The Memphis Election—Arkansas U. S. Senator Election.

ST. LOUIS, Wednesday, March 9, 1864.

The Memphis Argus claims a triumph in the recent election of what it calls the National Union Conservative ticket, being in opposition to that supported by The Bulletin, known as the Unconditional Union ticket. The Argus claims the election of Sheriff, Clerk of the Criminal Court, County Court, County Register, and Trustees, two out of four Magistrates, one out of two Constables.

Judge Triggs of Knoxville arrived at Memphis to open the District Court of the Western District of Tennessee. It is said that Q. K. Underwood of Helena designs becoming a candidate for U. S. Senator from Arkansas.

A Leavenworth dispatch says an unsuccessful attempt was made by the Union League last night to rescind the resolution denouncing the Senatorial elections.

The members of the Legislature who were expelled will be allowed a trial.

Recruiting progresses rapidly and Kansas will soon fill her quota.

Election in Des Moines, Iowa.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Monday, March 7, 1864.

The Democrats to-day elected their candidate for Mayor by from 5 to 8 majority, and the Republicans elect a majority of the Council. The other officers are doubtful. The main contest was for Mayor. Last year the Republicans elected everything.

Obituary.

PELATIAH PERIT.

The telegraph yesterday morning announced the death of this eminent New-York merchant, at his residence in New-Haven, in his 79th year. Few men have filled a more useful or more honorable station in this community than Mr. Perit.

Born in Connecticut, he was taken to New-Haven, with his elder brother, by his mother, more than 60 years ago, to finish their education. He became a member of the Hopkins Grammar School, and afterward of Yale College, from which he was graduated in 1802, under the recent Presidency of Dr. Dwight. From the Class to which he belonged came two Governors of Connecticut, two United States Senators, three College Presidents, two College Professors, two Judges of the Supreme Court, and other notabilities.

Choosing a commercial career, Mr. Perit came to New-York, where he soon rose to eminence. In 1812, he became a member of a militia company composed of the young merchants of the city. Becoming a member of the well-known house of Goodhue and Company, he joined the Chamber of Commerce in the year 1819. Of that institution he continued an honored and foremost member till his death, being elected President of the Chamber in 1853, and thereafter annually honored with a reélection by acclamation. Those who have habitually attended the Chamber will remember with pleasure his dignified discharge of the duties of presiding officer, and his quiet, quick dispatch of business.

Though a model merchant, closely applying himself to his vocation, Mr. Perit liberally contributed his services and his substance to promote every philanthropic enterprise of the day. He was an earnest member of the Congregational Church. In the foundation of Sunday-Schools he took a leading part; he became a member of the Union, and the Visiting Committee, and rarely absented himself from the Sabbath-School. Among many other positions of trust and honor which he has filled, he has been President of the Board of Foreign Missions, of the American Bible Society, Trustee of the Seaman's Retreat and Sailor's Snug Harbor, was for many years a Director of the Bank of Commerce and President of the Seaman's Saving Bank.

A strong Whig, when that party was in existence, Mr. Perit subsequently became a Republican Unionist, and stoutly labored to sustain the Government in its struggle for self-preservation. At the time of his death he was engaged in the preparation of a work for the Government on the Commerce of the United States, which he recently remarked was so far completed that, in case he should be called away, it could be finished by the gentlemen associated with him.

About five years ago Mr. Perit sold his valuable real estate in this city and removed to New-Haven. In 1861 he retired from business, and since that time has lived a life of comparative seclusion and repose. About ten days ago, when returning from a visit to a friend, Mr. Perit was taken suddenly ill in the street, and carried into the residence of Prof. Silliman, where he remained unconscious until morning, when he was conveyed to his own residence. This attack culminated in dropsy on the chest. He retained his intellect in full vigor up to the period of his dissolution. He leaves a widow—the daughter of Daniel L. Coit of Norwich, to whom he was married in 1825—but no children.

The funeral of Mr. Perit is announced to take place from his residence in New-Haven this afternoon. It will be largely attended by his personal and commercial friends from this city. The time appointed is 3½ o'clock. The shipping in the harbor yesterday displayed their flags at half-mast in honor of his memory, and measures were taken by our merchants, as will be seen below, to properly mark the loss which his death has entailed upon the community.

DEATH OF MR. PERIT—ACTION OF THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

The following requisitions were issued yesterday, for a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce to take action in respect to the death of Mr. P. Perit.

NEW-YORK, March 9, 1864.

DEAR SIR: We, the undersigned, members of the Chamber of Commerce, respectfully request that you will call a special meeting of the Chamber for Friday, March 11, at 1 o'clock, to take such action as may seem to it meet and proper upon the occasion of the death of its late President the venerable Pelatiah Perit.

The eminent worth of Mr. Perit, his long connection with the commerce of this city and his numerous terms of service as President of the Chamber, call for an unusual demonstration of respect to his memory.

Very respectfully, your obedient servants,

To A. A. LOW, esq., President of the Chamber of Commerce.

DIED.—At Hebron, Conn., after a protracted illness, on the morning of the 7th inst., the Hon. Ralph Gilbert, in the 74th year of his age. He was an earnest, practical Christian, a sincere patriot, a kind husband, an indulgent father, a good neighbor, a wise counsellor, an upright Judge, a true man in all the relations of life. His death has left a void in the community in which he lived which cannot be filled. Among his children are S. P. Gilbert, U. S. Assessor; R. L. Gilbert, merchant, of this city, and Henry C. Gilbert of the house of Anderson, Heath & Co., Boston.

FROM ALBANY.

The Lebanon Springs Excitement—The Police Commissioners Bill—Railroad Freights.

From Our Special Correspondent.

ALBANY, Wednesday, March 9, 1864.

THE LEBANON SPRINGS EXCITEMENT.

The Senate last evening completed its action on the Lebanon Springs Railroad bill by striking out the language under which it was apprehended that an attempt might be made to attach the Broadway grant to the consolidated Lebanon Springs-Harlem Railroad, and passing the bill as amended. I believe the impression left upon the minds of all at this place is that the suspected design was not really entertained by the interested parties—certainly no one supposes for a moment that Senators Dutcher and Hastings had the slightest knowledge or suspicion of any such design; but the action taken by the Senate upon the motion of Mr. Folger shows a commendable disposition on the part of that body to guard its honor, and a desire promptly to scrutinize and review any of its acts upon which the slightest suspicion may rest. Messrs. Hastings and Dutcher insist upon it that, by no possible construction of law, could the confirmation of the grant to the Harlem be deduced from the language of the bill as it originally passed and the question has been closely examined by the leading lawyers of the city since yesterday, who appear to be unanimously of the same mind.

INTEREST ON THE STATE DEBT.

The consideration of Senator Bell's resolution relative to paying the State interest in coin was postponed until to-morrow morning.

THE POLICE COMMISSIONERS' BILL.

This bill as was anticipated was reported unanimously this morning from the Committee on Cities. The House went into Committee of the Whole at once upon the bill, and after a brief debate, ordered it to a third reading.

There was little or no opposition in Committee, but a portion of the Democratic members rallied and showed fight in the House on the motion to order to a third reading—upon which the previous question was moved. Some of these discontented ones complained of haste, of surprise, of want of acquaintance with the provisions of the bill, &c. But, considering that the bill is not very long, has been printed for more than a month, and has been the subject of constant discussion in the press and elsewhere for weeks, these complaints, if well founded, argue very great inattention to their duties on the part of these gentlemen. Mr. Weaver, Mr. Curtis and others urged delay, while Mr. Parker, Mr. Healey, Mr. Wooster, Gen. Crooke and others urged the passage of the bill, and forcibly answered the objectors.

A number of Democratic members who said nothing, voted with the majority, and Mr. Bryant of New-York spoke in its favor. He said he would take a different position from some of his colleagues. He deprecated the extent to which the subject had been made a party issue. He had taken a very positive stand against it heretofore, simply on account of the virulence with which its party aspect had been urged. His opposition had been solely on that ground. He recurred to the former state of affairs when, through the action of Mayor Wood, a dead-lock was brought about in the Department.

He expressed surprise at the opposition of Democrats, and because the Committee of which he was a member had been persistently urged to adverse action on the ground that Acton and Bergen were not sufficiently partisan. He spoke highly of the gentlemen named as Commissioners, and pointed to their conciliatory action while members of rival Boards as evidence of their high qualifications for the position. He said he should go for the bill.

RAILROAD FREIGHTS.

Mr. Mattoon's bill in relation to the transportation of freight on the several railroads in this State, provides that every railroad in this State engaged in transporting property shall arrange and classify in order, from highest to lowest, as such corporation shall rate for itself, the value of transportation of all the property usually carried by it, and shall designate the grades and classify the property, and no article shall appear in more than one classification—together with the price at which they will transport such articles per ton per mile, upon the whole or part of said railroad. A sum or charge not exceeding forty cents per ton, including all the handling and delivering, whether transported over the whole or any part of the road.

ALBANY, Wednesday, March 9, 1864.

The total number of votes cast in this city for the Constitutional Amendment was 3,053, and 828 against it.

The Army Relief Bazaar was closed to-night, having been kept open 15 days. The total receipts amounted to about $100,000; the net profits were about $80,000.

The Senate Railroad Committee has postponed the hearing of the argument on the Harlem and Broadway grant until next Tuesday evening.

RAVELINGS.—A novel and humorous entertainment, combining a series of eccentric "sketches of character, hits at society, dashes at the dilettanti, smiles on the sentimental and views of the vulgar, being an entirely new musical and protean melange," will be given by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Watkins, assisted by Miss Carlotta Shaw, at the Brooklyn Athenæum, this evening.

CAUTION.

TO THE DRUG TRADE AND FANCY DEALERS.
THE NIGHT-BLOOMING CEREUS
PIRATED.
PROSECUTIONS COMMENCED.

In vindication of their own rights and for the protection of the public, the undersigned have resolved to invoke the aid of the law in all cases in which their celebrated Perfume, "THE NIGHT BLOOMING CEREUS," has been counterfeited or simulated. An injunction has already been obtained from the Supreme Court against certain jobbing-houses of this city prohibiting them from selling a preparation purporting to be the Night Blooming Cereus, made by D. & G. A. Wright of Philadelphia. A prosecution has been commenced in Philadelphia, and others will be instituted here forthwith. The law of this State on the subject is simple and to the point. It constitutes copying or counterfeiting of trade-marks a criminal offense, as also the sale of the articles which bear the fraudulent symbols. This law will be enforced to the utmost by the subscribers against all who trench upon their rights, as sole manufacturers and proprietors of the Night Blooming Cereus for the Handkerchief.

This rare Perfume, it is admitted, cannot be successfully imitated. The secret of its preparation is confined to the firm who manufacture and own it. Labels, however, are more easily copied than subtle chemical combinations; and it is therefore intended that the ENTERPRISE of the individuals who hope to cheat the public by mock externals shall be promptly suppressed by the strong hand of Justice.

PHALON & SON, No. 517 Broadway.

MORTON'S GOLD PENS are now sold at the same prices as before the commencement of the war; this is entirely owing to the Manufacturer's improvements in machinery, his present large Retail Business and Cash-in-Advance System; for, until he commenced advertising, his business was done on Credit and strictly with the Trade.

The Morton Gold Pens are the only ones sold at old prices, as the makers of all other gold pens charge the Premium on the Gold, Government Tax, &c.; but Morton has in no case changed his prices, Wholesale or Retail.

Of the great numbers sent by mail to all parts of the world during the past few years, not one in a thousand has failed to reach its destination in safety; showing that the Morton Gold Pen can be obtained by any one, in every part of the world, at the same price, postage only excepted.

Reader, you can have an enduring, always ready, and reliable Gold Pen, exactly adapted to your hand and style of writing, which will do your writing vastly cheaper than Steel Pens, and at the present almost universal High-Pressure Price of everything, you can have a Morton Gold Pen cheaper, in proportion to the labor spent upon it and material used, than any other Gold Pen in the World. If you want one, see the "Pen is Mightier than the Sword," in another column.

NIGHTS OF PAINFUL WATCHING with poor, sick, crying children can be avoided by the use of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It relieves the little sufferer from pain, cures wind colic, regulates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and during the process of teething it is invaluable. Perfectly safe in all cases, as millions of mothers can testify.
