FROM ALBANY.

(From Our Special Correspondent.)

ALBANY, Tuesday, March 14, 1865.

PROGRESS OF BUSINESS.

The prospect now is that a larger number of bills will be passed at the present session than at any other for several years past. Under the rule adopted in the Assembly on Thursday last, the roll was called this morning and each member present was permitted to move to recommit, to be reported complete, two bills. Over 200 were thus put upon their passage without discussion in Committee of the Whole. The roll will be again called this week, and each member will be entitled to move forward one more bill. The Grinding Committee is also actively at work and will contribute its share to swell the statute book.

A movement is already made to abolish the Grinding Committee, Mr. Van Buren having submitted a resolution yesterday to that effect. It will command a certain support among the disaffected, who are numerous, not because the Committee should not in their opinion have been appointed, but because they think it should have been differently constituted. The amount of grumbling among those who are disappointed in their aspirations to secure places on this Committee, is very great, and it is hardly necessary to say that for the sake of the reputation of this Legislature these grumblers are in almost every case the last men who should have been appointed. With Mr. Gleason at the head of the Committee, and men like Redington, Pitts, Lord, Mathews, Weed, Stewart and Ridgway, controlling it, it will be almost impossible to make it the instrument of fraudulent or unwise legislation.

NEW-YORK CENTRAL.

The vote to make the Central Railroad Fare bill the special order for Wednesday of next week is not by any means to be regarded as an augury of its passage. It is deemed by all parties best to have this troublesome matter disposed of and the most indefatigable opponents of the bill consented to have it made a special order, confident of their ability to defeat it in the vote.

COL. JARDINE'S CASE.

A bill was debated in the Assembly last evening which appropriates $10,000 to the relief of Col. Jardine, a brave officer who, being in the city last year at the time of the great riots, volunteered his services, and in conflict with the mob received a wound which crippled him for life and compelled his retirement from the service. There was no question that the case was a most deserving one, but it was contended that to pass the appropriation would establish a very dangerous precedent. That it would be a signal for innumerable claims of the same character to be brought to the doors of the Legislature, and that this claim should be made upon the local authorities of New-York city. Without making the vote, the Committee reported progress, and the matter will come up again.

A SHARP TRICK.

The Railroad Committee of the Assembly has established a very undesirable reputation on account of the unprecedented length of time which it takes to sit in incubation upon the various railroad bills committed to it. Several such bills were submitted and fully argued in January last, but the committee cannot make up their minds whether to report favorably or adversely upon them, or even to report them for the consideration of the House; and now so late a period in the session has arrived that a favorable report would in most cases be of little or no use. Hence there is a morbid dread of referring bills to this committee. Yesterday a bill was introduced entitled "a bill to legalize certain street improvements in the City of New-York." This bill went in the direction which its title would indicate, to the Committee on Cities. On examination it was found to be a Broadway railroad bill, being the fifth or sixth introduced at the present session.

At the evening session the Speaker called attention to the trick, and a motion was made and carried to discharge the Committee on Cities from its further consideration, and send it to the Railroad Committee. So it will probably repose, like its fellows which have gone before, quietly in the archives of the Committee until this Legislature shall be no more. The bill names as Corporators in the road: John S. Dimmick, John H. Morris, John R. Taylor, Abraham Brown, Geo. M. Bucklin, Daniel H. McDonnell, Joseph Hemphill, Jas. A. Acker, D. N. Tallmadge, John Davidson, James Hemphill, James Farrell, Charles Devlin, E. Van Wageman, F. K. Field, Patrick Coyle, Samuel Friedman, Thomas Finn, W. A. Scott, W. Boardman Avery, C. H. Reynolds, B. D. Stone, Daniel Reilley, Robert Earl, Henry Kip, John J. Walsh, Bernard Maloney, John L. Creigar, Wm. Bodwell, Edw. Winn, Geo. W. Stevens, Rufus Sheldon, Frank Swift, Thomas E. Peck, Andrew Harris, G. C. Dean, Jeremiah Simonson, James A. Coleman, James A. Wood, Michael Tomery, Thomas Morris, John H. Stavin and James R. Byrne.

The proposed route commences at Eighth-ave. and Seventy-second-st., along the latter to Broadway, along to Bowling Green, to Whitehall-st., to South Ferry.

Returning from track in Whitehall-st., through and along State-st. to Bowling Green; also from Broadway along John-st. to Burling-slip, along South-st., along the latter to Fulton-st., through Broadway and along Dey-st. to West-st., to Courtland-st., to Broadway again, together with all the necessary connections.

Work Before the Legislature.

RAILROAD IN NEW-YORK FOR RELIEF OF BROADWAY.

Senator STRONG introduced a bill naming as corporators for the proposed new railroad: Augustus F. Brainerd, Joseph C. Cary, Nathan F. Philo, John A. Oakley, William H. Bowman, George W. Ball, Thomas M. Shepperd, James Douglass, John M. Toucey, James A. Richmond, George W. Barnum, C. M. Woodward, Walter S. Gove, William H. Green, George A. Hickox, Charles B. The cars may be run on said road as subject to such reasonable rules and regulations as may be necessary in the carrying of freight and passengers.

RELATIVE TO PUBLIC HEALTH IN NEW-YORK.

Mr. Cooper introduced into the Assembly a bill known as Dr. Sayer's bill, providing that hereafter there shall be a Board in the City of New-York consisting of the Mayor, President of the Board of Aldermen, President of the Common Council, the Resident Physician, the Health Committee, and the City Inspector, with the Health Officer of New-York to be known as the Board of Commissioners of Health, and which shall possess the powers and perform the duties prescribed by this act.

Each of the Wards in said city except the Second and Third Wards shall constitute a Sanitary district, and these two to constitute a Sanitary district. The Board may appoint a Health Warden for each district, and may also appoint so many hospital, visiting and consulting physicians as it may deem necessary, and fix their compensation. They may also designate one of the physicians to act in conjunction with the Commissioners of Quarantine and Emigration in all matters designed to guard against the introduction of contagious diseases into the city.

Some suitable person shall be appointed as inspector of vessels, who shall have power to enter or board any vessels or parts thereof on entering the harbor of New-York, for the purpose of ascertaining the sanitary condition of such vessel, and perform all the duties now devolving upon the inspector of vessels, and receive the same salary.

The office of Health Warden and assistants, except as mentioned in this act, is hereby abolished.

All the rights, powers and duties now devolving on the Board of Health of New-York are vested in the Board hereby created.

There shall be in the Inspector's Department a bureau to be called the Bureau of street cleaning under the management of the Superintendent of cleaning streets; and also a bureau to be called the Bureau of Sanitary Inspection under a Superintendent.

The Board are to have full power to cause the streets, avenues, wharves, piers, docks, slips, public markets and other public places to be cleansed and kept in a cleanly condition, and all offal to be removed beyond the city limits; to make and establish rules and regulations for the erection or alteration of any house, building, drains, sewers, &c., &c.; to prohibit the erection or use of slaughter houses or other nuisances in the city.

Any contract awarded for the removal of garbage, &c., &c., shall not exceed the term of five years, and may be given to the parties who in the judgment of the Board will best promote the interests of and preserve the public health.

Any officer appointed by or member of the Board shall have power to arrest parties whom they witness dumping any garbage, ashes, or tin clippings or other waste on any of the streets or lanes of the City of New-York.

The Resident Physician and Health Committee shall be members of the medical profession, and in addition to their other duties they shall visit all persons reported sick of any contagious disease; to afford and provide facilities for gratuitous vaccination, and to visit the public schools for that purpose; to visit all hospitals and public dispensaries, and to advise measures to protect the sanitary condition of the same.

The Common Council may authorize each of the Board to receive $1,000 for his services, while the salaries of the Resident Physician and Health Committee are not to be changed.

BROADWAY RAILROAD.

Mr. Wilbur's bill names as Corporators in the above road: John S. Dimmick, John H. Morris, John R. Taylor, Abraham Brown, Gov. M. Bucklin, Daniel H. McDonnell, Joseph Hemphill, James A. Acker, D. N. Tallmadge, John Davidson, James Hemphill, James Farrell, Charles Devlin, E. Van Wagenen, F. K. Field, Patrick Coyle, Samuel Friedman, Thomas Finn, W. A. Scott, W. Boardman Avery, C. H. Reynolds, B. D. Stone, Daniel Reilly, Robert Earl, Henry Kip, John J. Walsh, Bernard Maloney, John L. Creiger, William Bodwell, Edward Winn, George W. Stevens, Rufus Sheldon, Frank Swift, Thomas E. Peck, Andrew Harris, G. C. Dean, Jeremiah Simonson, James A. Coleman, James A. Wood, Michael Tomery, Thomas Morris, John H. Stavin, and James R. Byrne.

The proposed route commences at Eighth ave. and Seventy-second-st., along the latter to Broadway, along to Bowling Green, to Whitehall-st., to South Ferry, Returning from track in Whitehall-st., through and along State-st. to Bowling Green; also from Broadway along to John-st., to Burling-slip, along to South-st., along the latter to Fulton-st., through to Broadway and along Dey-st., to West-st., to Courtlandt-st., to Broadway again, together with all necessary connections, &c., &c.

METROPOLITAN POLICE.

Senator LAIMBEER introduced a bill providing that the laws of 1864 be so amended so as to read as follows: It is hereby made the duty of the Metropolitan Police force at all times of the day or night within the Police District, and the members of said force are hereby empowered and required to preserve the public peace, detect and arrest offenders, suppress riots and insurrections, disperse mobs, unlawful and dangerous assemblages, and assemblages which obstruct the free passage of streets and places, protect the rights of persons and property, guard the public health, preserve order at elections and all public meetings, prevent and remove nuisances in the public streets and highways, arrest street beggars and mendicants, provide proper police attendance at fires, assist and protect emigrants and strangers and travelers in public streets, steamboats, and ship landings and railroad stations, supervise and inspect all places of amusement, houses of prostitution, ill-fame, and houses where common prostitutes reside, lottery-offices, policy-offices, gambling houses, cock pits, rat-pits, and public common dance-houses, and to repress and restrain all unlawful conduct and practices therein, and for these purposes with or without warrant to arrest all who are liable to arrest for any offense in violation of any such law.

All fines imposed by the Board of Metropolitan Police upon members of the force by way of discipline, and deducted from their pay, and all rewards, fees, proceeds of gifts, &c., &c., paid or given to any member of the force, on account of services or good conduct, (except when allowed by the Board to be retained), and all monies remaining for the space of one year in the hands of the property clerk, arising from the sale of unclaimed property, and all proceeds of suits for penalties, shall be deposited and paid into the bank wherein the Treasurer of the Board of Metropolitan Police shall keep an account. Such monies shall constitute and be invested and kept as a fund to be called the "Police Life Insurance Fund," and the persons who shall from time to time fill the offices of President, Treasurer and Superintendant of the Metropolitan Police, are hereby declared to be the Trustees of the fund and shall have control thereof.

Any member or officer of the force becoming permanently disabled, either bodily or mentally, so as to render him unfit for duty, may be placed on the pension roll of the Police Life Insurance Fund, and may be allowed a reasonable pension, not to exceed $250 per annum.

If any member or officer of the Metropolitan Police shall be killed in the actual discharge of duty, or shall die after three years' service, leaving a widow or child, such person may be placed on the pension roll and be allowed such reasonable pension, not to exceed $250 annually, as the Board of the Police shall direct; to continue so long as the said widow remains unmarried, or until the child reaches the age of 16 years, unless sooner terminated by order of the Board.

The Board of Metropolitan Police is hereby invested with and shall exercise all the power and perform all the duties now conferred by law upon the Mayor and Common Council of the City of New-York in respect to theaters and places of public amusements, keepers of boarding-houses for emigrant passengers, pawnbrokers, dealers in second hand articles, auctioneers, hackney coaches, and the owners and drivers thereof, and of carmen, omnibus and cab-drivers. All licenses, fees and fines payable by above parties shall be paid into the Police Fund and applied to reducing the expenses of support of the Metropolitan Police.

The salary of the book-keeper of the Metropolitan Police shall not exceed $2,500. There shall be an office of Property Clerk established also, whose salary shall not exceed $2,000.

All perishable property, and horses &c., &c., not called for may be sold and the proceeds, if not claimed in six months, may be paid into the Police Life Insurance Fund.

The Commissioners of Metropolitan Police, together with the District Attorneys of New-York and Kings Counties, shall be Trustees of the "Reward Fund" proposed to be established, and the moneys may be invested in the public stocks of either the United States or New-York City or County or City of Brooklyn. The Board may have power to reduce to the rank next inferior any officer who shall have proved inefficient or incompetent.

Their agents or employés may enter any premises remaining uncleaned, and cleanse the same, the charges of which shall be lien on the property.

Public docks or berths, not to exceed four, where boats or barges shall have the exclusive right to land and remain to receive on board all garbage, night soil, &c., &c.

The Board of Metropolitan Police shall procure and fit up a place for appropriate accommodations for unknown dead persons, to be known as the "Morgue," where coroners, &c., shall have privilege to enter and hold post-mortems, &c., &c.

The Board shall have power to organize a force of 500 men and officers from the patrolmen, who are to be drilled in the manual of arms. The Governor may, in his discretion, order arms and equipments to be furnished the force. Such force shall be used as a military force to aid the police force to quell riots, suppress insurrections, &c., &c.

ALMSHOUSE DEPARTMENT.

In Assembly, Mr. INGRAHAM introduced a bill providing that the laws in relation to above institution be amended so as to provide that it shall be lawful to detain in the workhouse any person who shall have been duly committed to the city prisons; but it shall not be lawful for vagrants or paupers, or the recipients of public charities, before convicted of crime, to be employed in company with persons committed for offenses other than intoxication, or assault and battery, not felons.

The Commissioners may transfer and commit from the city prisons, to said workhouse, or any part of Blackwell's Island, persons committed for crime, persons in the almshouse, persons applying for relief in the depot about to be created, persons committed by Magistrates as vagrants or disorderly persons, or for disorderly conduct.

YOUNG MEN'S FATHER MATHEW MUTUAL BENEFIT SOCIETY.

Mr. McDONALD's bill names as corporators George Broune, George B. Riley, John B. Gately, Thomas Riley, A. Gallagher, P. O. Riley, James P. Toyn, Edward Campbell and Bernard Dwyer.

The object of the corporation is to accumulate a fund for the use of its members in case of sickness, disability, &c.

NEW-YORK LITERARY CLUB.

Mr. CREAMER's bill names as corporators James D. McClelland, Francis J. Tucker, John H. Staats, P. D. Ryan, James H. Skelly, P. Daley and James H. Anderson. The object of the incorporation is the social improvement of its members and encouragement of science, philosophy, art and letters. May hold real estate to the amount of $20,000.

The Petersburg Mine—Letter from Gen. Ledlie.

To the Editor of the N. Y. Tribune.

SIR: In your issue of the 2d inst. you published a synopsis of the report of the Court of Inquiry on the Petersburg Mine, in which I among others was censured.

The first knowledge that I had that the Court of Inquiry ordered to investigate the circumstances attending the attack on Petersburg had made a report, was derived from a resume of the report published in the newspapers. I immediately wrote to the Secretary of War a letter, of which the following is a copy:

"WILLARD'S HOTEL, WASHINGTON, March 2, 1865.

Hon. E. M. STANTON, Secretary of War.

"SIR: On the 16th day of January, 1865, I forwarded to you my resignation as Brigadier-General of Volunteers; I did so in ignorance of the fact that the Court of Inquiry ordered to investigate the circumstances of the late attack on Petersburg had made a report reflecting on my conduct in that attack. The first information that I received that any such report had been made, was derived from what purports to be a resume of the report published in this morning's Washington Chronicle. In order that my reputation as an officer may be relieved from the imputations most unjustly cast upon it by this report, I most respectfully ask leave to withdraw my resignation, and that a Court of Inquiry may be ordered to investigate my individual conduct on the occasion referred to.

"I have the honor to be, very respectfully, &c., &c.,

"JAMES H. LEDLIE."

This request was refused.

I am thus precluded from any opportunity to be heard on my own behalf before any proper tribunal upon the question of my individual conduct at Petersburg.

I deem it not improper, therefore, to vindicate myself from the reflections which have been cast upon my conduct when in command of a division at Petersburg. The Court of Inquiry, whose report has been published, was, so far as I was concerned, a purely ex parte affair. Neither of my Brigade Commanders were summoned before the Court to my knowledge, and only one of my staff officers. Gen. Burnside protested against the constitution of the Court, and endeavored to have it composed of officers who were not attached to the Army of the Potomac, and who had not been selected by Gen. Meade. His protest was disregarded, and the Court was ordered to proceed in its inquiry. Subsequent to the institution of this Court the Joint Committee of Congress on the Conduct of the War was directed "to inquire into and report the facts concerning the attack on Petersburg." Of this committee it can at least be said that it was impartial. At the close of their report they say "they wish to be distinctly understood that they in no degree censure the conduct of the troops engaged in the assault," and they bestow proper commendation upon the Ninth Corps—in which I had the honor to command the First Division.

Lieut.-Col. Chas. G. Loring, Asst. Inspector-General of the Ninth Corps, was summoned before this Committee, but was not before the Court of Inquiry. He testified as follows: "At about half-past 2 o'clock in the morning of the 30th (July), I went with Gen. Ledlie down to the front line, and we took our position very near the line, close in the rear of it, with his division, and waited for the mine to explode. There was a delay perhaps of three-quarters of an hour in the explosion of the mine, but I do not think that the enemy discovered at all that we had made any unusual preparations. As soon as the explosion took place the division started to go in. The first brigade that went in started from our line in three lines, with instructions to the brigade commanders to push on at once to the top of Cemetery Hill. The crater presented an obstacle of fearful magnitude. I suppose it was a hole of about 200 feet in length, and perhaps 50 or 60 feet in width, and nearly 30 feet in depth. The sides of it were composed of jagged masses of clay projecting over loose sand. The upper surface had been of sand, with a lower stratum of clay. It was an obstacle which it was impossible for any military organization to pass over intact, even if not exposed to fire. The whole brigade was broken up in confusion, and had utterly lost its organization. The officers were endeavoring to re-form their men, but it was an exceedingly difficult operation. I remained there for about ten minutes. By that time the rest of the division had come up, and the whole of the First Division was in the crater, or lines immediately adjoining. It was all in the same confused condition.

"I went back to report to Gen. Ledlie the condition his division was in, and to see if he could not rectify it. I then went up and told Gen. Burnside the state of affairs. From that time forward my position was very near Gen. Ledlie in our own front line."

On receiving the report from Col. Loring, I immediately issued the proper orders, and took the necessary steps for relieving the confused condition of the division.

I am perfectly willing that the record of my conduct should stand upon this sworn statement made by Col. Loring, with the simple addition of the fact that my life was saved on that occasion only because the ball which struck my person had not force enough to penetrate my watch. I was stunned and temporarily injured by the force of the ball, and then, for the first time, retired to regimental headquarters, which were being used as a hospital. I stayed there but a few minutes, and then returned to my post, where I remained until we received orders to withdraw.

I respectfully ask you to give this letter the same publicity as you did to the report of the Court of Inquiry.

Yours, truly, JAMES H. LEDLIE.

of the corporation.

The properties owned by the Company are all in fee simple, and entirely clear of encumbrance; they embrace

NO. 1.—Twenty-one and three quarter (21¾) acres on the choicest part of Oil Creek, Pennsylvania. This property is in close proximity to the following celebrated wells, viz.:

MAPLE SHADE WELL, NOBLE WELL,
EGBERT WELL, TURTLE WELL,
JERSEY WELL, KEYSTONE WELL, &c.

This Company have one Well already down on the above property, from which a lucrative return may be speedily looked for.

NO. 2.—NINETY (90) ACRES on Tionesta Creek, Penn., near its mouth. Producing Wells exist on every side, and new developments in this locality have proved almost unexceptionably successful.

NO. 3.—FIFTY (50) ACRES of the famed Morgan property in Wirt County, West Virginia. Immediately adjoining this tract is the Morgan Well, now yielding some ninety (90) barrels of Oil per day. Many new Wells are now going forward almost within stone's throw. This property is very close to the celebrated "Lewellyn" and "Eternal Centre" Wells, the former of which FLOWED FULLY THREE THOUSAND (3,000) BARRELS OF OIL PER DAY, being the greatest bona fide yield of Oil ever known, and very considerably surpassing in quality the product of any Well heretofore discovered.

NO. 4.—TWO THOUSAND (2,000) ACRES in the center of the success
