STEREOSCOPIC EXHIBITION AT IRVING HALL.—The most marvelous thing in the world, exceeding all other curious, startling, apparently preternatural wonders, is the stereoscope. Apart from the mystery of sun-painting on the instant, there is the tremendous fact of the apparent solidification of the objects—the reproduction of nature's self or of art's to its minutest detail. The dead appear almost to speak; the distant actually to overcome space and time and be close and palpable.

This immense artistic agency is now exhibited at the Irving Hall upon a magnificent scale. A large reflecting and magnifying instrument is elevated in the center of the room; which, being darkened, the picture is cast on a plain canvas surface of twenty-five feet square, after the fashion of the magic lantern. The objects are, however, let it be borne in mind, not flat surface pictures, magnified and reflected from the original in the instrument, but are stereoscopic views, with the apparently massive and stupendous solidification of the new order of delineation. There is a difference in the excellence of the views. Some—especially the statues—seem the actual reality—solid as marble and beautiful as the original Medician sculpture; others are not so clearly solid to the view—and we take it to be due, perhaps, to the fact that the eye, owing to the rapidity of the changes, is not allowed to grasp the subject; for sometimes the stereoscopic object does not assume its solid-looking proportions unless after some moments of fixed gaze. The same may be remarked of the perspective quality of pictures, which comes out fully only when gazed at through a tube. The most beautiful landscapes, architecture, works of art of various countries form the stereoscopic procession with explanatory remarks by Mr. Fallon. One of the best architectural things, the ruin of the Pompeian temple; one of the worst the Hall of Mirrors of Versailles.

PICNIC.—The congregation of St. Bridget's Church will proceed on a picnic to Jones's Wood on Tuesday next. The proceeds are to be devoted toward the establishment of a new school for the children whose parents attend the church.

COLUMBIA COLLEGE.—The concluding examination of all the classes in this College, which has been in progress for the last fortnight, finished yesterday. Candidates for admission to the College will be examined on Monday next, beginning at 10 o'clock. The Annual Commencement will be held at the Academy of Music on Wednesday, the 24th inst., at 10 o'clock. A baccalaureate sermon will be preached before the Graduating Class on Sunday evening next, at 8 o'clock, in Calvary Church, by the Rev. Dr. A. Cleveland Cox.

COMMITTEE ON NATIONAL AFFAIRS.—The Committee on National Affairs of the Common Council met yesterday morning, and made preparations for receiving the 15th Regiment N. Y. Volunteers on Monday next. Owing to the absence of our militia regiments, there will be no military reception. The returned soldiers will march to the Park, and be reviewed by the Mayor and Common Council, after which they will be banqueted at the City Assembly Rooms by the Corporate authorities.

ILLNESS OF ADMIRAL FOOTE.—Rear Admiral Foote is now lying very ill at the Astor House, and fears are entertained by his physicians that he cannot recover. His disease is an affection of the kidneys. He was somewhat better yesterday morning, but suffers terribly.

CONFERENCE IN CALIFORNIA.—Bishop Janes, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, will leave this city on the 21st inst. by steamer for Aspinwall en route for the Pacific, whither he goes to preside over the Annual Conferences to be held in California and Oregon.

CHURCH ENTERPRISE IN THE SEVENTH WARD.—The Rutgers-street and Market-street Churches, located in the Seventh Ward, for some months past have been somewhat moved in themselves relative to the going-up-town mania. The Rutgers-street Presbyterian Church, of which Dr. Krebs was pastor, consummated matters on their part by selling out their edifice to the Roman Catholics. This soon brought the authorities of the Market-street Church, Dutch Reformed, to a conclusion as to whether they would permit the "going up-town" agitation to control them any longer. We understand that the gentlemen in whom the care of the church is vested held a meeting, and discussed the subject in its every aspect. It appears that many of the old residents of the Ward, who had aided in the erection of Rutgers-street Church, never were consulted about the selling of the church, and now there is nothing left for them but to unite with the only other Protestant church in the neighborhood, instead of being compelled to follow the up-towners. On these grounds a large number of the old members of Rutgers-street church will avail themselves of the sensible conclusion of the Market-street Consistory and unite with the Dutch Reformed Church, there being little or no difference, but in name, between the Presbyterian and the Dutch Reformed practices. It is now probable that the up-town movement in the Market-street Church is at an end, for the present at least, unless the pastor should prefer to make a special effort on his own account. It is understood that his endeavors in that direction, so far, have been met with but little encouragement. At all events, if the Market-street Church should have to be sold ultimately, it will be torn down and the lots cleared, as it has been demonstrated that it could not be sold to any evangelical organization.

ARREST OF 'LONGSHOREMEN.—Patrick Keirns and Patrick Malloy were arrested yesterday, by the First Precinct police, and taken before Justice Connolly at the Tombs Police Court, charged with attacking and beating a party of men who were at work on Pier No. 8 East River, at the foot of Coenties Slip, for the New-York Central Railroad Company. They were committed for trial in default of $200 bail.

ONE THOUSAND 'LONGSHOREMEN RESUMED WORK.—Of the 3,000 'Longshoremen who were on strike, one-third have resumed work at the rates offered by the shipping merchants yesterday, viz.: $2 per day of nine hours, and 35 cents per hour over-time.

THE NEW BREMEN STEAMSHIP AMERICA.—This splendid ship, whose arrival after a very rapid passage of only ten days and ten hours we noted last week, is now open for inspection at Pier No. 30 North river, foot of Chambers street. The America, owned by the North German Lloyd Steamship Company of Bremen, is commanded by Capt. H. Wessels, formerly of the Bremen. She was built by Messrs. Caird & Co. at Greenock on the Clyde. The America in her general arrangements and appearance closely resembles the other ships belonging to this Company. She is 318 feet length of keel and forty-six, 40 feet beam, and 33½ feet depth of hold. Her gross tonnage is 2,855 tuns; she has an elliptic stem richly decorated with emblematic carved work. Her stern has a handsome and taking appearance, being surmounted by a fancy-modeled female figure head, supported by the trail and name boards. She is bark rigged, and fitted with all the latest improvements on deck, including Cunningham's patent reefing topsails; Brown's patent double-powered capstan, patent steam winches for loading and discharging cargo, mast winches, powerful fire-pumps &c. She has four decks; on the second or main deck is the first-class saloon, and on the third deck is the second saloon or cabin. The America is propelled by a pair of inverted direct-acting engines of 700-horse power, having cylinders of 72 inches diameter, and stroke of piston 48 inches, fitted with expansion gear, surface condenser, Porter's governor, and all the latest improvements. Her propeller is three-bladed, 17 feet diameter, and makes easily over fifty revolutions per minute; it is hung on a Krupp's cast-steel shaft weighing about eight tuns, the largest, we believe, yet in any steam-vessel. Steam is supplied to the engines by four tubular boilers, with four furnaces in each, having a total heating surface of 9,360 square feet, and a fire-grate surface of 300 square feet. The safety valves are loaded to 30 pounds per square inch. After leaving the boilers the steam is passed through a super heater with a heating surface of 2,000 square feet. When working at full speed, the vacuum in condenser stands at 28 inches, and there is no shake or vibration in the machinery. Her bunkers are capable of containing 900 tuns of coal. When steaming full speed her consumption of coals will not reach two tuns per hour; loaded with 1,450 tuns of coal and iron, she accomplished a speed of 13 knots per hour on her trial trip, a speed which was fully kept up on her passage to this port.

A SUCCESSFUL LADY DETECTIVE.—On Thursday Wm. Snecker was arrested and taken before Justice Connolly, charged with stealing a gold watch, chain and breastpin of the value of $350, from Mrs. Elizabeth Seelye. It appears that upon the occasion of Mrs. Seelye's marriage the accused acted as a groom, and took that opportunity of enriching himself with the gifts which Mrs. S. had just received from her wedding. The police were duly informed of the robbery, but met with no success in tracing the thief or finding the property. At length Mrs. Knox, mother of the complainant, thinking the police too slow, or too careless, or both, there having been no very extensive reward offered, undertook the duties of detective herself, and set out determined to make a tour of the pawn-shops of the city, and in the second one which she entered, that of Joseph Levy, at No. 2 Oliver street, she found the missing jewelry, and information of the person who left it there. By this means the prisoner was detected, and it appeared that he had obtained $100 on the property. He was committed in default of $500 bail to answer.

GREAT TROTTING MATCH ON THE FASHION COURSE.—On Thursday the postponed match between George N. Patchen and Gen. Butler, for $5,000, two-mile heats, to wagons, came off on the above Course. Patchen was the favorite at the start, $100 to $40 being currently offered that he would win, without meeting many takers of these odds. The result of the race was far from satisfactory, and the decision of the judges, or rather, of two of them, was severely criticized; the other judge differing from them in toto, and appealing to the people to support him in his position, declared all bets off. In the first heat, Patchen took the lead, passing the half-mile pole in 1:14, a length ahead; Patchen breaking on the next quarter, allowed Butler to close up with him, but the latter following suit in breaking, enabled the stallion to pass the stand first by two lengths, in 2:27 on the first mile. On the second mile, a fine contest was witnessed, Butler trotting magnificently, and winning the heat after a most exciting race, by a length in 4:59¾, the fastest time on the records of trotting.

The second heat witnessed a remarkable change in the betting quotations. Butler stock standing at $100 to $40, thus usurping Patchen's position of favorite. Butler took the lead from the word "go," passing the half-mile in 1:13½, fully three lengths ahead. Coming up the home stretch, Butler broke up, and swerved partly across the track. Butler passed the score first, in 2:32. He kept the lead throughout, and came in twenty lengths ahead, in 5:04. Two of the judges decided that he had crossed Patchen in swerving on the first mile, and distancing him, awarded the heat and race to Patchen.

FERRIS FEMALE INSTITUTE.—The Commencement Exercises of the Ferris Female Institute took place at No. 135 Madison avenue, corner of Thirty-second street, at 3 p. m. The following young ladies received prizes: For the greatest improvement in penmanship, Miss Minnie Roof. For the best writing, Miss Florida W. Ten Broeck. The Prize Medal in the Academic Department was awarded to Miss Agnes M. Dills; in the Collegiate Department to Miss Gertrude Miles. The Mathematical Medal (the highest honor) was awarded to Miss Anna D. Koopman. The exercises were well attended by the friends of the young ladies, the limited accommodations making the audience necessarily select. The exercises were commenced by singing, under the direction of Prof. F. F. Muller. After prayer by the Rev. Dr. Ferris, who presided, reports of the various committees were read by the Rev. Dr. Rice, the Rev. Dr. Crosby, and other gentlemen, whose names we did not obtain. The penmanship, drawing, needlework, compositions and mathematical exercises of these young ladies reflect the highest honor upon their industry and talents, and are a credit to the institution in which they were taught. All who were present were delighted with the beauty and spirited singing. The spectators joined with the pupils in singing the closing hymn. Among the former was a soft, sweet voice, which added not a little to the harmonious flow of song. The young ladies made a very beautiful appearance; their happy, healthful faces, and symmetrical forms, gave evidence of the fact that physical culture is not neglected within the walls of the Institution. The exercises of the school will be resumed on the 15th of September next.

DEATH OF WM. C. GILMAN.—At a meeting of the Children's Aid Society, held at the Metropolitan Bank, on the 17th inst., William A. Booth in the Chair, a series of resolutions were adopted with reference to the death of William C. Gilman, one of the founders of the Society. The resolutions set forth that—"To work for poor children was the passport of his regard, and to save those whom God would wish to save from poverty, ignorance and sin, was a confession of faith which he respected. That he has gone to scenes of a higher activity, and development and greater happiness we know; and, while we cannot but feel that the poor children have lost a friend and we a valued counsellor, the thought of his gain enables us to offer our sympathy to his family, with confidence that they, in their better knowledge of him, have ampler resources of consolation than any which we could suggest.

GRAND LARCENY.—Yesterday officer Creegan of the Sixth Precinct arrested Mary Waters, and took her before Justice Connolly, charged with stealing from Lewis Brown of No. 48 Leonard street, the sum of $30. She was committed in default of $500 bail, to answer.

LAW INTELLIGENCE.

SUPREME COURT—CIRCUIT—JUNE 19—Before Justice GOULD.

A CASE OF A HOUSEKEEPER.

Jane Weeks sgt. Wm. Elliot.

In this case, the Jury this morning rendered a sealed verdict for the plaintiff for $500. It appeared by the evidence that the plaintiff had been hired by the defendant as his housekeeper. Subsequently, the house No. 69 West Forty-fifth street was taken by the defendant, and the plaintiff placed in charge, for the purpose of keeping boarders. The plaintiff claimed that the defendant gave all the furniture to her, and boarded with her as a regular boarder. Afterward, however, he was turned out of the house for using improper language to the plaintiff, and attempted to take away the furniture. The boarding-house was broken up, and the plaintiff moved to the Broadway Hotel, where she stored the furniture, and from which place the defendant took away the furniture.

The property was taken in this action, and damages claimed of the defendant for withholding it.

The defendant claims that the property belongs to him; that he never gave it to the plaintiff, and that he had a perfect right to take it from the Broadway Hotel.

The jury have found that the property belonged to the plaintiff and given her damages to the amount above stated.

W. R. Stafford appeared for the plaintiff, and W. P. Angel for the defendant.

CHAMBERS—JUNE 19.—Before Justice SUTHERLAND.

DECISION.

Emily P. Woodruff agt. Marcus P. Woodruff et al.—Report confirmed, and judgment ordered.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS—JUNE 19.—Before Recorder HOFFMAN.

Arthur Carr, tried and convicted of larceny from the person, in picking the pocket of James H. Smith, of $100 in U. S. Treasury notes on the 13th of June.

Edward Ford, pleaded guilty to forgery in the fourth degree, in passing counterfeit $5 bills on the Bank of Cazenovia, N. Y.

Both the prisoners were remanded for sentence.

SURROGATE'S COURT—JUNE 19.—Before Surrogate TUCKER.

PROOF OF WILLS.

The following wills have been admitted to probate without contest: Rachel K. Rasch, Pierre Picaut, John J. Boyd, and James P. Bridge.

ADMIRAL FARRAGUT AND CAPT. CRAVEN.

On Monday last, the Secretary of the Navy ordered the Naval Retiring Board, which had adjourned to give place to the Stimers Court of Inquiry, to reassemble at the Marine Barracks. Commodore Nicholson, Commodore Marvine, Commodore Breese, and Capt. Ewel, were present. The case of Capt. Thos. Craven was immediately brought before the Board, that officer's promotion having been suspended in consequence of some difficulty between him self and Rear-Admiral Farragut. The proceedings of the Board in the case have been forwarded to Washington, and on Thursday Capt. Craven left this city for Port Royal, to relieve Capt. Turner, in command of the iron-clad frigate New Ironsides, now at Port Royal. The difficulty between the two officers mentioned occurred in passing the Vicksburg batteries.

DEPARTURE OF THE U. S. TRANSPORT UNION.

The United States steamer Union sailed from this port on Thursday for the rendezvous of the South Atlantic Squadron. She had on board a large cargo of stores and provisions, a very heavy mail and a few passengers, none of them above the rank of lieutenant save Capt. Craven. As the Union can steam 14 miles an hour, it is a wonder in naval circles why she was not sent after the Alabama.

ADMIRAL FAULDING IN THE HARBOR.

Rear Admiral Hiram Paulding, Commander of the New-York Naval Station, accompanied by the Hon. J. Clark, Clerk of the Senate, the Ex-Secretary of the Interior, and other notable personages, proceeded in the Commandant's barge to inspect the forts in the vicinity of the harbor. Admiral Paulding is one of the members of the Harbor Commission.

UNITED STATES BOUNTY AND CLAIM AGENCY,
No. 180 Broadway, New-York City.

The subscribers devote themselves Exclusively to the Collection and Adjustment of BOUNTIES, ACCOUNTS, AND ALL OTHER CLAIMS
UPON THE GOVERNMENT OF THE UNITED STATES

Being entirely familiar, from an experience of many years, with the routine of business in most of the Departments of the Government, they are peculiarly qualified to undertake the Collection of, and to give Advice respecting Demands of every nature.

Much time and large sums of money are oftentimes expended in the prosecution of claims which are either irregular in their inception or are rendered uncollectable by reason of error or informality in the drafting of the papers. In cases of this, the character of the former it is their invariable rule to advise an abandonment of the prosecution of the claim in the form presented, and to suggest other means of collection. But where the difficulty arises merely from the absence of necessary vouchers or from other irregularity in the preparation of the claim, they are always able to point out and generally to remedy the defect.

Our charges for Collecting, though depending in a great degree upon the character of the claim, will always be moderate.

Where mere advice is desired, a small fee only is expected.

All letters of inquiry indicating the nature of the claim promptly answered, and all necessary information given as to terms, &c.

The accounts of Regimental and other Quartermasters, properly and correctly made by experienced Quartermasters clerks.
