TUESDAY, Nov. 2—P. M.

Gold has been very active, and advancing throughout the day. The opening rate was 230, advancing to 241¼, followed by a decline to 236¼, and a subsequent rally to 240¼, at which it closed at 3 p. m.

Stocks were rampant again to-day, and large advances paid, as will be more fully seen by reference to the printed list. The sales at the First Board were $135,000 Government stocks, $301,000 bonds, and 50,385 shares. After the call the market was lower, but the decline was brief, and soon succeeded by a new demand and firmer rates. At the Second Board Erie touched 104¼, and was the strongest stock upon the list. The market at the close seemed weak, and buyers were not so ready to take large lots. At 4½ p. m. the market was firm and higher, under purchases by frightened bears to cover short contracts. Erie sold at 106, and closed at 106 bid; Cumberland, 55; Michigan Southern, 78¼; Reading, 138; Rock Island, 104¼; Quicksilver, 86¼; Gold, 241; Ohio Certificates, 44¼ bid; Cleveland and Pittsburgh, 110 bid.

Money is abundant among stock houses at 6@7 ⅌ cent. In commercial paper no change. Prime bills at 8 ⅌ cent, and second grade at 9@12, are the rates. For Government securities the inquiry is good, and prices under the stimulus of speculation in gold and fancy shares will soon reach a point where the Government can make a new appeal to the people for a loan with success. The near approach of the meeting of Congress may keep Mr. Fessenden out of the market until he is able to fully present his financial policy, but that he will rely upon more thorough taxation, and fewer loans, may be deemed certain, judging from his conduct thus far. No other policy can sustain the Government successfully, or be more cordially supported by the people.

The rush to get the November interest upon the 5-20s was not excessive to-day. The sooner the January interest is placed at the command of the public creditors the better for them and the Government, which should spare no trouble in getting its gold now hoarded back into the hands of the people.

Sterling bills are quoted at 109¾ in gold for sixty-days, and 111¼ for sight. Francs, 5.09¼@5.13¾.

The following shows the condition of the Central National Bank of this city:

Loans	$7,446,828	Capital	$2,000,000
Due from Banks	697,097	Circulation	578,000
U. S. Securities	2,188,879	Deposits	10,732,867
Cash	4,702,615	Due U. S.	1,360,413
Property	12,000	Profits	212,510
Expenses	35,775

The bank has some of the best accounts in the city, and has been an eminent success from the start.

Freights are extremely dull and rates are entirely nominal. The engagements to Liverpool are 70 tuns heavy goods at 2s. 6d. to 7s. 6d.; and per steamer, 2,700 boxes Cheese at 20s. To London, 30 tuns heavy goods at 15s. to 17s. 6d.

Dry Goods do not respond to the advance in Gold, and buyers are very prudent. This morning, Messrs. Wilmerdings & Mount had a sale of woolens and clothing goods. Belgian cloths—Black, sold at $3 95@$4 87; Imperial Aix-la-Chapelle cloth, $5 50; 3-4 do., $2 75; 6-4 do., $6 12½@$6 50; black Esquimaux, $6 75; black French Esquimaux, $5 62½@$612; do., extra, $6 50@$6 75. Messrs. Haggarty & Co. had a sale of dress goods, white goods, hosiery and gloves. The dress goods realized about former prices; the gloves, more particularly Winter styles, went off at a slight advance. Huckabuck towels sold at 25@51c.; damask do., 53c.@$1; last week, same quality sold at $1 25; 10-4 linen sheetings sold at $1 65@$1 82½; 11-4 do., $2; 12-4 do., $2 25@$2 37½; doylies, 13½c. Messrs. Van Wyck, Townsend & Co. had a sale of shawls. The attendance was not large; prices were a little off from previous sales. Messrs. Wilmerdings, Hoguet & Co. had a sale of ribbons, velvet and millinery goods. The prices were 5@10 per cent off from previous sales. Messrs. Kobbe & Corlies had a large and desirable sale of hosiery goods, &c. The prices were fully up to former sales, and the sale satisfactory.

The Portland Press, speaking of the continuance of Secretary Fessenden in the Treasury, says:

"Very likely Mr. Fessenden may have found himself better able than he had supposed to meet the draft upon his forces, and so has concluded to abandon all thought of resigning prior to the 4th of March. We don't know that such is the fact, though we hope it may be found to be such. But that Mr. F. has the remotest purpose to accept re-appointment to that place, should Mr. Lincoln be reelected and tender it to him, is not true. He contemplates nothing of the kind. He at present feels that he would be obliged peremptorily to decline any tender of the kind, should it be made. Mr. Fessenden's home friends will use all honorable means to secure his return to the Senate after the 4th of March, as they know that such a position would better harmonize with his inclinations than any other, and as they further believe that no other man in the State can bring more available talents or a wider influence to bear in the Senate Chamber."

"The National Currency Bank," with a paid up capital of $100,000, commenced business this morning at No. 1 Wall-street, in the office heretofore occupied by Thompson Brothers. The President is F. G. Adams, recently of Chicago, and the cashier Mr. E. Soofield, late of the First National. The business of Thompson Brothers has passed into the possession of the new bank, the firm retiring from active business.

At the Petroleum Board to-day, the only sales were two hundred shares Highgate at 1½, and one hundred shares Rynd Farm at 5¾.

The Central Railroad of New-Jersey call up for 15th November their ninth and tenth installments, at 10 per cent each.

Mr. Joseph H. Taylor has been admitted to the Stock Exchange Board.

The aggregate amount of exports of produce and merchandise (exclusive of specie) for the past week was $3,391,378.

The Boston Traveller of Monday evening says:

The money market presents no new features in regard to the supply of currency, or the demand for its use. Call loans on prime collaterals are freely obtained in the street at 6 ⅌ cent. The negotiations of mercantile paper are quite limited outside of the banks, but there is a larger business doing in certificates of indebtedness. There is a steady demand for United States securities, and a moderate inquiry for small lots of other dividend-paying investments. Copper Mining stocks are more active, and some of the better sorts are quite scarce and firmly held by parties who are not disposed to sell at current quotations.

THE POST-OFFICE MONEY ORDER SYSTEM.

List of Offices and General Information.

Amid all the new enterprises that mark this time, and all the innovations, social and political, that have distinguished President Lincoln's administration of public affairs, none, we may safely prophesy, will be a more permanent memorial of that administration, or, in time, assume greater proportions than the new system of remitting small sums by post, which has just been so quietly and unobtrusively inaugurated, and which for the first time came into operation yesterday. The money-order system, now for the first time tried in this country, has for over seventy years been in operation in England, and since, in 1838, it was made a Government department, having previously been carried on by a private firm, though under the authority of the Government. So manifold have been the advantages of the system in its safety and convenience that the business done under it has increased from the sum of about $1,500,000 in 1838, to over $86,000,000 in 1863, and the number of orders issued from 188,921 to nearly eight millions. It has been objected by some that the amount of business done in England can be of no criterion of the success which may be expected here, owing to the fact that in England no paper money exists of a less denomination than £5, or say $20, while here remittances may be made in any sum however small, by means of our fractional currency; but to this it is sufficient to reply that the immense extent of our territory, which renders the notes wholly unnegotiable in another, will amply compensate for any loss of business arising from the above cause, while the rapid growth of our population will be constantly extending the circle to be benefited by the introduction of the new system. Whatever the prospects of the department may be for the future, certainly they have not been discounted, for nothing could well be more modest and unpretending than the arrangements made at our Post-Office for the transaction of the local business and banking business of one hundred and five money-order offices throughout the country; the office being a small room on the second floor of the Post-Office Building, on the Cedar-st. side, and the whole force consisting of Mr. John W. Norton, the clerk in charge, and one assistant. The Post-Offices at present designated as "money-order offices" are one hundred in number, a list of which we here append:
