the Enfield rifles, of which the Government have 1,000, bought recently.

In former wars, it was the custom to bring in the men tied with ropes; on this occasion they came in their battalions, formed in the departments, and although the soldiers were left entirely free in the city, there has not happened a single desertion.

The popularity of the President with the people, and the recent act of Carrera in preventing the Bishop of Salvador from his voluntary return among his flock, and keeping him a prisoner in the archbishopal palace at Guatemala, has combined in exciting the people to an extraordinary degree.

Gen. Osorio is in command of the Division of "Paz i Orden." Gen. Braxemante with San Vicente division, Cols. Lozarray and Siquenza of the San Salvador and Cojutepeque battalions, all well equipped, field battery of rifled guns, left this city on the 7th.

The standing artillery, organized and commanded by Col. Olaho, may be said to form the heart of the army. The men are well disciplined, perfectly drilled, and nearly all under the command of foreigners; their equipment is complete, and they are, altogether, a fine-looking body of men.

The troops, without exception, but principally the battalion of the capital, 500 strong, armed with Enfield rifles, evinced an enthusiasm never before known in this country.

Gen. Escolan, with the forces of the Departments of Sonsonnatti and Santa Ana, is strongly fortified in the town of Santa Ana. Col. Lechette occupies the line with cavalry towards the Rio La Paz since the beginning of the war rumors.

The President left on the 10th to take the command-in-chief, leaving the veteran Gen. Cabayas in command of this city, which is being fortified by a line of circumvallation, which offers excellent points in the principal entries, and will be defended by the heavy artillery created and commanded by Col. Olaho.

LA UNION, Feb. 11.—It is reported here to-day that Carrera has intercepted the dispatches of Mr. Mathews, British Minister, on the road to Mr. Partridge, United States Minister, Salvador.

REALEJO, Feb. 16.—The Nicaraguans have erected temporary forts at the entrance of the harbor; don't know what they are afraid of.

LA UNION, Feb. 15.—Intelligence is received here to-day that Gen. Carrera has reached the Rio La Paz, and will cross on the 16th or 17th, having been re-enforced by 1,800 more troops, under command of Gen. Zavala, he will immediately take up his line of march toward Santa Ana; it is evident a conflict must take place in a day or two.

[Guatemala Correspondence.]

GUATEMALA, Feb. 6.—War has already commenced. Carrera left this city on the 4th, at the head of 2,000 men, and Zavala will follow on Saturday, with 700 more. With those already on the frontier they expect to have 5,000 men to invade Salvador. The plan is to go directly to the capital. We do not know here if Barrios has fortified the the road to Santa Ana or not. The supposition is that he will concentrate all his forces in San Salvador.

COSTA RICA.

The coffee crop is coming down rapidly from Costa Rica; a large quantity will go to California. It will not exceed 95,000 quintals, which is about 15,000 less than last year.

From South America.

The Pacific Steam Navigation Company's steamer Peru arrived at Tobogo on the 21st of February. The dates brought by the Peru are:

Port Mornt, Jan. 17; Valparaiso, Feb. 2; Callao, 13th; Guayaquil, 17th.

In addition to mails and passengers, the Peru brings $411,356 in specie for transmission to Southampton.

CHILI.

The news from Chili by this mail is of the same unexciting tone as by several previous mails.

Business is quiet; imports during the past fortnight have been unimportant. Cotton goods are scarce and at famine prices.

Harvest will turn out very satisfactory. Prices will be low. Last year's wheat has fallen to $2 the fanega. Not more than $3 the fanega is offered for the new season's wheat.

Another evidence of the general commercial prosperity of the coast is found in the customs return of the port of Valparaiso up to 31st December, 1862. The receipts in the month of December amount to $30,000 in excess of the same month 1861; and for the whole year 1862 there is shown an excess of $246,000 over the receipts of 1861.

A civil engineer, Mr. Richard Goldsborough, offers to construct telegraphic communication from Valparaiso to Panama. He has been agitating the matter in Santiago, and shares are being taken in that city. Mr. Goldsborough will shortly proceed to Peru and New-Granada to advocate this scheme.

Mining prospects for this year are very favorable.

The arrivals of shipping at Valparaiso during the past fortnight have been: On the 23d of January, British bark Caldera, from Swansea; British bark H. Wallace, from Sydney; British bark Trossach, from New Zealand.

The British residents of Valparaiso have sent a first installment of $3,000 in aid of the Lancashire sufferers.

Exchange on London, 44½d. a 45d. for dollars.

PERU.

On the 30th of January Congress rose, having terminated a session which will be remembered for many wise and most useful enactments.

The message of Mr. Santellian, President of the Senate, on this occasion, is a resume of the labors of the session, and it is highly gratifying to mark the spirit and tendency of every good act toward the consolidation of good governments and progress in every department of the business of the State. The army has been reduced satisfactorily, friendly relations have been placed on firmer bases with neighboring Republics and foreign States, a new penal code has been arranged, which will be a plain and sure guide to make justice a reality, and the bill for the regulation of the currency was one of the greatest wants of the country.

At the close of the President's address, Congress was convoked in session extraordinary for the 5th of February, to receive the Ministerial budgets and to vote supplies.

At this session President San Ramon appeared in his place, and in eloquent language delivered an address touching on the leading demands made in the new budget.

Matters become more and more complicated about the navigation of the Amazon.

GRAFULLA'S SEVENTH REGIMENT (NATIONAL GUARD) PROMENADE CONCERT.—Grafulla's 7th Regiment (National Guard) Band ninth Promenade Concert will be given in the 7th Regiment Armory this evening.

THE MIRROR OF FASHIONS.—We have received an advance copy of the Spring number of Mme. Demorest's Quarterly Mirror of Fashion, which will be given to the public after the 10th inst. This number will furnish a rich treat for the ladies. The elegant display of numerous engravings and practical information furnished in this magazine will doubtless insure for it a large circulation, especially when it is remembered that over 50 cents worth of full-sized patterns are furnished in each number, and the whole sold for 25 cents.

The Rev. Joseph P. Thompson, Pastor of the Broadway Tabernacle, was presented last week by his congregation with a purse containing $1,500.

THE MANUAL OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION.—In referring to the New Manual of the Board of Education in yesterday's TRIBUNE notice was made of the absence of the salaries opposite the names of the teachers as one of the features in which the Manual for 1863 was unlike its predecessors. The following note at the head of the list of teachers explains the difference referred to:

"NOTE.—The salaries paid to teachers were reported to the Clerk's office on the 29th day of December, 1862. On the 6th day of the same month, the by-laws governing the tariff of salaries were essentially changed by the Board of Education; and they were subsequently so much modified by the several Boards of Trustees, under the operations of the new by-laws that it was quite impossible to have them appear in the present Manual, with any degree of accuracy, without keeping the publication. It was therefore deemed advisable to omit them altogether. Article XII., Sections 69, 70, 71, 72, 73 and 74, embraces all the information on the subject of teachers' salaries, that is contained in the Manual for 1863."

Gen. Wool, Col. Cannon, and Capt. Gray returned to this city at 5 o'clock last evening, having inspected the fortifications in the New-England States.

STOLEN MONEY RETURNED.—On Wednesday, the President received, by Adams & Co.'s Express, a package of "greenbacks," amounting to $[illegible], which was the wreck of an accompanying letter says he obtained from the Government dishonestly, and wishes he therefore returns. The letter is dated Brooklyn, March 2, 1863, and signed "Candide Serero."

THE OHIO LEGISLATURE.—On the 2d inst., the House adopted—48 to 16—the Crittenden Compromise resolutions, with this amendment:

"That, while we will not interfere with nor impair any right or institution of these revolted States, we will not hold the chattel property of their rebellious citizens thus exempt from the burdens and consequences of their great crime, but when its sacrifice is necessary for the accomplishment of the foregoing object, it ought to be made; for when the alternative is the overthrow of the Government, or the sacrifice of Rebel property, we are unfaltringly for the maintenance of the Government and the preservation of the Union."
