Good Friday.—Last year there was an unusual observance in our city of the ancient and world-wide Fast of Good Friday (this year occurring on the 14th inst.), in solemn commemoration of the sufferings and death of the Lord Jesus Christ, as the one atonement for the sins of the world. Notice of the intended observance was given in churches of various denominations on the preceding Lord's day.

Christian Union—What Hinders It?—Much is said on this subject in these days, but is there anything done to effect it? It is easy to be eloquent on this theme. It is easy to prove its importance and demonstrate its utility. It is not difficult to show that God requires it, and that Jesus prayed for it. Professed Christians often and earnestly pray for it. If God commands it, Jesus prayed for it, and Christians desire it, What hinders it? God certainly does not prevent it—Christ does not hinder it. Who, then, does prevent it? The answer must be, Professed Christians prevent it—many who often pray for it are the unconscious opposers of it—the only hinderers of it.

In what does Christian Union consist?

"Union" means the state of being united. "United" means brought into unity. "Unity" signifies oneness. Christian Union consists in something more than mere peaceability. It implies more than friendship—more than kindness—more than love. We may be peaceable—we may be friendly—we may be kind—we may be even affectionate or loving, and not be in Christian Union.

The Apostle Paul gives us a full definition of it in Ephesians iv. 4-6: He says there is "one body." The very first thing, in his view, was a unity in "body." There was but one "denomination of Christians" in the Apostolic age, and there never can be Christian union as long as there are so many denominations or different bodies existing among those who profess to be followers of Christ. The utter abandonment of these "different denominations" is indispensable to the existence of but the "one body" of Christ. Who ever read of "The Disciples' Church," "The Baptist Church," "The Methodist Church," "The Episcopal Church," "The Presbyterian Church," "The Congregational Church," or "The Roman Catholic Church," in the Holy Scriptures? There are just as many bodies now as there are denominations. All these names must be abandoned, and all Christians organize into "one body," having the Scriptures, and the Scriptures alone as their constitution. They must be built only on "the foundation of the Apostles and Prophets."

2. "One Spirit." The body of Christ is animated by the Spirit of Christ. The Holy Spirit dwells in it. The very bodies of the disciples are "the Temple of the Holy Spirit." In the Apostles' day there was but "one Body" of Christ on earth, and only "one Spirit." "There was a unity of body, and a "unity of the Spirit." Now, there are many bodies and many spirits. Each religious denomination has a spirit peculiar to itself. A denominational spirit is, necessarily, a party spirit, and, and, as such, it is opposed to "the unity of the Spirit," of which the Apostle speaks.

3. "One Hope." The One Hope is that by which the Apostle says "we are saved." Rom. viii. 24. This hope does not make ashamed, "because the love of God is shed abroad in our heart by the Holy Spirit (the 'One Spirit') which is given to us"—to the "one Body." This is the hope for which Paul was accused of the Jews—the hope of the resurrection of the dead. Acts xxiv. 7, 8.

4. "One Lord"—that is, "Our Lord, Jesus Christ"—"He is Lord of all." Acts x. 36. The disciples of Christ had no "Lord God, the Pope"—no "Lord Bishop." They had only "one Lord."

5. "One Faith." "The Faith once delivered to the saints"—the faith by which a man may be saved. "These things are written that you might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that believing you might have life through His name." John xx. 31.

6. "One Baptism." That which He commanded His Apostles to practise among all nations. That to which He referred when He said, "He that believes and is baptized shall be saved." That of which His Apostle said, "Who can forbid water that these should not be baptized?" Of this "One Baptism" another Apostle said, "Therefore we are buried with Him by baptism into death"—and again, "buried with Him in baptism." Rom. vi. 3, 4. Col. ii. 11, 12.

7. "One Father." The "Father of our Lord Jesus Christ"—"the Father of glory," and the "Father of all" the heirs of God. The Father "who is above all, and through all, and in all" those composing the "One Body"—who are animated by the "One Spirit"—cheered by the "One Hope"—who are subject to the "One Lord"—who contend for the "One Faith"—who have been buried in the "One Baptism"—who "glorify" the "One God, and by showing their "good works," are inducing others to glorify the "One Father" in Heaven.

Nothing short of a unity in "One Body"—"One Spirit"—"One Hope"—"One Lord"—"One Faith"—"One Baptism"—"One God"—and "One Father," constitutes Christian Union. Neither of these can be compromised without offending God.

All the persons who are willing to be reminded in these should, without delay, abandon everything except the Holy Scriptures, and "be perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgment." To refuse to do this is to "fight against God." Christians "think of these things."

"Whoso is wise and will observe these things, even they shall understand the loving kindness of the Lord."

"Mark ye well her bulwarks, consider her palaces; that ye may tell it to the generation following."

God calls on men to believe, repent of their sins, and be buried with Christ in baptism. "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved." "Except a man be born of water and of the spirit, he cannot enter the Kingdom of God." Though some may be disposed to say, "This is a hard saying; who can hear it?" yet God's plan is the only one by which Christian Union can be effected. Other plans may be devised, but they will not meet the approval of him who said, "If ye love me, keep my commandments."

TRACTS on the above subject, as also on kindred topics, may be obtained gratuitously by applicants, at HOLMAN'S Printing Establishment, corner of Centre and White-sts.
