NEW PUBLICATIONS.

Fowler & Wells have published, in a thick octavo volume, "New Physiognomy, or signs of character as manifested through Temperament and External forms, and especially in the Human Face Divine," by Samuel R. Wells, editor of "The Phrenological Journal and Life Illustrated." It is a well printed and attractive book, containing more than 1,000 portraits and other illustrations.

Mr. James Miller has just published, in a neat and convenient shape, an illustrated "Guide to the Central Park," by T. Addison Richards. It is not only a useful handbook for visitors to our great urban recreation ground, but it is a pleasant little thing to read, giving, as it does, a history of the origin and progress of the park, a graphic description of its principal features, an account of what the Commissioners have done and what they intend to do, and satisfactory statistics of its size, cost, length of roadway and number of visitors. From one of these tables of figures we learn that the Central Park is more than twice as large as Hyde Park or Regent's Park in London, ten times as large as St. James's Park, less than a quarter as big as the great park at Windsor, one-third of the size of Richmond Park, rather more than a quarter as big as the Gardens of Versailles, and half the size of the Phœnix Park in Dublin.

"The Old Testament History, from the Creation to the Return of the Jews from Captivity, edited by William Smith, LL.D., Classical Examiner in the University of London" (D. Appleton & Co.), is the latest issue of the well-known and convenient series of 12mo. volumes known as the "Student Series." It is written with a great deal of directness and simplicity, furnished with abundant notes and references, and illustrated with a number of good maps and wood-cuts. Dr. Smith has endeavored to produce for the class room and Sunday school a manual which shall embody the results of modern progress in Biblical studies, and at the same time he has given an account of each of the books of the Bible, of the geography of the Holy Land and other countries, and of the political and ecclesiastical antiquities of the Jews. The present volume will soon be followed by "The Student's Manual of New Testament History."

ON WEDNESDAY, JULY 11,
CHRISTINA ROSETTI'S POEMS,
WITH FOUR DESIGNS BY THE CELEBRATED ARTIST, D. G. ROSETTI.

"These lays have the charm of a welcome surprise. To read them after the labored and skillful, but not original verse which has been issued of late, is like passing from a picture gallery, with its well feigned semblance of nature, to real nature out of doors, which greets us with the waving grass and the pleasant shock of the breeze.

"The entire series displays imagination and beauty, which are both undeniable and unhampered."—London Athenæum.

"The first and largest poem ('Goblin Market') is one of very great and fresh beauty, and of a very original kind, and told in so unique a way as to gratify the fancy, and make the mind smile throughout, as in one of Hans Andersen's quaint stories, to stimulate intellectual curiosity and to gratify intellectual taste."—London Spectator.

"One of the most welcome announcements of the season is the poems of Miss Christina G. Rossetti. The volume is to match the same publisher's edition of Jean Ingelow's poems, and as two poets are of the new day of English poetry, they deserve to be chaved together. But, in our opinion, Miss Rossetti far transcends her rival in genius, and when the American public have had an equal opportunity to appreciate her quality, we are confident they will agree with us."—The Nation.

In one volume, 16mo. Cloth, gilt top. Price, $1 75.
Sold by all booksellers, and mailed postpaid by the Publishers,

AGENTS WANTED for HORACE GREELEY'S "AMERICAN CONFLICT"
Vol. I of this History has met with unparalleled success—130,000 having already been sold—and is emphatically indorsed by the press of all parties, by leading Generals of the army, by the President, members of the Cabinet, Senators and Representatives in Congress, State Governors, Literary men, and by thousands politically opposed to the author.
Vol. II (and last) will be published in August, and will more than sustain the high character of the first. In its preparation, the vast amount of time, labor, and pains-taking research, devoted to a careful sifting of the mass of crude surface material adopted by earlier writers without verification, and to the collection of important information hitherto inaccessible or overlooked—including much from the Rebel side—cannot fail, under the eminent qualifications of the author, to produce a record of surpassing excellence, which will supersede all other works on the subject. Hartford, Conn.

Real Estate for Sale.

S. W. BENEDICT,
REAL ESTATE AND LOAN BROKER,
Nos. 4 and 6 Pine-st. Room No. 3.

AN ISLAND HOME in the SOUND, beautifully situated 22 miles from New-York; the entire property comprises about 240 acres, including a large pond, with tide and fresh water power. The exterior shore, which encircles the island, is about one mile in extent, with enchanting views over the Sound in every direction. The arable land, containing about 60 acres, is the finest quality of soil, and the plot is equally adapted for a gentleman's resort or a number of villa sites. Describing nearly a semicircle, with its base resting on the lovely highland shores of Long Island, it is set like a gem in the waters, and the prospect on the north includes the cities and villages of Westchester and Fairfield Counties with the moving life of the intervening waters. The house is surrounded by a great variety of rare and ornamental shade trees. The peculiar conformation of the surrounding water line, the great beauty of the near and distant shores, the changing scenery of the sky and Sound, with the echo and foam of the bounding surf, make it almost an enchanted island. For a Summer retreat, a large hotel, or a public last tuition, there is probably not a better location on the Atlantic coast. The facilities for boating, bathing, fishing, and gaining are scarcely surpassed. A few incidental features of the property will pretty readily return about ten per cent per annum on the investment, without interfering at all with its use as a residence, and a practical man, who would bestow his personal care upon it, could easily have an income of $20,000. Price of the whole estate, $36,000. Terms optional. Apply to C. G. PRATT, No. 24 Pine-st., Room No. 37.

It is formed of a combination of cylindrical spheres, each eight inches in external diameter and three-eighths of an inch thick. These spheres are held together by wrought-iron bolts with caps at the ends. The form is the strongest known; its strength to resist internal pressure very great—unwieldy and is it by punching or riveting, which leaves the strength of the wrought-iron taper plate about 40 per cent. Every boiler is tested by hydraulic pressure to 400 pounds by the square inch. IT CAN NOT BE BURST UNDER ANY PRACTICABLE STEAM PRESSURE.
Under pressure which might cause rupture in ordinary boilers, every joint in this becomes a safety valve. No other steam generator possesses this property of relief under extreme pressure without injury to itself, and thus preventing disaster.
It is not affected by corrosion, which soon destroys the wrought-iron boiler. Most explosions result from this cause. It has economy in fuel equal to the best boilers, arising from the large extent and nearness to the fire of its heating surface, as also from the waved line of the surface, which thoroughly mixes the gases, induces better combustion, and, breaking the flame, causes the heat to be more effectually absorbed than in the ordinary tubular or cylinder boiler.
It goes up steam quickly and with little fuel. It produces superheated steam without separate apparatus, and is adaptable to pitching and rolling. It is easily transported, and may be taken apart so that no piece need weigh more than 80 pounds. In difficult pieces of access, the largest boiler may be put through an opening one foot square. It is readily cleaned inside and out. Under ordinary circumstances it is kept free from permanent deposit by blowing the water entirely out, under full pressure once a week. It requires no special skill in its management. Injured parts can be renewed with great facility, as they are uniform in shape and size. When renewed the entire boiler remains as good as new. The greater part of the boiler will never need renewal unless unfaithfully used.
For the mining districts of California, Colorado and Nevada, it is without a rival in its facility for transportation; as it may be taken apart, so that no single piece need weigh more than eighty pounds. It may be used and takes less than one-half the ground area of the ordinary cylinder boiler without being increased in hight. Any kind of fuel may be used from the most expensive to refuse coal dust. There are over 200 of these boilers now in use, some of them in the best establishments in England and in this country. Drawings and specifications free of charge. THE ADAMANTINE BRICK PRESS
Is the ONLY BRICK PRESS that uses the PERFORATORS, or EXTRACTS THE AIR FROM THE CLAY while in the process of pressing.
It is the ONLY PRESS IN USE that is capable of making pressed Brick THAT WILL NEITHER CRACK, CHECK, or WARP IN BURNING. All others that profess to do so are imitators, and we caution the public against their impositions. L. C. WOODRUFF, President, No. 175 Broadway.
